Red Guards Hold Peking Mass Rally

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist Chinese President Liu Shao-chi was denounced today as "China's Khrushchev" at a mass rally by 100,000 Red Guards in Peking, according to Japanese news reports. Chinese Communist Party Secretary General Teng Hsiao-ping was also condemned.

Speaker after speaker criticized both men for pursuing a "bourgeois reactionary line to satisfy personal ambitions," in the rally at the Peking Worker's Sports Stadium, the Japanese Broadcasting Company (NHK) reported.

POOR RELATIONS

"If we don't pull these two men down now, revisionism and capitalism will take over China," one speaker said.

One of the reasons relations between China and the Soviet Union are so poor is because the Chinese consider Khrushchev, and the men who succeeded him, guilty of revising the basic tenets of Communism—an unforgivable crime by Chinese standards.

Liu, once considered a possible successor to Mao Tse-tung, has been identified by observers as one of the leaders of the anti-Mao forces in the bitter struggle for power now sweeping China.

IN AUGUST

He was reportedly condemned at a meeting of the Communist Chinese Central Committee in August when Defense Minister Lin Piao was named successor to Mao.

The Japanese Kyodo news agency reported from Peking Monday that Liu has "confessed" to his faults and had thrown his support behind Mao and Lin.

The NHK correspondent said teng's "confession" was seen on wall posters in Peking today.

Reagan's 'Hotspots' Jobs Plan

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan announced today a joint public-private plan to match unemployed Californians with available jobs, mainly in the state's "hotspots."

The incoming Republican chief executive told a Capitol news conference the program would be modeled after one in the Watts riot area of Los Angeles that has found jobs for thousands of previously unemployed Negroes.

PRIVATE GROUP

Lt. Gov.-elect Robert H. Finch explained the aim is to "create jobs particularly for the disadvantaged in the hotspots of the state." He said a private foundation, to be announced later, would finance the statewide program.

Heading it will be Los Angeles businessman H. C. McClellan, who spearheaded the Watts effort. He stressed that the program will be a joint one between private business and existing public agencies, which he praised.

Reagan noted that the plan is aimed only at those who can be fitted at once into available jobs. Rehabilitating those who now are unemployable is another matter, the three men said.

MANY JOBS

McClellan commented, "We're not really creating jobs at all. There are a great many jobs going unfilled. That is particularly true in Southern California."

He added, "We've not solved the problem of Watts, but we've cut by half the number of unemployed compared with a year ago."

Reagan said the plan amounts to more than appealing to private industrialists' sense of public service. "This is dollars and cents good business . . . The businesses come out ahead financially. This makes it much better than just good of heart . . . "

Reagan explained the program this way:

"First and most important, it will provide incentives to those who are willing to work but who do not have the necessary skills or the proper contacts with industry. Putting these people into productive jobs in private industry will restore their self

Graham Doesn't Have Viet Solution

GUAM, (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham, returning home from a Vietnam tour, said in Guam today that he had no solution for an end to the fighting.

Graham told Gov. Manuel Guerrero and hundreds of well-wishers during the brief stop, "I don't know the answer to it. I just went over their to minister for Christ."

Charity For Reds

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — The Swiss government decided today to give 250,000 francs ($58,000) to the Red Cross of Communist North Vietnam to help that country's children. A similar donation went to South Vietnam recently.

Cold Kills Three

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Three people died in a bitter cold wave that swept Greece over the weekend, police reported today. Temperatures in several areas in the north dropped to 10 degrees above zero.

SURPRISE GIFT — You think you've got problems with Christmas gifts that don't fit? Mrs. John W. McKenzie of 1060-G Los Gamos Road, Terra Linda, ordered by mail a pair of trousers for her husband, who is 5 feet 10 inches tall. This is what arrived. John McKenzie plans to have the pants tailored—drastically. There should be enough material left to make another pair for 2-year-old Gordon.

BACK TO THE STORES

Biggest Exchange Day Of The Year

By PAT PERRY

Slippers too small. Sweaters too big. Simply atrocious ties. Back to the stores they went today, in the biggest exchange day of the year.

Stores throughout Marin were ready, even eager, to exchange unwanted Christmas gifts for any reason that the customer cared to cite.

"Today's the big day," said Floyd Beaver, assistant advertising manager of the Emporium chain. "There's no red tape. We like to have the sales receipt, but if the customer doesn't have it, that's all right too."

In chain stores, gifts can be exchanged no matter in which store they were purchased. William Costello, manager of Macy's in San Rafael, said his store will exchange a gift bought from Macy's anywhere in the United States.

"Generally speaking, there used to be a great resistance among small retailers to exchange merchandise, but this attitude has largely disappeared," said Costello. "We've always tried to make it as easy as possible."

What sort of things do people exchange? Usually clothes, and in particular women's clothes.

"Women are a little more critical of things, size and fit and color," said Beaver. "A man is more apt to stuff something he doesn't like into a drawer and forget it."

Bruce Weber, manager of Montgomery Ward and Co. at Corte Madera, said: "Say grandma buys something for her granddaughter, and the girl thinks it's not "in"—she'll bring it back and change it for something that's just what she wants."

William Harmon, assistant manager of J. C. Penney Co. at Corte Madera, said by 10 a.m. today a brisk business in exchanges had begun.

Without sales receipts, how do sales clerks know the gifts came from their stores? "We all recognize our own merchandise," said Harmon.

Ward's was the only large store open in Marin yesterday, and Manager Weber reported exchanges "considerably less than last year." He didn't know why, however.

And if you're still exhausted from Christmas shopping and exchange jaunts, take a deep breath. The end-of-year white sales have already begun.

Boys Missing On Boat Are Found Safe, Alive

Pair Takes A Trip On Petaluma River

Two young boaters, one from Loma Verde, were found safe today, floating aboard their small outboard in San Pablo Bay, about a half-mile from the mouth of the Petaluma River.

The youths, Peter Bearsh, 15, of 410 Corte Escuela, Loma Verde, and Jack Moynihan, 16, of Daly City, were spotted at 12:38 p.m. by a Marin County Sheriff's air patrol plane, climaxing a search that began late last night.

Rescuers began towing the craft, with the boys inside, to Black Point.

Marin County Sheriff's Marine Patrol said the boys left the public dock at Black Point at 2 p.m. yesterday aboard a 14-foot outboard belonging to the Bearsh family.

Harry Bearsh, Peter's father, said he dropped the boys at the dock, and they told him they would return at 5 p.m. They did not come back.

Two boats from the sheriff's patrol and the Coast Guard cutter Point Chico combed the Petaluma River from San Pablo Bay to Petaluma without results. The search continued through the night, and a Coast Guard helicopter joined the hunt this morning, expanding it to San Pablo Bay.

The Moynihan youth, a neighbor of the Bearshes when they lived in Daly City, visited Peter yesterday for a ride in the white and blue boat which was bought two months ago, according to sheriff's officers.

Bearsch is head of physical education for boys in Sausalito School District, and his wife, Nancy, is fourth grade teacher at West End School, San Rafael. The family has lived in Loma Verde four years.

Ike Proposes Longer Terms

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Former President Eisenhower has proposed that legislators and federal judges —including members of the Supreme Court —be forced to retire after a limited time.

And in order to make the government run smoother, the term for Congressmen should be lengthened from the present two years to four, with Congress being elected at the same time as the President, Eisenhower believes.

In a copyrighted article in Reader's Digest published Monday, Eisenhower said terms of both Senators and Congressmen should be limited to a maximum of 12 years and Federal judges should be restricted to 20 years, but paid for life.

U.S. Drivers Hold Down Holiday Toll

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

The Christmas holiday weekend traffic toll in human lives reversed a recent upward trend today and the nation's motorists turned in one of the safest driving holidays in several years.

A total of 602 deaths were reported in traffic accidents during the 78-hour period which started at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Monday.

The National Safety Council had said in its pre-holiday estimate that between 650 and 750 persons would lose their lives on the nation's streets and highways. It was the first holiday in the last 10 in which a traffic death record had not been set.

Last year's Christmas weekend traffic deaths numbered 720, the third consecutive Christmas record.

U.S. Admits Some Civilian Areas Hit

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON — The Defense Department has conceded that U.S. bombers are causing some civilian damage in North Vietnam, but it is not specifying whether populous areas of Hanoi have been hit.

In a statement late yesterday the Pentagon reiterated that the "United States policy is to target North Vietnamese military targets only," but it added that "it is impossible to avoid all damage to civilian areas."

HARD TO AVOID

Such civilian damage was especially hard to avoid when the "North Vietnamese deliberately emplace their air defense sites, their dispersed POL (petroleum, oil and lubricants) sites, their radar and other military facilities in populated areas, and indeed sometimes, on the roofs of government buildings," the statement said.

The Pentagon was apparently replying to New York Times dispatches printed Sunday and today in which it was said American air raids had caused extensive damage to towns in the Hanoi area.

Times correspondent Harrison Salisbury, reporting from Hanoi, said Sunday that "on-the-spot inspection indicates that American bombing has been inflicting considerable civilian casualties in Hanoi and its environs from some time past."

PLACES MENTIONED

This was not specifically referred to in the Pentagon statement, but two places mentioned in a Times dispatch printed this morning were.

These were the towns of Nandinh, 50 miles south of Hanoi, and Phuli, 35 miles south of Hanoi, both communities where Salisbury said he had inspected damage.

The Pengaton said only that "in the specific cases of Nandinh and Phuli, targets have been limited to railroad and highway bridges, railroad junctions, POL dumps, and air defense sites."

International controversy — still unresolved—was raised in recent days by some reports that civilian areas within Hanoi were damaged in U.S. air raids.

'ALL POSSIBLE CARE'

The Pentagon statement stressed that U.S. airmen are taking "all possible care to avoid civilian casualties," and that U.S. policy was to aim for military targets only, "particularly those which have a direct impact on the movement of men and supplies into South Vietnam."

Salisbury said his Christmas Day tour of Nam Dinh was interrupted by a 21-minute air raid alert, and that Tran Thi Doan, the city's 40 - year - old woman mayor, told him there had been 51 raids on her city up to Dec. 23.

He reported the old French Highway 1 between Saigon and Hanoi runs almost parallel to the main railroad over flat land and would appear to be a bombardier's dream target but is not.

"The railroad and highway have been bombed again and again and again, but it is doubtful that rail traffic has ever been held up more than a few hours, and the highway seems capable of operating almost continuously regardless of how many bombs are dropped," Salisbury wrote.

He arrived in Hanoi Friday from Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital, after the State Department validated his passport for travel to North Vietnam and the North Vietnamese granted him a visa.

Communists Blast U.S. Artillery Post

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist troops charging against 105 millimeter cannon firing at point blank range broke into an American artillery position today and blasted two of the guns with grenades and satchel charges before being hurled back in savage hand to hand fighting.

The American force of several hundred men of the 1st Air Cavalry Division suffered "heavy casualties" in the battle fought in the Bong San area on the northeast coast of South Vietnam. It was the first time of the war the Communists attacked and briefly overran such a strong position.

The U.S. defenders reported finding 44 Communist bodies and expressed belief air strikes, artillery and naval bombardment had killed others. Exact size of the U.S. force was not disclosed; a spokesman called it "multi-company" and a company usually has 200 men. The Red Force which attacked in screaming human wave assaults was put at 1,200 men.

The battle was the bloodiest thus far in the five-day hostility period between holiday truces. The Communists were driven back when the Cavalrymen received reinforcements and air support.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese governments meanwhile found themselves faced with other serious problems in the war.

The strike of Vietnamese dockworkers in Saigon—already a crimp in the movement of vital military cargo — today threatened to blossom into a nationwide walkout. The threat was made by Vietnamese labor leaders when U.S. troops arrived at the docks to unload cargo from American ships idled since yesterday's walkout.

Another threat arose that caused mounting concern over

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Economy Recovery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Businessmen have become more optimistic in the last three months about the 1967 economy, reports a business magazine. Forty-one per cent of executives answering a poll by Nation's Business now predict improved conditions next year. Three months ago 30 per cent saw improvement.

Lots Of Salt

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bureau of Mines reports from a survey that underground formations along the Gulf Coast include enough salt to last the world for thousands of years, 70 million tons of sulfur and more than 5 billion barrels of oil.

Prison Sentence

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Suh Min-he, the presidential candidate of South Korea's Democratic Socialist party, was sentenced today to two years in prison for saying he would be willing to meet with North Korea's Premier Kim Il-sung to discuss Korean reunification.

Education Expense

WASHINGTON (AP) — The average school district is spending $435 to educate each elementary student and $566 for each high school student, a survey shows. The report in Shool Management, a magazine for school administrators, said the corresponding costs a year ago were $402 for elementary students and $523 for high schoolers.

Record Crop

MOSCOW (AP) — Agriculture Minister Vladimir V. Matskevich announced today a record grain crop of 171 million metric tons for 1966. But he said some wheat purchases in the West are still likely. The figure topped an earlier Soviet estimate for this year of a record grain crop totaling between 160 million and 165 million tons.

Germans In Israel

JERUSALEM (UPI) — The first group of West German students formally invited to Israel arrived here yesterday to begin a two-week study tour. The eight-member group, represening the Natioinal Federation of German-Israeli study groups in Germany, was invited by the Hebrew University students' organization.

Author Manchester 'Improved'

MIDDLETON, Conn. (AP)—Author William Manchester was reported "much improved and doing very well" today after his attack of pneumonia. He had received get-well telegrams from Mrs. John F. Kennedy and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Manchester

Both wished a speedy recovery to the 44-year-old author of "The Death of a President," the book they charged in a law suit represented a breach of contract and an invasion of Mrs. Kennedy's privacy.

Manchester's physician, Dr. F. Erwin Tracy, said his patient was improving. His condition was still listed as critical, however.

Tracy described the illness as "a slight touch of pneumonia."

Manchester suffered similar symptoms several weeks ago in London, where he was working on a new book, the doctor said.

Japanese Elections Called

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato today called a parliamentary election Jan. 29 which his conservative party is expected to win despite charges of a "black mist" of corruption.

Sato

Sato's Liberal-Democratic party controlled 278 of the 467 seats in the House of Representatives dissolved by the prime minister, almost double the 141 biggest opposition party.

The election will be Japan's ninth since World War II, the first since November 1963, and the first under Sato. Eligible voters will total 63.5 million.

Sato pledged to clean house after his administration was shaken by a series of scandals, including disclosures that most Diet members don't make complete tax return, charges that members of his party were involved in questionable banana imports and illegal trading of government forests, and huge gifts to the party by a sugar refinery that received generous government loans.

India Gives In To Sikhs

AMRITSAR, India (AP) — A last-minute agreement by Prime Minister Indira Gandhi averted the suicides by fire yesterday of six Sikhs, ended the 10-day fast of Sikh leader Sant Fateh Singh and removed a grave threat of communal violence.

Singh

Kateh Singh sipped orange juice offered by Hukam Singh, Mrs. Gandhi's emissary, after they conferred on Sigh state of Punjabi Suba.

"Everything has been amicably settled," Fateh Singh said.

Hukam Singh, speaker of the lower house of Parliament and a Sikh, came to this walled city in northwestern India only two hours before the Sikhs planned to set themselves afire. The six waited nearby as the talks went on past the deadline.

Kateh Singh had threatened to burn himself today.

Mrs. Gandhi agreed to arbitrate the disposition of Chandigarh, now the capital of both Punjabi Suba and the adjacent Hindu state of Hariana. Both states were formed from the old state of Punjab. The Sikhs want Chandigarh all to themselves.

Hukam Singh said after his return to New Delhi he had assured Fateh Singh that the city ultimately will go to the Sikhs.

Demands Of Macao

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China has warned the Portuguese authorities in Macao will be destroyed nuless they satisfy Communist demands, including the ouster of American and Nationalist Chinese "special agents." The New China News Agency said today the warning sent to Premier Antonio Salazar was in a telegram from a rally of 15,000 Chinese near the Portuguese coastal enclave.

Arson Suspected

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Firemen suspect arson in the blaze that destroyed the $10,000 sports car of former Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater.

Many Key Demos Hit Johnson

NEW YORK (AP) — Nearly half of a group of Key Democratic leaders either believe their party would be better off with a candidate other than President Johnson in 1968 or are unwilling at present to endorse his renomination, the New York Times said today.

The story from Washington added, however, that few among the 125 leading Democrats in 30 states interviewed by the Times "were rash enough to predict Mr. Johnson would be challenged for the presidential nomination or would lose it if he should be challenged."

STATE CHAIRMEN

The story also said in part:

Those questioned included state officials, Democratic state chairmen, members of the Democratic National Committee and candidates for major office in the last election, both successful and unsuccessful. In the interest of candid answers, they were promised anonymity.

Of the group, 43 per cent either said they would prefer a new presidential nominee in 1968 or dodged the issue, usually on the ground that it was too early to tell what might be desirable then.

STRONG IN NORTH

In general, support for the President's candidacy was strongest in the Northeastern states and weakest in the South and Midwest. He had some critics in almost every section of the country, however.

Fifty-seven per cent of the party leaders favored Johnson's renomination, some of them enthusiastically, others with a combination of loyalty and fatalism.

Seven Thousand File Complaints On Lack Of Heat

NEW YORK (AP) — Seven thousand New Yorkers complained to the city of a lack of heat over the Christmas weekend and Buildings Commissioner Charles G. Moerdler said he was "sick" about it.

Some landlords "ought to be condemned to live in their own buildings," he said today.

Landlords are required by law to maintain certain temperatures in their buildings. But when the temperatures drop, some landlords disappear, Moerdler said.

"If I could take this small hard core of parasites and put them out of business, because they don't deserve to be in it, then I will have achieved something," he said.

Uses Snowmobile

WAVERLY, Minn. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has been using a snowmobile— a small, tread-operated vehicle — during his Christmas vacation in Minnesota. "We've been snowmobiling right across the lake," he said, referring to frozen Lake Waverly in front of the Humphrey home.

HIDES FACE—David McCarter Jr., 25, of Homewood, Ala., tries to evade cameramen shortly after being arrested in the deaths of three teen-age neighbor children. (UPI Telephoto)

Neighbor Is Charged In Teeners' Deaths

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The bodies of three teen-age boys — two brothers and their friend — have been found. Police have charged a neighbor of the youths with three counts of murder.

Vaughn Murphy, 15, his brother, Steve, 13, and Will Binzel, 14, all of nearby Homewood, were last seen Christmas Night as they went to purchase supplies for a holiday camping trip. Their bodies were found yesterday.

Shelby County Sheriff C.P. Walker said David McCarter Jr., 25, also of Homewood, had been charged with three counts of murder in connection with the deaths.

Authorities, who had said earlier the boys apparently were slain by a sex deviate, were non-communicative about the arrest.

"It's too early to release anything concerning the findings as they will have to be studied closely and at length before we can be sure of anything," Asst. State Toxicologist Robert Johnson said following his post-mortem examination.

Witnesses said the youths had severe head injuries.

Sheriff Walker said it appeared the three were killed at another location and their bodies dumped from a vehicle.

Investigators said McCarter was arrested at the home of his parents in Homewood a few blocks from where the three boys lived. He was convicted recently in Jefferson County Court on morals charge and fined $250, authorities said.

Pair Is Killed In Auto Crash

TULARE (AP) — Two Kern County residents were killed late yesterday in a single-car crash south of Tulare.

The highway patrol said the car, driven by Elray J. Penner, 45, of Shafter, overturned when it struck a culvert abutment while leaving a freeway onramp.

Penner and his passenger, Gertrude H. Souders, 59, of Oildale, were dead on arrival at a Tulare hospital.

Stranded Peak Trio Rescued

ESTES PARK, Colo. (AP) — Three stranded Boulder, Colo., photographers were rescued from 14,255-foot Longs Peak, south of here, yesterday just before a blizzard pounded the mountain.

The three — Gerald Brown, 17, John Squires, 19, and Bill Prather, 19 — spent a day and a night on the mountain in subzero cold.

They had traveled to the area Sunday in hopes of photographing two other men who were scheduled to climb the sheer 1,000-foot east face of Longs Peak.

The climb was postponed because of poor weather.

Mansfield Urges 'Re-Examination'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield set wheels in motion today for a suggested "major re-examination" by the Senate of "Great Society" program and older controversial laws such as the draft, income tax and foreign aid.

Mansfield issued his recommendations for a "thoroughgoing, second look" at major programs from medicare and civil rights to farm subsidies in a letter to the Senate's 17 committee chairmen.

Such studies, the Montanan said, could find rough edges, overextensions and gaps in newer programs, and update and check equity of administration handling of older laws such as Selective Service.

Mansfield said his recommendations were not in response to Democratic election losses or complaints by Democratic governors about administration of some programs.

He noted that he had been saying for more than a year that it was time for Congress to "stop, look and listen."

Nor, he said, were Vietnam war costs the reason for Congress to pause and re-examine.

"With or without Vietnam, in my judgment, the Senate of the United States, through its committees, would have a responsibility for beginning the kind of top-to-bottom oversight which is suggested herein," he said.

Mansfield said the 90th Congress, opening Jan. 10, would have a unique opportunity to fill the needs for "dispassionate restudy" because he didn't expect it to receive a heavy load of new legislation.

The Democratic leader left it up to the committees to determine what laws most needed restudy.

But he called attention to all the new programs "designed to correspond to the nation's changing needs." He mentioned medicare, civil rights, curbs on air and water pollution, and those dealing with education, urban and rural problems.

Citing legislation passed in the last two busy Congresses, Mansfield said "considering the vast scope of this work and the unprecedented nature of much of it, it is to be expected that there exists a number of rough edges, overextensions and overlaps and, perhaps, even significant gaps."

Ships Stripped, Writer Says

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The Vietnam war, says a military writer, has led to the stripping of some Navy ships to the point where it would be impossible — if a crisis developed suddenly — to man them quickly with a wartime complement.

The Navy's personnel shortage is most acute in the Atlantic Fleet's antisubmarine forces, says Jack Kestner of the Norfolk Ledger-Star.

In an article yesterday, he pointed out there are three personnel levels aboard fighting ships—their complement, or the number with which they go to war; their allowance, the normal peacetime allotment; and their manning level, the minimum required to keep them operational.

The Atlantic Fleet's antisubmarine warfare commander, Vice Adm. Charles E. Weakly, is "well aware of this, but decisions that have resulted in his force's current status were made at a much higher level," the writer said.

The Navy in Washington declined comment.

The Credential Apparently Makes Teacher Untouchable

The remarkable contention that a teacher's competency is beyond question, once he has received his credential, has been put forth by a committee of the California Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO).

The CFT's academic freedom committee, in a recent report on freedom in the San Rafael High School District, made this claim:

"THE STATE, by establishing its credential, has pre-empted the area of validated teacher competence."

The committee, headed by Eric A. Spiekerman, a teacher in San Francisco's Lincoln High School, alleged a breach of contract by the district because questions were raised about book assignments without a complaint process called for in a policy adopted by the district's board.

"In addition," it asserted, "a teacher's choice of materials is a professional choice, and to question it is to question, to some extent, his competence, and thus effectively to imperil his livelihood; this is an exceedingly grave responsibility for the district, which has implicitly endorsed the teacher's competence by hiring him. Furthermore, we would point out that the state, by establishing its credential, has pre-empted the area of validated teacher competence."

LET'S EXAMINE the implications of this.

A young man (or woman) decides, somewhere along the road through high school or college (usually the latter) to be a teacher. He takes the required courses for a teaching credential, passes them, and accordingly receives his certificate.

At this point, he has never taught a class, except under supervision of an experienced teacher. There is no way to judge his competence when left alone in the classroom.

He applies to several school districts for jobs. The Redwater High School District, looking for some beginning teachers, has one of its administrators interview him.

CHANCES ARE this administrator knows little about the particular teaching field for which the candidate has applied. He is favorably impressed by the young man, however. He may offer him a contract on the spot, or he may have him interviewed by a department head. In the latter case, the interview may elicit some idea of whether the young man knows enough about the field to teach in it. The department head thinks he does, and he is hired.

The state, according to the CFT contention, "validated his competence" by awarding this young man the credential which he could not be denied because he had passed the required courses.

The district, according to the same contention, "endorsed the teacher's competence by hiring him."

UPON BEING HIRED, the young man receives "instant tenure" under section 13443 of the California Education Code.

In the opinion of Irving G. Breyer, legal counsel of the California School Boards Assn., he will have to be rehired for a second year (and a third, and so on) unless the district is prepared to go to court to get rid of him.

The district, Breyer has advised the CSBA, must give the of dismissal, listing the reasons young teacher a formal notice why he is not being rehired. The teacher can then demand a hearing. If he does so, an accusation must be filed against him—spelling out more specifically the reasons for not renewing his contract.

THE TEACHER THEN can file a notice of defense. He must be given a hearing by the board or by a hearing officer obtained by the board—depending on the size of the district. If, after the hearing, the board or hearing officer upholds the dismissal, the teacher can demand a court review.

This is what is known as "instant tenure."

The CFT committee's contention, however, goes much farther.

Under its interpretation, nothing the teacher does in the classroom may be questioned, because the state has validated his competence and the district has endorsed it by hiring him.

THIS LEAVES no possibility for the administration to frame a statement of the respects in which the teacher has failed, as a step on the difficult road to dismissal. To do so would be to question the competence it has already endorsed.

Ipso facto, he is a competent teacher. He cannot be fired. Moreover, nothing he does can be criticized.

Mental Health Plan

Job openings for medical technicians and aides at the Armed Forces Entrance and Examining Station, Oakland, and Fort Baker, Sausalito, were announced today by the Civilian Personnel Office, Building 227, Presidio of San Francisco.

Starting pay for a medical technician and aide is $4,776 a year, and at the Oakland station, part-time employment may be considered.

Delay Granted To Settle Book

New York (UPI)—Attorneys for the book publishing firm of Harper & Row today were granted two days additinal time to seek a settlement of their dispute with Mrs. John F. Kennedy over "The Death of a President."

State Supreme Court Justice Saul Streit scheduled hearings Thursday on the order Mrs. Kennedy obtained 11 days ago requiring Harper & Row to show cause why they could not be forbidden to publish the controversial book.

Look Magazine, which plans to serialize the Kennedy-commissioned book about the assassination of President John F. Kennedy beginning next month, already has settled its differences with Mrs. Kennedy.

A NEW SPORT ON THE BEACH

Darryl Fergen, 20, holds parachute shrouds in his hands as his 'chute catches gusty winds and snatches him from the roof of a lifeguard tower in Santa Monica. The ride is described as brief but thrilling and the new sport is reported a better way to attract attention from the opposite sex than parading up and down the beach in a swimsuit and muscles—particularly when the weather is chilly — as it was yesterday. Women Drink More In The Man's World

WASHINGTON (UPI) — if you are a woman, chances are pretty slim that you'll ever become a "booze hound."

Dr. Ira H. Cisin of George Washington University says that as women achieve "first class citizenship" with men, they take to drink, but in moderate quantities, statistically speaking.

Cisin reported his findings at a symposium on recent research in alcoholism held in connection with the 133rd meeting of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

He said among the male boozers, 21 per cent are heavy drinkers, but among the fairer sex, only 5 per cent are in this category. Cisin described heavy drinkers as tending to be "doers" of the world, well off and young men.

It has been estimated that 4 or 5 million Americans are alcoholics, "problem drinkers" who are hurt by alcohol and cannot leave it alone.

In late 1964 and early 1965 the social research group of George Washington University made a survey of U.S. drinking practices.

Analysis of the survey data has now disclosed, Cisin said, that the population (not counting Hawaii and Alaska) consists of these groups:

Abstainers, 32 per cent. These include the "militant abstainers" (prohibitionists and the like) and "tolerant abstainers" who drink less than once a year if at all.

Infrequent to moderate drinkers, 56 per cent, who tipple more than once a year but not often enough to be called heavy drinkers.

Heavy drinkers, 12 per cent. These are not necessarily alcoholics, but they do include the problem drinkers. At a minimum they imbibe three or four times a week, with usually "three or more dirnks per sitting," or else drink nearly every day with an occasional intake of five drinks or more.

The proportion of men drinkers in the population, Cisin said, has remained about constant in the past 20 years, but the proportion of women who hit it now and then has been steadily rising.

Why are women "entering the drinking population?"

LAW IN ACTION

Home Buyers Must Beware

When you buy an older home, get a termite and wood rot report. When you buy such a home you get no guarantee that the building has no defects. The buyer has the burden to look out for himself, especially when the seller sells "as is." The buyer then assumes the risks.

The Smiths for example, bought a home for $15,000. They asked for a termite report and required the seller to make any repairs suggested in the report. The real estate man that handled the sale hired the Ajax Termite Co. to inspect the property.

The company reported no termites, but it also limited its report to "what is visable."

Six months later the Smiths found termites. They had damaged the foundation. The building was not worth saving. The city declared it unsafe.

The company had goofed. It had relied on the seller who told them that the foundation was all concrete when it was only partly concrete. The earth was in contact with the wood studs.

The court held that Ajax was at fault and allowed the Smiths $10,000 recovery: They got back escrow fees, costs for moving, telephones, fences, cleaning, shrubbery, taxes, and the like. The Smiths could get their out-of-pocket costs as well as the "benefit of the bargain."

In another recent case Green sold a house to White for $20,000, telling him that its foundation was sound. But the house, in fact was built on filled land which had not been properly compacted. It cost $5,000 to put pilings in to bolster the foundation.

White sued for the $5,000. Green said that the value of the home had now increased at least $5,000 and that he shouldn't have to pay anything. The court said that the increased value of the house belonged to the buyer once he became the owner. White could get the full $5,000.

In another case, however, six months after the buyer moved in, he discovered defective piping, plumbing and leaks in the roof. There was no fraud or special representations by the seller. On inspection, the buyer might have discovered these defects himself. He couldn't hold the seller responsible, but had to bear the loss for his own lack of care.

A buyer cannot always protect himself from things he later finds out about. He must often protect himself when he has found the defects. And so it's a good idea to deal with reputable people. Otherwise the seller may no longer be around or financially able to pay for the damage.

the stability of the U.S. military position in Thailand. The South Vietnamese Liberation Front (Viet Cong) today warned the U.S. ally that it would retaliate against Thailand if it continued to support the American war effort in Vietnam. There are now 33,000 U.S. troops and several airbases in Thailand—parts of which are less than 100 miles from North Vietnam.

There also was a new threat to the political stability of the government in South Vietnam. Dr. Phan Quang Dan, a leading member of the Constituent Assembly, was wounded today by an assassin's bomb that shattered his car. One Vietnamese bystander was killed and five others wounded by the explosion. Dan was a leader of the assembly bloc writing a new South Vietnamese constitution. Only three weeks ago, another assembly leader, Tran Van Van, was shot to death by two Viet Cong assassins. Van was an opponent of military rule in the nation and was considered a possible candidate for president in elections next year.

The Central Highlands ground battle today was the biggest since the 48-hour Christmas truce ended at 7 a.m. yesterday (6 p.m. EST Sunday). The two-day New Year's truce is to start at 7 a.m. Dec. 31 (6 p.m. EST Dec. 30).

In the air war today, U.S. B-52 strategic bombers hammered three Communist fortifications in two scattered regions of South Vietnam and in the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ).

OBITUARIES

William E. Haberman Dies At 53

Private funeral for William E. Haberman, 53, of 220 Evergreen Drive, Kentfield, longtime advertising executive, was scheduled today.

Haberman, head of the San Francisco office of Lennen and Newell advertising firm, died Saturday at a San Francisco hospital of cancer after a long illness.

Haberman's career in advertising and sales propotion spanned a period of 30 years. He joined L. C. Cole Co. in 1939 and was president of that agency for 14 years before it was merged with Lennen and Newell two years ago.

Haberman also had been an advertising salesman with the San Francisco Examiner and with Foster and Kleiser, and a senior account executive with Foote, Cone and Belding advertising agency.

He was the owner of a technical publicity and advertising firm, Tech-Data Inc. of Palo Alto.

A native of Grants Pass, Ore., he received a bachelor's degree in journalism from University of Oregon and a master's degree in retailing from New York University.

Haberman was a past governor of the American Assn. of Advertising Agencies and past president of Transamerica Advertising Agency Network. He was a member of the San Francisco Olympic Club and active in the San Francisco Recreation Center for the Handicapped and the American Cancer Society.

Surviving are his wife, Marjorie; a daughter, Nancy; two sons, Steve and Richard; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haberman of Grants Pass, and a brother, Velton Haberman of Seattle, Wash.

The family prefers that memorial donations be made to the San Francisco Recreation Center for the Handicapped.

CHARLES McDERMAND

Charles K. McDermand, 54, Tamalpais Valley author of two books on trout fishing, died early today in a local hospital after suffering a stroke.

Private funeral was scheduled this afternoon by Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

McDermand resided at 564 Shoreline Highway. He had been a Tamalpais Valley resident for 19 years.

His books, "Waters of the Golden Trout Country" and "Yosemite and Kings Canyon Trout," were credited with helping to popularize fishing in the High Sierra. He also had written magazine articles on fishing.

He is survived by his wife, Helen, and two sons, Mark and Edmond, at the Tamalpais Valley home.

HELEN H. CORTHAY

A Requiem Mass for Lt. Col. Helen Hart Corthay, 53, of 160 Santa Rosa Avenue, Sausalito, will be celebrated at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the Chapel of Our Lady, Presidio of San Francisco.

Colonel Corthay, who retired last July after serving at Fort Baker as information officer of the Sixth Region, Army Air Defense Command, died at a Veterans Administration hospital in Long Beach Thursday after a short illness.

She suffered a cerebral hemorhage while visiting a sister, Mrs. Margaret Hennessy, in San Pedro Nov. 25.

Colonel Corthay was the widow of Louis Corthay of Sausalito, a San Francisco dental supply firm executive, who died in 1960.

She was one of the first officers in the Women's Auxiliary Army Corps and its successor, the Women's Army Corps.

She last served at Fort Baker from November, 1964, until her retirement.

Colonel Corthay, a native of Nebraska, was graduated from Duchesne College of Sacred Heart in Omaha, and received her master's degree in journalism from Creighton University, Omaha.

She entered the service with the Army Chemical Corps in 1940. She was transferred to the Women's Auxiliary Army Corps in 1942 and received her commission from the first WAAC officer candidate class at Fort Des Moines, Iowa.

She served at various posts in the United States and overseas, and was deputy information officer at Sixth Army Headquarters, 1955-58.

Then she was transferred from the Presidio to Washington, D.C., to become director of WAC procurement and recruitment.

Upon her retirement she was awarded the Army's Legion of Merit, one of the highest noncombatant awards given to armed forces personnel. She also earned the Army Commendation Medal, and the Army of Occupation of Germany Medal with an insignia noting performance of duty during the 1948 Berlin Airlift.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Margaret Hennessy of San Pedro, and a brother, Dale J. Hart of Lisbon, Portugal.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Halsted and Co., 1123 Sutter Street, San Francisco. Burial will be in Presidio National Cemetery.

FRED MARKIE

Private funeral was scheduled today for Fred Markie, 77, of 15 Broadmoor Avenue, San Anselmo, a retired San Francisco florist.

Markie died at home Saturday after a long illness. He had been a florist in San Francisco for more than 50 years.

A native of San Francisco, he had been a resident of Marin for five years.

Surviving is his wife, Ida, of San Anselmo.

The word "spinster" meaning one who spins, was applied in early days to unmarried girls who were expected to spend their spare time spinning.

GLADYS W. BOWHAY

Funeral for Mrs. Gladys W. Bowhay, 67, of 965 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at N. Gray and Co., Nineteenth Avenue at Sargent Street, San Francisco.

Mrs. Bowhay, a retired secretary for California Packing Corp., died Sunday at a local hospital after an illness. She was the widow of Arnold R. Bowhay.

A native of Iowa, she had been a resident of Marin for 19 years and of California for 45 years. She was a member of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Tiburon.

Surviving is a brother, Glenn Wells of Denver, Colo.

Inurnment will be at Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma.

ROBERT L. MEYERS

Private Military graveside services was held yesterday for Robert Lee Meyers, 31, of 2 Bayview Street, San Rafael, who died of a heart attack last Wednesday en route to a local hospital.

A native of St. Paul, Minn., Meyers moved to San Rafael as a boy with his parents 25 years ago. He had been a driver for the Yellow Cab Co. in San Rafael for the past nine years.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs.A. L. Narcissi of Novato; a brother, William C. Meyers of Petaluma; a sister, Mrs. Jack Calegari of Cotati, and a stepbrother, Jan Narcissi of Novato.

Redwood Chapel in Novato was in charge of the funeral at Golden Gate National Cemetery.

Memorial contributions to the heart fund would be appreciated by the family.

NEAL F. McLEOD

Funeral for Neal F. McLeod, 84, stepfather of Mrs. Myrtle McCarthy of Fairfax, was scheduled today at the Welti Chapel of the Roses, Santa Rosa.

McLeod, who had lived in Santa Rosa 11 years, died Friday in a Santa Rosa hospital after a long illness.

Before his retirement he worked as a knife sharpener at the Hammonds Lumber Co., in Eureka.

He is survived by two stepdaughters, Neva Guidry of San Francisco and Mrs. McCarthy, and a brother, A. C. MeLeod of Tacoma, Wash.

JOHN CASE

Graveside funeral for John Case, retired farm worker, will be at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. Friends may call at Russell and Gooch Mortuary today from 6 to 9 p.m.

Case, 73, died Thursday at a local hospital after being rushed from a local convalescent hospital, where he began choking on a piece of meat, the county coroner's office reported.

A native of Italy, he lived in California for 43 years, the last six months in Marin County.

He is survived by a brother and sister in Italy.

BESSIE MURRILL

Graveside services for Mrs. Bessie E. Murrill of San Rafael will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at Marin Memorial Gardens, Novato.

Mrs. Murrill died of a heart attack on Christmas Day while visiting her daughter, Mrs. Betty L. Russell in Tacoma, Wash. She was 66.

A widow, Mrs. Murrill retired early this year after working as a clerk in the credit department of Montgomery Ward and Co. for 10 years in San Rafael and Corte Madera. Her home was at 116 Greenfield Avenue, San Rafael.

A native of Iowa, she moved to Marin County 10 years ago. She was a member of the Neighbors of Woodcraft, Eagles Auxiliary and Senior Citizens of San Rafael.

Mrs. Murrill is survived by her daughter; a son, Warren Hinshaw of Santa Venetia; two brothers, Roy Guthrie of Missouri and Ira Guthrie of Corte Madera; three sisters, Ruth Sterrett of Sebastopol; Florence McAnlis of Petaluma, and Dorothy Rheingans of Monrovia, Los Angeles County.

Friends may call at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael, after 3 p.m. Thursday.

ROBERT KEITH

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor-writer Robert Keith is dead at age 68, relatives have disclosed.

They said yesterday the announcement and scheduling of funeral services were delayed until Keith's son, actor Brian Keith, returned from Europe.

Keith died at his home last Thursday.

He began his career as a stock player when he was 15 and later performed in several Broadway plays and Hollywood films.

He wrote the 1927 Broadway play, "The Tightwads," and wrote dialogue for several films.

He has appeared on several television serials and on the Dick Powell Show.

A NEW SPORT ON THE BEACH

Darryl Fergen, 20, holds parachute shrouds in his hands as his 'chute catches gusty winds and snatches him from the roof of a lifeguard tower in Santa Monica. The ride is described as brief but thrilling and the new sport is reported a better way to attract attention from the opposite sex than parading up and down the beach in a swimsuit and muscles—particularly when the weather is chilly — as it was yesterday. Women Drink More In The Man's World

WASHINGTON (UPI) — if you are a woman, chances are pretty slim that you'll ever become a "booze hound."

Dr. Ira H. Cisin of George Washington University says that as women achieve "first class citizenship" with men, they take to drink, but in moderate quantities, statistically speaking.

Cisin reported his findings at a symposium on recent research in alcoholism held in connection with the 133rd meeting of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

He said among the male boozers, 21 per cent are heavy drinkers, but among the fairer sex, only 5 per cent are in this category. Cisin described heavy drinkers as tending to be "doers" of the world, well off and young men.

It has been estimated that 4 or 5 million Americans are alcoholics, "problem drinkers" who are hurt by alcohol and cannot leave it alone.

In late 1964 and early 1965 the social research group of George Washington University made a survey of U.S. drinking practices.

Analysis of the survey data has now disclosed, Cisin said, that the population (not counting Hawaii and Alaska) consists of these groups:

Abstainers, 32 per cent. These include the "militant abstainers" (prohibitionists and the like) and "tolerant abstainers" who drink less than once a year if at all.

Infrequent to moderate drinkers, 56 per cent, who tipple more than once a year but not often enough to be called heavy drinkers.

Heavy drinkers, 12 per cent. These are not necessarily alcoholics, but they do include the problem drinkers. At a minimum they imbibe three or four times a week, with usually "three or more dirnks per sitting," or else drink nearly every day with an occasional intake of five drinks or more.

The proportion of men drinkers in the population, Cisin said, has remained about constant in the past 20 years, but the proportion of women who hit it now and then has been steadily rising.

Why are women "entering the drinking population?"

the stability of the U.S. military position in Thailand. The South Vietnamese Liberation Front (Viet Cong) today warned the U.S. ally that it would retaliate against Thailand if it continued to support the American war effort in Vietnam. There are now 33,000 U.S. troops and several airbases in Thailand—parts of which are less than 100 miles from North Vietnam.

There also was a new threat to the political stability of the government in South Vietnam. Dr. Phan Quang Dan, a leading member of the Constituent Assembly, was wounded today by an assassin's bomb that shattered his car. One Vietnamese bystander was killed and five others wounded by the explosion. Dan was a leader of the assembly bloc writing a new South Vietnamese constitution. Only three weeks ago, another assembly leader, Tran Van Van, was shot to death by two Viet Cong assassins. Van was an opponent of military rule in the nation and was considered a possible candidate for president in elections next year.

The Central Highlands ground battle today was the biggest since the 48-hour Christmas truce ended at 7 a.m. yesterday (6 p.m. EST Sunday). The two-day New Year's truce is to start at 7 a.m. Dec. 31 (6 p.m. EST Dec. 30).

In the air war today, U.S. B-52 strategic bombers hammered three Communist fortifications in two scattered regions of South Vietnam and in the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ).

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Home Buyers Must Beware

When you buy an older home, get a termite and wood rot report. When you buy such a home you get no guarantee that the building has no defects. The buyer has the burden to look out for himself, especially when the seller sells "as is." The buyer then assumes the risks.

The Smiths for example, bought a home for $15,000. They asked for a termite report and required the seller to make any repairs suggested in the report. The real estate man that handled the sale hired the Ajax Termite Co. to inspect the property.

The company reported no termites, but it also limited its report to "what is visable."

Six months later the Smiths found termites. They had damaged the foundation. The building was not worth saving. The city declared it unsafe.

The company had goofed. It had relied on the seller who told them that the foundation was all concrete when it was only partly concrete. The earth was in contact with the wood studs.

The court held that Ajax was at fault and allowed the Smiths $10,000 recovery: They got back escrow fees, costs for moving, telephones, fences, cleaning, shrubbery, taxes, and the like. The Smiths could get their out-of-pocket costs as well as the "benefit of the bargain."

In another recent case Green sold a house to White for $20,000, telling him that its foundation was sound. But the house, in fact was built on filled land which had not been properly compacted. It cost $5,000 to put pilings in to bolster the foundation.

White sued for the $5,000. Green said that the value of the home had now increased at least $5,000 and that he shouldn't have to pay anything. The court said that the increased value of the house belonged to the buyer once he became the owner. White could get the full $5,000.

In another case, however, six months after the buyer moved in, he discovered defective piping, plumbing and leaks in the roof. There was no fraud or special representations by the seller. On inspection, the buyer might have discovered these defects himself. He couldn't hold the seller responsible, but had to bear the loss for his own lack of care.

A buyer cannot always protect himself from things he later finds out about. He must often protect himself when he has found the defects. And so it's a good idea to deal with reputable people. Otherwise the seller may no longer be around or financially able to pay for the damage.

OBITUARIES

William E. Haberman Dies At 53

Private funeral for William E. Haberman, 53, of 220 Evergreen Drive, Kentfield, longtime advertising executive, was scheduled today.

Haberman, head of the San Francisco office of Lennen and Newell advertising firm, died Saturday at a San Francisco hospital of cancer after a long illness.

Haberman's career in advertising and sales propotion spanned a period of 30 years. He joined L. C. Cole Co. in 1939 and was president of that agency for 14 years before it was merged with Lennen and Newell two years ago.

Haberman also had been an advertising salesman with the San Francisco Examiner and with Foster and Kleiser, and a senior account executive with Foote, Cone and Belding advertising agency.

He was the owner of a technical publicity and advertising firm, Tech-Data Inc. of Palo Alto.

A native of Grants Pass, Ore., he received a bachelor's degree in journalism from University of Oregon and a master's degree in retailing from New York University.

Haberman was a past governor of the American Assn. of Advertising Agencies and past president of Transamerica Advertising Agency Network. He was a member of the San Francisco Olympic Club and active in the San Francisco Recreation Center for the Handicapped and the American Cancer Society.

Surviving are his wife, Marjorie; a daughter, Nancy; two sons, Steve and Richard; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haberman of Grants Pass, and a brother, Velton Haberman of Seattle, Wash.

The family prefers that memorial donations be made to the San Francisco Recreation Center for the Handicapped.

CHARLES McDERMAND

Charles K. McDermand, 54, Tamalpais Valley author of two books on trout fishing, died early today in a local hospital after suffering a stroke.

Private funeral was scheduled this afternoon by Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

McDermand resided at 564 Shoreline Highway. He had been a Tamalpais Valley resident for 19 years.

His books, "Waters of the Golden Trout Country" and "Yosemite and Kings Canyon Trout," were credited with helping to popularize fishing in the High Sierra. He also had written magazine articles on fishing.

He is survived by his wife, Helen, and two sons, Mark and Edmond, at the Tamalpais Valley home.

HELEN H. CORTHAY

A Requiem Mass for Lt. Col. Helen Hart Corthay, 53, of 160 Santa Rosa Avenue, Sausalito, will be celebrated at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the Chapel of Our Lady, Presidio of San Francisco.

Colonel Corthay, who retired last July after serving at Fort Baker as information officer of the Sixth Region, Army Air Defense Command, died at a Veterans Administration hospital in Long Beach Thursday after a short illness.

She suffered a cerebral hemorrhage while visiting a sister, Mrs. Margaret Hennessy, in San Pedro Nov. 25.

Colonel Corthay was the widow of Louis Corthay of Sausalito, a San Francisco dental supply firm executive, who died in 1960.

She was one of the first officers in the Women's Auxiliary Army Corps and its successor, the Women's Army Corps.

She last served at Fort Baker from November, 1964, until her retirement.

Colonel Corthay, a native of Nebraska, was graduated from Duchesne College of Sacred Heart in Omaha, and received her master's degree in journalism from Creighton University, Omaha.

She entered the service with the Army Chemical Corps in 1940. She was transferred to the Women's Auxiliary Army Corps in 1942 and received her commission from the first WAAC officer candidate class at Fort Des Moines, Iowa.

She served at various posts in the United States and overseas, and was deputy information officer at Sixth Army Headquarters, 1955-58.

Then she was transferred from the Presidio to Washington, D.C., to become director of WAC procurement and recruitment.

Upon her retirement she was awarded the Army's Legion of Merit, one of the highest noncombatant awards given to armed forces personnel. She also earned the Army Commendation Medal, and the Army of Occupation of Germany Medal with an insignia noting performance of duty during the 1948 Berlin Airlift.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Margaret Hennessy of San Pedro, and a brother, Dale J. Hart of Lisbon, Portugal.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Halsted and Co., 1123 Sutter Street, San Francisco. Burial will be in Presidio National Cemetery.

FRED MARKIE

Private funeral was scheduled today for Fred Markie, 77, of 15 Broadmoor Avenue, San Anselmo, a retired San Francisco florist.

Markie died at home Saturday after a long illness. He had been a florist in San Francisco for more than 50 years.

A native of San Francisco, he had been a resident of Marin for five years.

Surviving is his wife, Ida, of San Anselmo.

The word "spinster" meaning one who spins, was applied in early days to unmarried girls who were expected to spend their spare time spinning.

GLADYS W. BOWHAY

Funeral for Mrs. Gladys W. Bowhay, 67, of 965 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at N. Gray and Co., Nineteenth Avenue at Sargent Street, San Francisco.

Mrs. Bowhay, a retired secretary for California Packing Corp., died Sunday at a local hospital after an illness. She was the widow of Arnold R. Bowhay.

A native of Iowa, she had been a resident of Marin for 19 years and of California for 45 years. She was a member of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Tiburon.

Surviving is a brother, Glenn Wells of Denver, Colo.

Inurnment will be at Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma.

ROBERT L. MEYERS

Private Military graveside services was held yesterday for Robert Lee Meyers, 31, of 2 Bayview Street, San Rafael, who died of a heart attack last Wednesday en route to a local hospital.

A native of St. Paul, Minn., Meyers moved to San Rafael as a boy with his parents 25 years ago. He had been a driver for the Yellow Cab Co. in San Rafael for the past nine years.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs.A. L. Narcissi of Novato; a brother, William C. Meyers of Petaluma; a sister, Mrs. Jack Calegari of Cotati, and a stepbrother, Jan Narcissi of Novato.

Redwood Chapel in Novato was in charge of the funeral at Golden Gate National Cemetery.

Memorial contributions to the heart fund would be appreciated by the family.

NEAL F. McLEOD

Funeral for Neal F. McLeod, 84, stepfather of Mrs. Myrtle McCarthy of Fairfax, was scheduled today at the Welti Chapel of the Roses, Santa Rosa.

McLeod, who had lived in Santa Rosa 11 years, died Friday in a Santa Rosa hospital after a long illness.

Before his retirement he worked as a knife sharpener at the Hammonds Lumber Co., in Eureka.

He is survived by two stepdaughters, Neva Guidry of San Francisco and Mrs. McCarthy, and a brother, A. C. MeLeod of Tacoma, Wash.

JOHN CASE

Graveside funeral for John Case, retired farm worker, will be at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. Friends may call at Russell and Gooch Mortuary today from 6 to 9 p.m.

Case, 73, died Thursday at a local hospital after being rushed from a local convalescent hospital, where he began choking on a piece of meat, the county coroner's office reported.

A native of Italy, he lived in California for 43 years, the last six months in Marin County.

He is survived by a brother and sister in Italy.

BESSIE MURRILL

Graveside services for Mrs. Bessie E. Murrill of San Rafael will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at Marin Memorial Gardens, Novato.

Mrs. Murrill died of a heart attack on Christmas Day while visiting her daughter, Mrs. Betty L. Russell in Tacoma, Wash. She was 66.

A widow, Mrs. Murrill retired early this year after working as a clerk in the credit department of Montgomery Ward and Co. for 10 years in San Rafael and Corte Madera. Her home was at 116 Greenfield Avenue, San Rafael.

A native of Iowa, she moved to Marin County 10 years ago. She was a member of the Neighbors of Woodcraft, Eagles Auxiliary and Senior Citizens of San Rafael.

Mrs. Murrill is survived by her daughter; a son, Warren Hinshaw of Santa Venetia; two brothers, Roy Guthrie of Missouri and Ira Guthrie of Corte Madera; three sisters, Ruth Sterrett of Sebastopol; Florence McAnlis of Petaluma, and Dorothy Rheingans of Monrovia, Los Angeles County.

Friends may call at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael, after 3 p.m. Thursday.

ROBERT KEITH

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor-writer Robert Keith is dead at age 68, relatives have disclosed.

They said yesterday the announcement and scheduling of funeral services were delayed until Keith's son, actor Brian Keith, returned from Europe.

Keith died at his home last Thursday.

He began his career as a stock player when he was 15 and later performed in several Broadway plays and Hollywood films.

He wrote the 1927 Broadway play, "The Tightwads," and wrote dialogue for several films.

He has appeared on several television serials and on the Dick Powell Show.

McCarthy Plans Parley On Bridge

Senate Minority Leader John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, frequent critic of the Golden Gate Bridge District Board, today suggested a meeting of legislators and bridge directors to exchange ideas and resolve differences.

Early in January, said McCarthy, he plans to call a meeting of the bridge directors and legislative representatives from the six counties in the bridge district.

"We'd like to have the bridge directors meet the legislators so we can all start pulling together instead of in different directions," said Senator McCarthy. "We must try to get along and work for the best interests of the district."

The district includes San Francisco, Marin, Sonoma, Mendocino, Napa and Del Norte counties.

Looking ahead to the legislative sessions under the new administration, Senator McCarthy predicts there will be less emphasis on partisan government in the Legislature than in any administration since Earl Warren's.

When Gov. Ronald Reagan takes over next week, McCarthy does not foresee a complete Republican take-over of every appointive post in Sacramento. "I think he will retain some Democrats who are dedicated and responsible," said McCarthy. "That's my prediction."

Here are some of the measures McCarthy plans to push during the coming session:

1. Eliminate the State Consumer Counsel's Office and replace it with an advisory committee appointed by the governor. Also eliminate the Economic Development Agency and the Office of Tourism. Total cost of these three offices is about $400,000.

2. Try to eliminate sales tax on all drugs and medicines, including such items as aspirin. Now, only prescription drugs are exempt from the sales tax.

3. Pass enabling legislation to allow counties to eliminate the personal property tax by majority vote of the board of supervisors. Work for gradual elimination of the business inventory tax.

4. Elect the State Board of Education by districts and have the board members appoint the state superintendent of public instruction. At present, the state superintendent is elected, and the state board members appointed.

5. Complete the San Rafael overpass, to relieve the congestion and hazards on the overpass and to provide employment and stimulate the economy of Marin.

6. Improve Highway 37, from Black Point to Vallejo.

7. Reduce tolls on the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge.

8. To cut down on cost of campaigning, set the date of state primaries at no more than 45 days before the general election. In other words, hold the primary election in September instead of June.

San Quentin Vigil Draws More Than 100

There was a peaceful quiet vigil outside the main gate to San Quentin Prison Sunday as more than 100 persons gather in a silent plea against capital punishment.

The vigil conducted by an Ad Hoc Committee for Christmas Clemency was held to urge Gov. Edmund G. Brown to commute the death sentences of the 64 men in Death Row before his term expires.

Elmer L. Howell, business manager at the prison, said the vigil was peaceful. It lasted from about 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

The group, including folk singer Joan Baez, neither sang nor made speeches, but a few had placards.

One of the signs proclaimed "Capital Punishment Is Social Murder," and there were buttons with the wording, "Abolish Capital punishment."

McCarthy Plans Parley On Bridge

Senate Minority Leader John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, frequent critic of the Golden Gate Bridge District Board, today suggested a meeting of legislators and bridge directors to exchange ideas and resolve differences.

Early in January, said McCarthy, he plans to call a meeting of the bridge directors and legislative representatives from the six counties in the bridge district.

"We'd like to have the bridge directors meet the legislators so we can all start pulling together instead of in different directions," said Senator McCarthy. "We must try to get along and work for the best interests of the district."

The district includes San Francisco, Marin, Sonoma, Mendocino, Napa and Del Norte counties.

Looking ahead to the legislative sessions under the new administration, Senator McCarthy predicts there will be less emphasis on partisan government in the Legislature than in any administration since Earl Warren's.

When Gov. Ronald Reagan takes over next week, McCarthy does not foresee a complete Republican take-over of every appointive post in Sacramento. "I think he will retain some Democrats who are dedicated and responsible," said McCarthy. "That's my prediction."

Here are some of the measures McCarthy plans to push during the coming session:

1. Eliminate the State Consumer Counsel's Office and replace it with an advisory committee appointed by the governor. Also eliminate the Economic Development Agency and the Office of Tourism. Total cost of these three offices is about $400,000.

2. Try to eliminate sales tax on all drugs and medicines, including such items as aspirin. Now, only prescription drugs are exempt from the sales tax.

3. Pass enabling legislation to allow counties to eliminate the personal property tax by majority vote of the board of supervisors. Work for gradual elimination of the business inventory tax.

4. Elect the State Board of Education by districts and have the board members appoint the state superintendent of public instruction. At present, the state superintendent is elected, and the state board members appointed.

5. Complete the San Rafael overpass, to relieve the congestion and hazards on the overpass and to provide employment and stimulate the economy of Marin.

6. Improve Highway 37, from Black Point to Vallejo.

7. Reduce tolls on the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge.

8. To cut down on cost of campaigning, set the date of state primaries at no more than 45 days before the general election. In other words, hold the primary election in September instead of June.

San Quentin Vigil Draws More Than 100

There was a peaceful quiet vigil outside the main gate to San Quentin Prison Sunday as more than 100 persons gather in a silent plea against capital punishment.

The vigil conducted by an Ad Hoc Committee for Christmas Clemency was held to urge Gov. Edmund G. Brown to commute the death sentences of the 64 men in Death Row before his term expires.

Elmer L. Howell, business manager at the prison, said the vigil was peaceful. It lasted from about 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

The group, including folk singer Joan Baez, neither sang nor made speeches, but a few had placards.

One of the signs proclaimed "Capital Punishment Is Social Murder," and there were buttons with the wording, "Abolish Capital punishment."

There is an automobile fatality every 10 minutes in the United States.

FIRE, NOT LIGHTNING STRIKES SAME PLACE

Lightning might not strike in the same place twice, but fire can.

Sausalito firemen were called out at 10:35 p.m. Saturday to a house fire, to find that the fire was at 265 Santa Rosa, a house that had been gutted by fire Oct. 5.

Saturday's fire caused the roof and part of the frame to collapse, firemen reported. The house, owned by David W. Hunter of 532 Sausalito Boulevard, was unoccupied.

The part of the structure that were destroyed were either partially burned or scorched in the previous fire, firemen reported. There was no estimate of the damage.

Windows Of Store Broken By Shots

Someone firing either a B-B or pellet gun shot holes in three windows at San Rafael Glass and Paint Co., 1115 Third Street, San Rafael, last Thursday night or early Friday.

San Rafael police reported the shots also damaged two mirrors behind the windows. Cost of replacing the windows was estimated at $659.

Churchmen Are Critical Of Bombings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twelve church leaders have written President Johnson that U.S. bombings "in or near Hanoi" have sabotaged chances for a longer cease-fire to get peace negotiations started.

"Worst of all, Mr. President," said their letter, "is the fact that the actions of your own government now clearly appear to contradict your own words as its chief spokesman.

"How can your call for negotiations and a peaceful settlement be taken seriously when the U.S. forces in Vietnam escalate their actions at a time like this?"

The churchmen, representing various faiths, urged that the United States "on its own initiative act for peace without requiring any prior commitment or act by its adversaries and thus prove our sincerity beyond a doubt."

Extremists Organize To Overthrow Hussein

CAIRO, U.A.R. (UPI)—The head of the extremist Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) today announced formation of a secret revolutionary council aimed at overthrowing King Hussein of Jordan.

PLO Chief Ahmed Shukeiry said the council is made up of people both inside and outside Jordan and will "undertake the preparation of the people to wage a battle for liberation with the Palestine Liberation Army in the vanguard."

Shukeiry in a broadcast over the Voice of Palestine Radio from Cairo blasted the "tyranny of Amman Hussein who betrayed God, the prophet and Palestine." He said the king meted out "The same killing, imprisonment and torture" as Israel has given Palestine commandos.

Shukeiry said the recent Arab Defense Council meeting in Cairo made it clear beyond doubt that Jordan will not agree to the entry of Iraqi or Saudi Arabian troops into Jordan to "bolster the heroic Jordanian army in defending the remaining part of our dear homeland."

The new revolutionary council will replace the PLO's existing 11-member executive committee, but Shukeiry said neither names nor meetings will be publicized. Decisions also will be secret except for publication of "what serves the public interest and within the narrowest limits."

Jordan's 32-year-old king has been under constant attack from the PLO and Syria for failing to take "proper" action against Israel for the Nov. 13 Israeli retaliatory raid into Jordan.

Attack Claims More Than 300

TEIXEIRA DE SOUSA, Angola (AP) — More than 300 of a 500-man rebel force were killed Christmas Day when they crossed from the Congo — Kinshasa — and attacked this town on Angola's eastern border, Portuguese military authorities said today.

Portugal closed the Angola-Congo border this month after rebels killed 25 soldiers in an ambush near the frontier.

This town of fewer than 1,000 persons is a main stop on the British-owned Benguela railway over which the Congo exports more than 70 per cent of its copper ore. Portuguese authorities have threatened to halt the ore movement in reprisal for raids by rebels who hit and run back across the border.

Exploding Bomb Wounds Vietnam Assembly Member

SAIGON (UPI)—Dr. Phan Quang Dan, a leading civilian member of South Vietnam's Constituent Assembly, was wounded today by an assassin's bomb that tore apart his car. One Vietnamese bystander was killed and five others were wounded in the blast.

Dan, a powerful leader of one of the emerging political blocs writing a new constitution for Vietnam, escaped death by seconds, police said. He was slightly injured in the leg.

The blast came just three weeks after another leading assemblyman, Tran Van Van, was shot and killed by two Viet Cong agents as he drove toward the assembly building. One of the terrorists was later captured and confessed.

Police said Dan noticed something was wrong with his car, opened the door and got out. A few seconds later a plastic bomb exploded inside the auto.

More Women Work Now, But In Unskilled Jobs

Special to the I-J

LOS ANGELES — Twice as many women now hold jobs as before World War II, but in less skilled, less rewarding work than 25 years ago.

This was the picture presented by Mary Dublin Keyserling, director of the U. S. Department of Labor's women's bureau, at "Exploding the Myths," a day-long University of California Extension conference exploring the issue of women and careers.

"While nearly half of all women aged 18 to 64 are now in the labor force, they are increasingly concentrated in the lesser skilled, less rewarded and less rewarding occupations," she said.

Mrs. Keyserling pointed out that the proportion of women in the clerical occupations has been growing rapidly, from 53 to 70 per cent since 1940. However, women hold a smaller percentage of professional and technical positions than did their prewar sisters.

Less than one per cent of engineers, three per cent of lawyers and eight per cent of scientists are women.

About a fifth of women college graduates are employed in nonprofessional jobs as clerical, sales or service workers or as factory operators, she said.

These trends, said Mrs. Keyserling, imply "a patent waste of training and potential skill."

The economist challenged the idea that "it is not worth training a woman because her work life expectancy is so short."

The average single woman, she said, will work for 35 years, the married woman without children for 25 years and the married woman with children for 24 years, "a period long enough to justify the investment."

To assure the fuller use of womanpower, Mrs. Keyserling said employers should hire and promote more women in professional and administrative positions. She called for an increase in the tax allowance now made for day-care costs and tax changes to make the cost of household help deductible.

Another speaker, Dr. Rosemary Park, president of Barnard College, urged women to stop cultivating the myth that they are an "oppressed minority" when in reality they are a favored majority.

Women, she said, have many more options than men. "Whether they choose to be fully employed, partially employed or not employed at all, society will approve all these styles."

CLAIMS NEPHEW'S BODY—The body of Army Sgt. Richard Campos, an orphan killed in Vietnam, was claimed yesterday in San Francisco by an uncle, John Campos (center), a field farm hand from Marysville. (AP Wirephoto)

Nation's Most Famous Gambler Dies At 80

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A Greek Orthodox service will be held tonight for Nicholas (Nick the Greek) Dandolos, the best-known gambler in American history.

Dandolos died Sunday night at Mt. Sinai Hospital of massive internal bleeding. Hospital records gave his age as 80.

The suave, soft-spoken gambler often claimed that he had gone from rags to riches 73 times in his life. He once estimated that he alternately had won and lost more than $500 million.

Dandolos said he made his first bet in 1911 at a horse track in Montreal and returned to Chicago at the end of the racing season with more than a million dollars in his pocket.

"It wasn't anything for me to win or lose half a million dollars a night during the good years," he once said.

Born in Crete and educated in Turkey, Dandolos claimed for the past several years that he was only 64 or 66.

The two things he would not discuss were his age and where he got the large amounts of money he gambled with. His gambling exploits were another matter., however.

He liked to tell of the times in the 1920s when he won $550,000 in one hand of five-card stud and lost $605,000 in another. Legend had it that he walked into a high-class floating crap game in New York many years ago with $1.6 million and walked out 12 days later flat broke.

It was alleged that he entered a Hot Springs, Ark., stud poker game with $20,000 and emerged with $550,000.

Dandolos claimed to have coined the expression, "It's only money" in 1946 after losing heavily in a crap game.

"If I win or lose $50,000 a night now it's a big night. And I used not to think anything about a half million.

"I've never gambled to get rich. You can't do it that way. But people will never learn,' he said.

Dandolos will be buried Thursday in Las Vegas, site of some of his legenday gambling exploits.

Fire Aboard Ship Claims At Least 12

ST. JOHN'S, NFLD (UPI) — Two British trawlers battled high winds, sleet and freezing rain today in an attempt to tow to safety a crippled sister ship gutted by fire Christmas Day with the loss of possibly 12 of its crew.

The 1,139-ton St. Finnbar was being towed through heavy seas toward the tiny fishing village of St. Anthony, the northernmost community on Newfoundland.

Thirteen survivors were reported aboard one of the rescue vessels and a spokesman for the air-sea rescue center in Halifax said they had received a report saying the men were "comfortable."

At least one crew member of the St. Finnbar was known to be dead and 11 others were unaccounted for. There were reports the missing men might still be aboard the vessel.

The St. Finnbar was 600 miles north-northwest of here when it was swept by fire early Christmas morning. The 13 survivors managed to put out the fire.

The trawler, sailing out of Hull, England, was taken in tow by the Orisano and the Sir Fred Parkes, members of the same fishing fleet.

Design Board Agenda

Long-Lost Uncle Steps Forward To Claim Body

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A farm worker asked permission yesterday to bury his soldier-nephew's body which had gone unclaimed for two weeks while the Army hunted a relative.

John Campos presented baptismal papers at the Presidio of San Francisco to show he was the uncle of Sgt. Richard Campos, who was killed Dec. 6 while on combat patrol in Vietnam. For 24 of his 26 years the soldier was an orphan.

A dicision on whether the uncle gets the body is to be made at the Pentagon in Washington.

The uncle was found Sunday in a Sacramento hotel room. He appeared at the Presidio, wearing a button of the AFL-CIO National Farm Workers Organization and said he was the brother of Nieves Campos, the boy's mother, who had died at the age of 19.

"We have forwarded all the proof of kinship on to Washington," an Army spokesman said. "The decision on whether to release Sgt. Campos' body will be made at the Pentagon."

Campos, 57, was accompanied by delegations from the NFWA and the Mexican-American Political Assn.

Frank Sanchez, head of the Sacramento MAPA chapter, said: "Our only interest is to give the boy a decent resting place in Sacramento."

Veterans groups and individuals had tried to claim the body but the Army would not release it to anyone but relatives.

"I haven't seen him for 15 years or more," the uncle said.

Boy Disappears Off Santa Cruz

SANTA CRUZ (AP) — Mark Phillips, 17, fell off a 20 - foot cliff into the Pacific surf yesterday and disappeared.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Phillips, 369 Mrs. Elmer E. Phillips, Palo Alto.

The youth's cousin, Roger E. Nickels, 29, of Sunnyvale, suffered a possible broken back when he hit a ledge in an attempted rescue leap.

Skin diver Richard Marsh, 17, of Santa Cruz, was swept against the cliff as he tried to reach young Phillips.

Wilson Planning Cabinet Shakeup

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson intends to reshuffle his Cabinet early in 1967 to eliminate some dead wood and promote some of the Labor party's young men, reliable informants said tonight.

Wilson's aim is to refurbish his government's image of dynamic youth; retired the tired and aging, and build a solid team that will last to the next national elections in 1969.

The top echelon of ministers, the sources said, will remain mainly untouched. The changes which will be directed at the middle and lower ranks.

Long-Lost Uncle Steps Forward To Claim Body

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A farm worker asked permission yesterday to bury his soldier-nephew's body which had gone unclaimed for two weeks while the Army hunted a relative.

John Campos presented baptismal papers at the Presidio of San Francisco to show he was the uncle of Sgt. Richard Campos, who was killed Dec. 6 while on combat patrol in Vietnam. For 24 of his 26 years the soldier was an orphan.

A dicision on whether the uncle gets the body is to be made at the Pentagon in Washington.

The uncle was found Sunday in a Sacramento hotel room. He appeared at the Presidio, wearing a button of the AFL-CIO National Farm Workers Organization and said he was the brother of Nieves Campos, the boy's mother, who had died at the age of 19.

"We have forwarded all the proof of kinship on to Washington," an Army spokesman said. "The decision on whether to release Sgt. Campos' body will be made at the Pentagon."

Campos, 57, was accompanied by delegations from the NFWA and the Mexican-American Political Assn.

Frank Sanchez, head of the Sacramento MAPA chapter, said: "Our only interest is to give the boy a decent resting place in Sacramento."

Veterans groups and individuals had tried to claim the body but the Army would not release it to anyone but relatives.

"I haven't seen him for 15 years or more," the uncle said.

Boy Disappears Off Santa Cruz

SANTA CRUZ (AP) — Mark Phillips, 17, fell off a 20 - foot cliff into the Pacific surf yesterday and disappeared.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Phillips, 369 Mrs. Elmer E. Phillips, Palo Alto.

The youth's cousin, Roger E. Nickels, 29, of Sunnyvale, suffered a possible broken back when he hit a ledge in an attempted rescue leap.

Skin diver Richard Marsh, 17, of Santa Cruz, was swept against the cliff as he tried to reach young Phillips.

Wilson Planning Cabinet Shakeup

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson intends to reshuffle his Cabinet early in 1967 to eliminate some dead wood and promote some of the Labor party's young men, reliable informants said tonight.

Wilson's aim is to refurbish his government's image of dynamic youth; retired the tired and aging, and build a solid team that will last to the next national elections in 1969.

The top echelon of ministers, the sources said, will remain mainly untouched. The changes which will be directed at the middle and lower ranks.

Nation's Most Famous Gambler Dies At 80

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A Greek Orthodox service will be held tonight for Nicholas (Nick the Greek) Dandolos, the best-known gambler in American history.

Dandolos died Sunday night at Mt. Sinai Hospital of massive internal bleeding. Hospital records gave his age as 80.

The suave, soft-spoken gambler often claimed that he had gone from rags to riches 73 times in his life. He once estimated that he alternately had won and lost more than $500 million.

Dandolos said he made his first bet in 1911 at a horse track in Montreal and returned to Chicago at the end of the racing season with more than a million dollars in his pocket.

"It wasn't anything for me to win or lose half a million dollars a night during the good years," he once said.

Born in Crete and educated in Turkey, Dandolos claimed for the past several years that he was only 64 or 66.

The two things he would not discuss were his age and where he got the large amounts of money he gambled with. His gambling exploits were another matter., however.

He liked to tell of the times in the 1920s when he won $550,000 in one hand of five-card stud and lost $605,000 in another. Legend had it that he walked into a high-class floating crap game in New York many years ago with $1.6 million and walked out 12 days later flat broke.

It was alleged that he entered a Hot Springs, Ark., stud poker game with $20,000 and emerged with $550,000.

Dandolos claimed to have coined the expression, "It's only money" in 1946 after losing heavily in a crap game.

"If I win or lose $50,000 a night now it's a big night. And I used not to think anything about a half million.

"I've never gambled to get rich. You can't do it that way. But people will never learn,' he said.

Dandolos will be buried Thursday in Las Vegas, site of some of his legenday gambling exploits.

Fire Aboard Ship Claims At Least 12

ST. JOHN'S, NFLD (UPI) — Two British trawlers battled high winds, sleet and freezing rain today in an attempt to tow to safety a crippled sister ship gutted by fire Christmas Day with the loss of possibly 12 of its crew.

The 1,139-ton St. Finnbar was being towed through heavy seas toward the tiny fishing village of St. Anthony, the northernmost community on Newfoundland.

Thirteen survivors were reported aboard one of the rescue vessels and a spokesman for the air-sea rescue center in Halifax said they had received a report saying the men were "comfortable."

At least one crew member of the St. Finnbar was known to be dead and 11 others were unaccounted for. There were reports the missing men might still be aboard the vessel.

The St. Finnbar was 600 miles north-northwest of here when it was swept by fire early Christmas morning. The 13 survivors managed to put out the fire.

The trawler, sailing out of Hull, England, was taken in tow by the Orisano and the Sir Fred Parkes, members of the same fishing fleet.

"Miss Nancy," who lives at 1091 Las Raposas Road, Terra Linda, with her 22-month-old son, Richard Pat, is a native of Canton, Ohio, who has been active in Red Cross swimming and safety campaigns, fire prevention drives and the Marine Corps "Toys for Tots" program.

Mass Escapes From Prisons

LONDON (AP) — Eight more convicts have escaped from British prisons, bringing the total for the Christmas weekend to 23. Only four have been recaptured.

Nearly 1,000 police with tracker dogs searched the bleak moorland for five convicts who overpowered two guards Monday at Dartmoor Prison and scaled the 30-foot wall.

Three other convicts slipped away from Leyhill Open Prison late Monday night and vanished into the rainy, misty countryside.

Two men were recaptured Monday who had escaped from another open prison in Derbyshire Christmas Eve.

Moscow Lashes Spellman Mass

MOSCOW (AP) — Communist commentators are aiming heavy barrages at Francis Cardinal Spellman, accusing him of contradicting the words of Pope Paul VI by the statements he has been making to U.S. troops in South Vietnam.

Cardinal Spellman, the Roman Catholic vicar of the U.S. arme dforces and archbishop of New York, was traveling in South Vietnam today and could not be reached for comment on the accusations.

A taped recording of the cardinal's sermon at a Mass at Tan Son Nhut airbase near Saigon Saturday called the Vietnam conflict a "war for civilization."

The Soviet government paper Izvestia said yesterday the cardinal was neglecting the Biblical commandment, "Thou shalt not kill."

There's Still Acute Scientist Shortage

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON — The acute shortage of scientists which prompted the Science Talent Search in the early days of World War II has not been eliminated. On the contrary, the intervening years have brought the greatest scientific developments ever known. This has caused the shortage of research scientists to continue in spite of ever-increasing numbers of talented students entering scientific disciplines.

The Science Talent Search, now in its 26th year, is testing over 25,000 high school seniors throughout the United states this month in an effort to identify those seniors with the greatest potential of filling these vital research positions in the future.

The test, designed to measure ability to think and reason along scientific lines, is given in public, private and parochial schools during a two-hour session. In addition to the test, the applicant must write a report of a scientific project on which he has been working, and a personal data blank must be filled in by the student and school officials. All materials must reach Science Service headquarters in Washington, D.C., by midnight, Dec. 27.

The Search has proven its ability to spot creative potential at the high school level, E. G. Sherburne Jr., director of Science Service, announced. Science Service conducts the Science Talent Search for the Westinghouse Science Scholarships and Awards. He said that about 10 per cent of the students fulfilling all the entry requirements will be named to an honors group and will be recommended to colleges and universities for admission and scholarship grants. From the honors group, 40 top winners will be selected to come to Washington for the Science Talent Institute, March 1 through 6.

During the Institute, the 40 winners will be interviewed and their potential ability further evaluated by a board of judges to determine the distribution of $34,250 in science scholarshi psand awards provided by the Westinghouse Educational Foundation of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation. The Science Talent Search is approved by the National Assn. of Secondary School Principals.

VFW Is Backing Anti-Food Sale

RENO (UPI) — Leslie M. Fry, national commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said today his organization backed Rep. Paul Findley R-Ill., in his fight "to withhold the sale of U.S. farm surpluses on liberal credit terms to Yugoslavia."

Fry said Yugoslavia has been shipping medical and other supplies to North Vietnam.

"Their goods and materials are aiding in the death of American fighting men every day."

The Reno attorney said under the proposed sale "some $4 million in credit subsidies would accrue to the government of Yugoslavia, and this would come out of the pockets of the American taxpayer.

Stolen Car Found

A car stolen from Calistoga was recovered in Tiburon Sunday. Joseph G. Kelly reported to Sonoma sheriff's officers he found a 1960 Chevrolet sedan registered to Kathryn Ranalla of Calistoga, in front of 2110 Mar East Street, Tiburon. The car was reported stolen Saturday.

LBJ At Ranch Until After The Holidays

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—President Johnson, who arrived in Texas 11 days ago for a year-end round of business and pleasure, plans to remain at his ranch until after Jan. 1.

Apart from confirming that Johnson would stay in Texas beyond New Year's Day, the White House set no firm time for his return to Washington. This will occur some time before the 90th Congress convenes on Jan. 10.

Johnson was solemn and appeared at least on the verge of tears Monday when he flew 80 miles from his ranch to Floresville, Tex., to attend the funeral of an old friend and political booster, Sam Fore Jr.

Fore, a weekly newspaper publisher for 50 years, helped launch Johnson on the road to political success.

Vandals Smash Car Windows After Accident

A car belonging to a young driver from New York, planning to enter College of Marin in February, was vandalized overnight after it ran off Bolinas Road a quarter mile north of the Meadow Club at 3:30 p.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Bary W. Thomas, 21, of 27 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, told the patrol his car slid off a curve in the fog on the damp roadway.

Patrol officer Charles Heart said the car was little damaged in the accident, but during the night vandals smashed all but two small windows in the car.

Phantom H Bomb Plane Discussed In New Book

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In so the report said, Russian nuclear powered phantom planes with H-bombs aboard flew undetected through radar defense over the Hawaiian Islands, the San Francisco-Oakland region and New York City and New Jersey.

The report was supplied by Korean underground agents operating inside Red China. It dealt with a briefing in Peking by four officials from the Soviet Ministry of Defense.

The phantom bombers got their name from a box, measuring two by six feet, containing electronic equipment, enabling the planes—so it is was said—to evade radar and penetrate hostile territory.

On their undetected forays over vital U. S. areas, according to the report, the phantoms carried an H-bomb payload equivalent to 30 million tons of TNT, sufficient to wipe out any city and ruin the countryside.

Was the report true? The man who now relays it, John M. Carroll, doesn't vouch for it. But he says:

"What is in the phantom box, how it works and whether the nuclear bomber really exists or not, are crucial questions for U.S. military leaders."

Carroll, former managing editor of Electronics Magazine, and now associate professor of industrial design at Lehigh University, discusses this in a just-published book, (E. P. Dutton, $3.50, "Secrets of Electronics Espionage.")

It's That Time Of Year Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service said today it has begun mailing 1966 income tax forms to about 65 million individual taxpayers. The distribution is scheduled for completion Jan. 5.

Taxpayers will receive in the mail copies of the same type form they filed for last year's taxes. About 43 million will receive the 1040 long form and instructions while 22 million will get the 1040A short-form package.

The IRS said copies of the forms will be available at its offices and many post offices and banks throughout the country shortly after the first of the year.

Body Found Washed Upon Bonita Beach

The scant remains of a body which had been in the water over a month were found washed up on Point Bonita Beach near the lighthouse yesterday afternoon.

Marin County Coroner Frank J. Keaton said the corpse, found by the 15-year-old son of a Coast Guard man stationed at the lighthouse, appeared to be that of a man.

Keaton said the body was probably in the water more than a month. Only clothing found near it was one wool sock, he said. The body was taken to Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley for examination.

The report was supplied by Korean underground agents operating inside Red China. It dealt with a briefing in Peking by four officials from the Soviet Ministry of Defense.

The phantom bombers got their name from a box, measuring two by six feet, containing electronic equipment, enabling the planes—so it is was said—to evade radar and penetrate hostile territory.

On their undetected forays over vital U. S. areas, according to the report, the phantoms carried an H-bomb payload equivalent to 30 million tons of TNT, sufficient to wipe out any city and ruin the countryside.

Was the report true? The man who now relays it, John M. Carroll, doesn't vouch for it. But he says:

"What is in the phantom box, how it works and whether the nuclear bomber really exists or not, are crucial questions for U.S. military leaders."

Carroll, former managing editor of Electronics Magazine, and now associate professor of industrial design at Lehigh University, discusses this in a just-published book, (E. P. Dutton, $3.50, "Secrets of Electronics Espionage.")

It's That Time Of Year Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service said today it has begun mailing 1966 income tax forms to about 65 million individual taxpayers. The distribution is scheduled for completion Jan. 5.

Taxpayers will receive in the mail copies of the same type form they filed for last year's taxes. About 43 million will receive the 1040 long form and instructions while 22 million will get the 1040A short-form package.

The IRS said copies of the forms will be available at its offices and many post offices and banks throughout the country shortly after the first of the year.

Body Found Washed Upon Bonita Beach

The scant remains of a body which had been in the water over a month were found washed up on Point Bonita Beach near the lighthouse yesterday afternoon.

Marin County Coroner Frank J. Keaton said the corpse, found by the 15-year-old son of a Coast Guard man stationed at the lighthouse, appeared to be that of a man.

Keaton said the body was probably in the water more than a month. Only clothing found near it was one wool sock, he said. The body was taken to Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley for examination.

State Fair Due More Profit From Carnival

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The California state fair should realize $118,000 more from its carnival concession in 1967 than it has for the past three years.

The concessions committee of the fair's board of directors finally opened bids Wednesday, including one from Carnival Time Shows of Sonoma, for $278,000 for the carnival concession at the 12-day fair.

For the past three years, the carnival had paid the fair only $150,000 a year for the privilege of setting up on the fairgrounds.

When the fair invited bids this year and specified the minimum acceptable bid would be $100,000 higher, or $250,000, the North American Carnival Assn. ordered its members to boycott bidding. And the NACA sought a restraining order from the court to hold up opening of bids, on grounds the specifications and bid invitation had not been issued properly.

Since the beginning of the court action, the state fair board of directors met and adopted the specifications. Judge Gordon D. Schaber, in removing the restraining order, said it would be an "idle gesture" to keep the order in force after the directors' action.

Harrison Cutler, state fair manager, said the Arizona state fair received $218,000 from its carnival last month, on an attendance of 380,000. California has received $150,000 and attendance in 1966 was more than 950,000, Cutler said.

Stanley Fowler, chief deputy director of the department of general services, which oversees the fair operation, said the amount of money received from the carnival operation affected the amount of money that had to be appropriated from the general fund each year to support the fair. Fowler said it was not in the public interest to continue to collect only $150,000.

The concessions committee will make a recommendation to the full board of directors on the bids on Jan. 4.

Soldier Injured nl Auto Collision

Jose Louis Alvarez, 23, of Barracks 707, Hamilton Air Force Base, suffered a cut scalp when his car collided with the rear of a truck-trailer on Highway 101 in Marinwood at 12:28 a.m. Sunday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Alvarez was driving south when his car hit the rear of a southbound truck-trailer driven by Rex E. Hensley, 45, of Port Chicago, Contra Costa County, officers reported.

Body Is Found With Six Shots

OAKLAND (UPI)—The body of Berkeley real estate agent Thomas Comis, shot six times in the back, was found yesterday in a garage behind the home of his divorced wife.

Police said they were searching for the woman, Elnora, 36, who was believed to have with her the couple's children, Mike, 13, and Sandy, 10.

Officers found Comic's body when the broke into the garage to investigate reports by relatives that they had been unable to contact Mrs. Comic. Police said Comic had been dead from 12 to 24 hours.

War Is Also Hell For Vietnam Medics

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON—War is hell—for more than just the men fighting it—as the doctors and nurses working in Vietnam find out almost as soon as they arrive.

From the medical viewpoint, in fact, Vietnam is presenting problems for which no other war has laid the groundwork.

Malaria, for example, is like a sniper with a riot gun: it has accounted for 40 per cent of the fighting men who are hospitalized for nonsurgical reasons.

The problems of service doctors in the war are so unique and unprecedented, in fact, that a special conference on Medical Education for National Defense (aptly abbreviated MEND) ran for two days here, talking about nothing but "casualty care in Vietnam."

Neither World War II nor Korea prepared anyone, fighter or physician, for the rigors of duty in a climate that runs over 120 degrees F. with humidity just this side of a fish tank. Dehydration is common among patients, and postoperative kidney failure is much higher than it was in the nontropical climate of Korea, for example.

Yet hospital treatment is presently more rapid and more complete than it has been in any other war in history, conference speakers said.

The more well equipped, modern hospitals can have as few as 60 or as many as 1,000 beds. But some of the hospitals are less than up-to-date. If he is lucky, an armed forces doctor may be stationed in a "Medical Unit, Self-Contained," an air-conditioned hospital of sorts in which daytime temperatures are in the seventies and at night range from 58 to 62 degrees. Other facilities range all the way down to Civil War era hospitals where the sand blows in through chinks in the walls.

Some 80 per cent of the men at the conference here have had experience in these hospitals. To replace those who leave the service or are rotated elsewhere, 80-odd universities in the U.S. are training young surgeons and doctors for military roles.

Army Job Openings Are Announced

Training programs of the Community Health Services will be discussed at tomorrow's meeting of the Mental Health Advisory Board at 8 p.m. at Marin General Hospital's Coral room.

War Is Also Hell For Vietnam Medics

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON—War is hell—for more than just the men fighting it—as the doctors and nurses working in Vietnam find out almost as soon as they arrive.

From the medical viewpoint, in fact, Vietnam is presenting problems for which no other war has laid the groundwork.

Malaria, for example, is like a sniper with a riot gun: it has accounted for 40 per cent of the fighting men who are hospitalized for nonsurgical reasons.

The problems of service doctors in the war are so unique and unprecedented, in fact, that a special conference on Medical Education for National Defense (aptly abbreviated MEND) ran for two days here, talking about nothing but "casualty care in Vietnam."

Neither World War II nor Korea prepared anyone, fighter or physician, for the rigors of duty in a climate that runs over 120 degrees F. with humidity just this side of a fish tank. Dehydration is common among patients, and postoperative kidney failure is much higher than it was in the nontropical climate of Korea, for example.

Yet hospital treatment is presently more rapid and more complete than it has been in any other war in history, conference speakers said.

The more well equipped, modern hospitals can have as few as 60 or as many as 1,000 beds. But some of the hospitals are less than up-to-date. If he is lucky, an armed forces doctor may be stationed in a "Medical Unit, Self-Contained," an air-conditioned hospital of sorts in which daytime temperatures are in the seventies and at night range from 58 to 62 degrees. Other facilities range all the way down to Civil War era hospitals where the sand blows in through chinks in the walls.

Some 80 per cent of the men at the conference here have had experience in these hospitals. To replace those who leave the service or are rotated elsewhere, 80-odd universities in the U.S. are training young surgeons and doctors for military roles.

Army Job Openings Are Announced

Training programs of the Community Health Services will be discussed at tomorrow's meeting of the Mental Health Advisory Board at 8 p.m. at Marin General Hospital's Coral room.

A MILLION DOLLAR PUFF

China Held Ready With Missile Sub

By ANDREW HAMILTON
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Communist China, says a top navy official, has one submarine that can fire three short-range ballistic missiles, if the missiles become available.

But it is a long way from having nuclear-powered submarines that can stay submerged — and undetected — for long periods of time.

The official, Vice Adm. Charles B. Martell, said he had "no real idea" whether the Chinese had missiles to mount in their single ballistic-missile submarine. But other defense officials have estimated that the Chinese will have operational in 1968 or 1969 short-range land-based missile capable of carrying a nuclear warhead. This could possibly be adapted for submarine use.

The Chinese have a total of about 30 conventional submarines of Russian design, Martell said, and a shipyard where submarines are assembled.

The Soviet Union has more than 40 atom-powered submarines out of a fleet of 400 and is building five to 10 new subs a year, most of them nuclear-powered.

About 15 of the Soviet nuclear subs carry three short-range ballistic missiles each. Altogether, there are about 40 Soviet missile carrying submarines, counting both nuclear-driven and conventional types, with a total of about 120 missiles.

The Soviet sub-launched missiles cannot be fired while the submarine is submerged, and they have a range of less than 600 miles.

But, continues the official, the Soviets are developing a missile that can be launched from a submerged submarine, like the American Polaris, and are expected to have it ready soon.

The Soviet submarine force, including the ballistic-missile submarine fleet, is operating "very much more freely" in the world's oceans and seas than ever before, he says.

But the Soviet undersea boats are not currently patrolling off the coast of the United States or in other sensitive areas, such as the South China Sea, where the U. S. Seventh Fleet is carrying on operations.

Testing Shows Elephants Really Afraid Of Mice

FRANKFURT (GF)—For those who think only women and sissies are frightened by mice, Dr. Bernard Grzimek, director of Frankfurt's large city zoo, has some startling news. He has discovered elephants — males as well as females—are also scared of the rodents, even though here it's still worse with the ladies.

Grzimek conducted a series of tests, in which mice and rats were placed in elephant cages and, subsequently, he repeated the tests on elephants outdoors.

In the first series, elephants flocked together when mice were released in their cage and stood their ground in the huddle. When rats were added, the male elephants muddled closer, but the females began screeching, stamping their front paws and made for the opposite side of the cage.

Out of doors, the reactions were even more pronounced. While the elephants had kept their eyes trained on the mice released in their cages, outdoors the trunked giants not only huddled, but turned their heads and cringed.

When rats appeared on the scene outdoors, both sexes of elephants squealed and raised dirt with their paws in what appeared to be efforts to bury the rodents. When the rats moved nearer, the elephants fled in all directions.

It had been alleged previously that elephants were frightened of rodents, but Grzimek's experiments were the first to prove it.

But why the elephants shudder at mice and rats is another matter. Grzimsk says that's something his tests did not reveal.

Home Buyers Still Cautious Of The Planned Community

Special to the I-J

RIVERSIDE — Home buyers have been slow to put their dollars into new planned communities, in spite of the efforts of some "dedicated and well intentioned" land developers who are "trying to do good things."

R. B. Ricks, UCLA finance expert and a consultant to land developers, told a University of California Extension audience here that the field is "extremely new" and the mistakes many—but the planned community concept, integrating commercial, industrial, institutional and residential facilities, promises better communities in the future.

Ricks, guest speaker in a lecture series on "California Land Resources," said, "I don't blame the developer" for the shortcomings of new cities because some result from lack of available planning data, inexperience and factors beyond his control, such as taxes.

Developers buy land too cheap, too quickly, too soon and too far removed from existing population centers, the assistant professor of finance said.

What the buyer is looking for, Ricks believes, is more house and yard for the dollar, regardless of the golf course, theater or other amenities the new development may offer.

He will not commute a considerable distance for less house for his money.

If new communities are located in the right places, if the three to five years it takes to plan a new city can be reduced and building costs cut, and as developers become more sophisticated, then the home buyer will accept the planned community.

Nature Parks Urged To Keep The Open Spaces

RIVERSIDE — Something better than "funlands" and central parks will be needed to keep people "down in the city," a University of California landscape architect says.

Dr. Garrett Eckbo, professor of landscape architecture at Berkeley, told a recent gathering of realtors, farmers, assessors and others interested in land use that "nature parks" are needed.

Dr. Eckbo said "it would not be enough to plant trees and grass and sprinkle the area with standard playgrounds, playfields and golf courses.

"We still have to develop nature's scenic and recreational attractions in order to block the public's habit of driving out of the city for relief. . . .

"Such projects would present new but not impossible challenges to our design professions.

"In fact, these parks could become the cultural framework of the region, absorbing almost all non-working or leisure-time activities, needs and aspirations, providing a balanced recreational and inspirational environment."

Dr. Eckbo warned that California is losing its chief attractions — climate and landscape. Californians, he said, are not keeping up a good relationship between construction and open space.

Soldiers in Viet Nam have received 150 refrigerator-freezers as gifts from businessmen all over the United States for use in Red Cross centers, service clubs and other off-duty gathering spots.

Jetliner Makes Safe Landing On Foamy Field

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A jet airliner with 128 passengers aboard made a safe landing on a foam-covered runway after circling for nearly two hours when a signal light indicated the landing gear had malfunctioned.

The plane had a normal landing yesterday and all passengers and seven crewmen aboard the Delta Air Lines flight escaped injury. The DC8 jet was en route from Detroit, Mich., to Tampa, Fla., with a stop in Atlanta.

A Delta spokesman said the landing gear light indicated the gear was not down and locked. He said the pilot, Capt. Jack McMahan of Atlanta, flew by the tower to have the gear checked visually, then made a brief touchdown to make certain the gear was solidly locked.

The fire department spread foam on the 4,000-foot runway while the plane circled again. The landing was normal.

Lynda, Actor In Acapulco

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson and George Hamilton arrived last night to visit Merle Oberon and her husband, millionaire Bruno Pagliai.

The President's daughter and the actor came by private jet.

It was assumed Miss Johnson would be here through New Year's Eve.

The Hawaiian island of Lanai, once used only for cattle grazing, is now a pineapple center.

Home Buyers Still Cautious Of The Planned Community

Special to the I-J

RIVERSIDE — Home buyers have been slow to put their dollars into new planned communities, in spite of the efforts of some "dedicated and well intentioned" land developers who are "trying to do good things."

THE 'NORMAL' CROOK

Affluent Society Vs. Crime Growth

WASHINGTON, (AP) — America's increasingly affluent society has produced the "Careless American" and made easy pickings for an overlooked, "normal" type of crook, a New York criminologist said today.

Michael Fooner, chairman of the metropolitan crime prevention project of the American Society of Criminology, offered the view in a report to the 133rd meeting of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

He said that while it has always been assumed that poverty is a primary cause of crime, the facts are that crime is growing at an unprecedented rate in the United States where "prosperity has reached unprecedented heights, and poverty is decreasing."

There is growing evidence to suggest, Fooner said, that there is a pattern of criminality "that seems to correspond to affluence rather than poverty."

Specifically, he indicated, the victims and potential victims have been lulled into carelessness as regards guarding their growing bounty—such as carrying a lot of cash negligently in a handbag or leaving keys in their automobile — and are increasingly offering temptation and opportunity to thieves.

Moreover, he said, most of the persons taking advantage of this appear to be a largely overlooked breed of seemingly normal citizens who themselves are motivated to crime by their own past experience "in substantially sharing the rewards of our national economic progress."

Burglary and thefts of various types constitute some 90 per cent of all crime on the national index, Fooner said.

Cyclist Loses Left Leg In Collision On Shoreline

A 34-year-old San Francisco motorcyclist lost his left leg as the result of injuries suffered when his cycle collided with a car on Shoreline Highway, two miles north of Stinson Beach, at 10:10 a.m. Sunday.

The victim was Billy Wade Boyd of 4325 Balboa Street, who was taken to Marin General Hospital where his leg was amputated. He was reported in fair condition today.

The California Highway Patrol reported Boyd's southbound motorcycle crossed the center line and collided with a northbound car driven by John J. Porrazzo, 63, of San Bruno.

Porrazzo told officers he swerved to his right to avoid Boyd but the motorcycle collided with the left front of his car. Boyd and his motorcycle were knocked off the west side of the highway along the Bolinas Lagoon, officers reported.

Transit Board To Consider Bus Operation

The Marin County Transit District board will consider the report of Coverdale and Colpitts on public operation of contract for operating of Greyhound buses in Marin at a meeting at the Civic Center Jan. 4.

The session was earlier set for tomorrow, but was postponed a week for convenience of board members.

The report, by the New York consultants at a $60,000 fee, is to be summarized by County Administrator Alan Bruce and Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District engineer Arthur Jenkins. Also on the agenda is the suggestion that Jenkins prepare a written summary of the report.

The transit district board is also to consider legislation suggested by Bruce, including a proposal that laws be amended to allow consolidation of the transit district with the bridge district.

Youth Injured In Auto Accident

A 14-year-old Tamalpais Valley girl suffered facial and leg cuts when a car skidded off Tennessee Valley Road, in the 500 block, and overturned in a three-foot drainage ditch at 10 p.m. Sunday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Injured was Debra Swango of 221 Cardinal Road, who was a passenger in an eastbound car driven by Brian W. Goodenough, 16, of 507 Barone Lane, Mill Valley. She refused medical treatment, officers said.

Park Board Plans Program Reviews

The Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission will consider whether any of the town's parks or recreation programs or plans has "regional significance" for the county at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Town Hall.

County Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske has asked the town for the information as part of an inventory of park needs in the county.

HEADACHES

Headache is part of the symptom complex in many diseases. However most chronic or recurring headaches at the base of the skull and upper neck are caused by irritation of the upper three spinal nerves. The spinal nerves which supply the scalp may be compressed or irritated by a slightly displaced spinal segment which partly occludes the spinal opening through which the nerves exit the spine. This type chronic headache at the base of the skull may radiate to the top of the head and the temples. It is usually accompanied by "Tender Spots" in the scalp, upper neck, and at the base of the skull . . . It may occasionally be accompanied by dizziness and nausea and thereby confused with other types of headaches. The upper three spinal nerves may also be irritated or compressed by postural decay of the upper spine . . . In which case the scalp and neck muscles are constantly pulled to a critical tension against the spine and skull . . . Excessive and prolonged muscle tension compresses the delicate nerves which lie between the skull and the scalp muscles.

Experience has shown that headaches that are caused by mechanical or structural defects of the spine respond readily to the specialized care offered by the Chiropractic profession.

A 34-year-old San Francisco motorcyclist lost his left leg as the result of injuries suffered when his cycle collided with a car on Shoreline Highway, two miles north of Stinson Beach, at 10:10 a.m. Sunday.

The victim was Billy Wade Boyd of 4325 Balboa Street, who was taken to Marin General Hospital where his leg was amputated. He was reported in fair condition today.

The California Highway Patrol reported Boyd's southbound motorcycle crossed the center line and collided with a northbound car driven by John J. Porrazzo, 63, of San Bruno.

Porrazzo told officers he swerved to his right to avoid Boyd but the motorcycle collided with the left front of his car. Boyd and his motorcycle were knocked off the west side of the highway along the Bolinas Lagoon, officers reported.

Transit Board To Consider Bus Operation

The Marin County Transit District board will consider the report of Coverdale and Colpitts on public operation of contract for operating of Greyhound buses in Marin at a meeting at the Civic Center Jan. 4.

The session was earlier set for tomorrow, but was postponed a week for convenience of board members.

The report, by the New York consultants at a $60,000 fee, is to be summarized by County Administrator Alan Bruce and Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District engineer Arthur Jenkins. Also on the agenda is the suggestion that Jenkins prepare a written summary of the report.

The transit district board is also to consider legislation suggested by Bruce, including a proposal that laws be amended to allow consolidation of the transit district with the bridge district.

Youth Injured In Auto Accident

A 14-year-old Tamalpais Valley girl suffered facial and leg cuts when a car skidded off Tennessee Valley Road, in the 500 block, and overturned in a three-foot drainage ditch at 10 p.m. Sunday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Injured was Debra Swango of 221 Cardinal Road, who was a passenger in an eastbound car driven by Brian W. Goodenough, 16, of 507 Barone Lane, Mill Valley. She refused medical treatment, officers said.

Park Board Plans Program Reviews

The Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission will consider whether any of the town's parks or recreation programs or plans has "regional significance" for the county at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Town Hall.

County Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske has asked the town for the information as part of an inventory of park needs in the county.

HEADACHES

Headache is part of the symptom complex in many diseases. However most chronic or recurring headaches at the base of the skull and upper neck are caused by irritation of the upper three spinal nerves. The spinal nerves which supply the scalp may be compressed or irritated by a slightly displaced spinal segment which partly occludes the spinal opening through which the nerves exit the spine. This type chronic headache at the base of the skull may radiate to the top of the head and the temples. It is usually accompanied by "Tender Spots" in the scalp, upper neck, and at the base of the skull . . . It may occasionally be accompanied by dizziness and nausea and thereby confused with other types of headaches. The upper three spinal nerves may also be irritated or compressed by postural decay of the upper spine . . . In which case the scalp and neck muscles are constantly pulled to a critical tension against the spine and skull . . . Excessive and prolonged muscle tension compresses the delicate nerves which lie between the skull and the scalp muscles.

Experience has shown that headaches that are caused by mechanical or structural defects of the spine respond readily to the specialized care offered by the Chiropractic profession.

Hungry India Now Growing Better Wheat

Special to the I-J

DAVIS — The people of India should be eating better now and in the future because of findings by Dr. B. A. Krantz, University of California soils specialist here.

While on leave with the Rockefeller Foundation, Krantz, working with colleagues from the foundation and the Indian government, found that dwarf wheat from Mexico can produce yields six times greater than local varieties.

Cultivation requirements involve specific irrigation, fertilization and depth-of-planting techniques, new findings which may prove helpful to improving yields of these wheats in California.

They are now widely grown here after being developed by the foundation in a research program in Mexico. These varieties, distinguished by a short straw length, actually are a compact version of a taller-type wheat.

This feature produces a sturdier stand less subject to lodging—falling over onto the ground — while not sacrificing production.

For centuries, Krantz points out, wheat growers in India have used crop varieties and farming methods designed to keep plants in balance with their environment.

He commented, "All factors are pretty much in equilibrium, but a low equilibrium."

While yield has been small, usually well below 1,000 pounds per acre, because of the inherent low potential of the local varieties, farmers did manage to get some crop under just about any condition. Nobody tried new methods because the penalty for mistakes was starvation, he noted.

The dwarf varieties, introduced into India two years earlier, had shown inconsistent results in test plots.

He went to India, for the second time in seven years, to conduct soils fertility studies.

Krantz set out irrigation, fertilization and seed planting depth trials and demonstrated the new wheats, to adapt to the rainless Indian winter, needed early and continuing moisture.

A planting depth of about two inches was found optimal for moisture and growth control.

He found that the setting of crown roots and subsequent tillering — rooting which develops multiple grain-bearing stalks around the main stem — depended upon surface moisture at about the third week after planting.

When yields of more than 6,000 pounds per acre of wheat were proved possible, both farmer and government interest climbed.

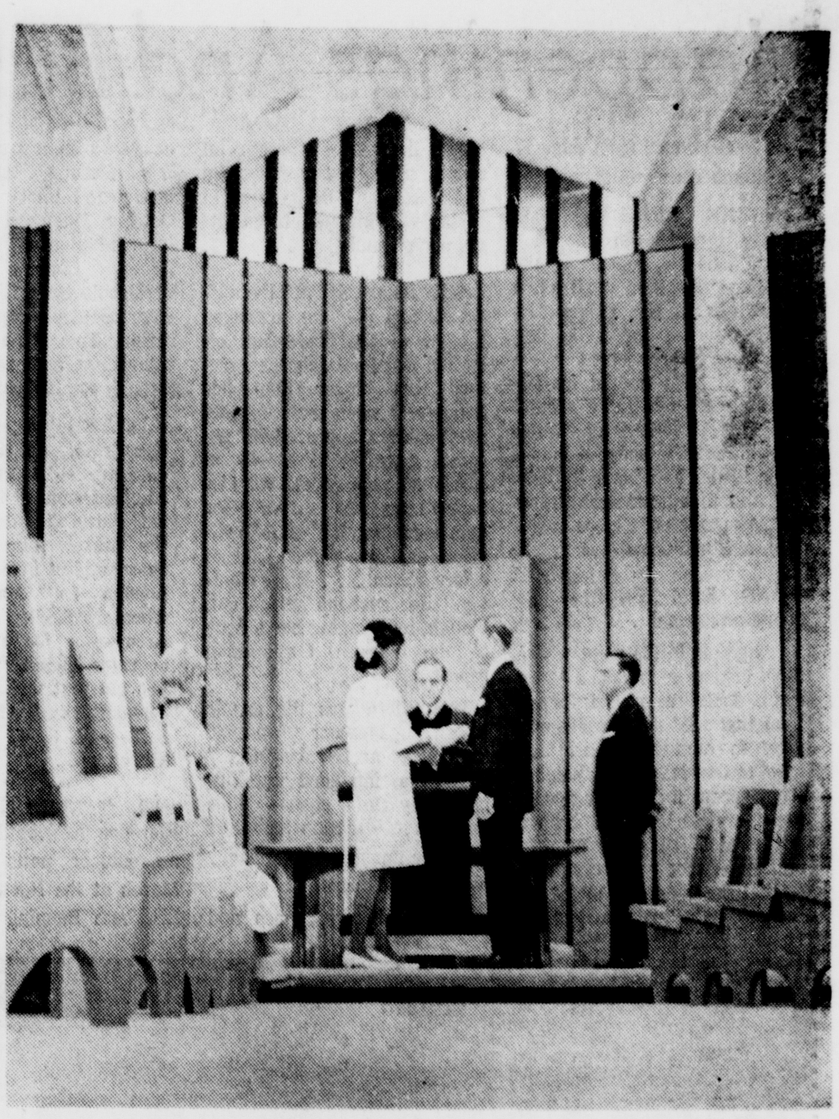
ACTRESS HAYLEY MILLS blew out candles on her birthday cake when she and Rosalind Russell, in white scoop hat, and June Harding, were guests at San Domenic during the premiere of their film, "The Trouble With Angels."



THE WORLD'S TOP tennis talent attended the small wedding of top professional Rod Laver of Australia to Mary Benson of Southern California at St. Luke's Presbyterian Church near Glenwood.

A Dizzying Year Of Mods And Demonstrators

By BARBARA HOSMER

With a dizzying year of demonstrations, mini skirts, "trip" talk and "happenings" just ending, one can only wonder what the next year will bring.

Housewives picketed their favorite chain super; paper dresses came out of a can; long hair, true and false, was everywhere; mods hiked skirts in the high-style of the '40s; pop art hit TV, and nearly everybody felt compelled to act or react to the turbulent times.

MARIN PEOPLE and events continued to make news. . . .

Mill Valley soprano Jane Marsh won international honors in the music world when she took first in the vocal division of the International Tschaikovsky Competitions in Moscow in June and was invited to sing at the White House before 250 leaders of the arts and President and Mrs. Johnson. It was quite a year for Jane, who came home to Marin for a few weeks during the summer. She made her first recording, she appeared on television several times, once having all her music and clothing stolen from her bags while in Hollywood for TV appearances; and she suggested Lady Bird attend the opening of the San Francisco Opera, which she did on her trip to the Bay Area.

Another Marin soprano, Sydney Peterzon of Sausalito, received a contract with the Metropolitan Opera National Company.

SAILING WAS the thing when the Women's North American Sailing Championships were hosted in Belvedere by the San Francisco Yacht Club, with its auxiliary's committee busy housing, entertaining and generally caring for the eight crews of women.

One of the hottest weekends of the year was the one the Los Altos Hunt chose to go on a fox-less hunt in Nicasio and on the slopes behind the Meadow Club.

In mid September Lady Bird Johnson arrived by helicopter to dedicate the Point Reyes National Seashore and another first lady visiting, if only briefly, was Mrs. Ferdinand Marcos, the attractive wife of the president of the Philippines, who joined a Filipino gathering at Ondine's for lunch, leaving the press outside with a tactful but firm, "Thank you. That will be ALL!"

FILM WORLD notables who were visitors included Rosalind Russell and Hayley Mills, who were guests at San Domenico for lunch and a reception when their film, "The Trouble with Angels," was premiered as a benefit for the school.

Other wide-screen notables on deck at the Alta Mira for lunch one day were Paul Newman and his wife, Joanne Woodward with their children.

International tennis star Rod Laver of Australia claimed Mary Benson of Southern California as his bride in San Rafael while he was in Marin for the Peacock Gap Tennis Tournament. The world's top tennis talent attended the small ceremony at St. Luke's Presbyterian Church in Bayside Acres and the couple left the church under an arch of tennis racquets.

Miss Israel, who was fourth runner up in the Miss Universe contest, was honored at a party at the Belvedere Lagoon home of the Melville Marxes Jr.

Things had a an international flavor, too, when a Japanese college student couple were married in Shinto rites at the amphitheater on Mount Tamalpais.

The Avery Brundages were honored at a supper at the Kent estate for the annual meeting of the Asian Art Society in June at the time of the opening of the Brundage art collection at the De Young.

German writer Gunter Grass, author of "The Tin Drum" and other modern novels, was guest at a reception aboard a Sausalito ark given by the German consul for cultural relations in San Francisco, and attended by some of the local literary lights.

MORE LOCALLY, the "I hate to cook" girl, author Peg Bracken became the bride of illustrator Parker Edwards and gave up her newspaper column to concentrate on her books, international sellers in paperback.

Chorale director Winifred Baker won the "Outstanding Woman of Achievement" award of the Marin Business and Professional Women's Club. The 85 voice chorale has received top recognition in the Bay Area and its director has been named leader of the San Francisco Civic Chorale. In the summer Arthur Fiedler relinquished his baton to her to conduct the Summer Pops Concert orchestra and chorale.

A Greenbrae miss — Pamela Driver — was selected as Maid of Cotton in California and is competing this week in Memphis for the national title. . . .

Three Marin members were elected district officers for the Golden Gate District of the California Federation of Women's Clubs — Mrs. Arthur Luchetti of Corte Madera, president; Mrs. George Entwistle of Corte Madera, third vice president and Mrs. Lewis DeuPree of Ross, treasurer.

Mary Helen Davidson of Novato and Nora Angress of Marshall were winners at the Food Comes First for Youth Power conference at Asilomar for their food and nutrition education projects.

"TOURITIS" BROKE out in epidemic proportions as houses throughout the county were opened to throngs in the name of charity. Among them San Rafael's Country Club area homes and gardens were open for inspection with Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary as hostesses, St. Stephen's Guild toured Belvedere, and Novato living was depicted in five different ways by the Novato Community Ambassadors' tour of houses.

A stroll through tour of Belvedere's Pomander Walk gardens was a new feature of the Belvedere Sunny Hills guilds combined effort in June.

But one of the most unusual versions of the tours was the non-fund-raiser "show and tell" session of a group of Hillhaven residents whose gardens shared a tough soil problem. They marched from yard to yard as each owner described the trouble and then settled down at the George Dowling home for coffee and a gardening diagnosis by a landscape expert.

SPEAKING OF FUND raising — we liked the spirit of the canny Sausalito Woman's Club committee when members, weary of a season of money-making events, decided to make light of a necessary chore and called their final fund-raising event "It's For the Birds." They placed birdcages and other accoutrements in high flying places, and in to accommodate all in a practical way, innovated with a "Lonelyhearts Table" for widows to enjoy the dinner at the club and then go on to

IN THE MIDST of an April heat wave the hounds panted as they accompanied the Los Altos Hunt members on a two day fox-less hunt following a dragged scene course near Nicasio and behind the Meadow Club. Local members hosted a hunt breakfast afterward at the clubhouse.

STIRRED UP AND PICKETING, Marin housewives called attention to the rising cost of their groceries and protested the game and puzzle come-ons of the markets. They formed RAGE and are continuing comparative price shopping throughout the county's supermarkets. (Independent - Journal photos by Bob Hax and Jim Kean)

MORE LOCALLY, the "I hate to cook" girl, author Peg Bracken became the bride of illustrator Parker Edwards and gave up her newspaper column to concentrate on her books, international sellers in paperback.

Chorale director Winifred Baker won the "Outstanding Woman of Achievement" award of the Marin Business and Professional Women's Club. The 85 voice chorale has received top recognition in the Bay Area and its director has been named leader of the San Francisco Civic Chorale. In the summer Arthur Fiedler relinquished his baton to her to conduct the Summer Pops Concert orchestra and chorale.

A Greenbrae miss — Pamela Driver — was selected as Maid of Cotton in California and is competing this week in Memphis for the national title. . . .

Three Marin members were elected district officers for the Golden Gate District of the California Federation of Women's Clubs — Mrs. Arthur Luchetti of Corte Madera, president; Mrs. George Entwistle of Corte Madera, third vice president and Mrs. Lewis DeuPree of Ross, treasurer.

Mary Helen Davidson of Novato and Nora Angress of Marshall were winners at the Food Comes First for Youth Power conference at Asilomar for their food and nutrition education projects.

"TOURITIS" BROKE out in epidemic proportions as houses throughout the county were opened to throngs in the name of charity. Among them San Rafael's Country Club area homes and gardens were open for inspection with Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary as hostesses, St. Stephen's Guild toured Belvedere, and Novato living was depicted in five different ways by the Novato Community Ambassadors' tour of houses.

A stroll through tour of Belvedere's Pomander Walk gardens was a new feature of the Belvedere Sunny Hills guilds combined effort in June.

But one of the most unusual versions of the tours was the non-fund-raiser "show and tell" session of a group of Hillhaven residents whose gardens shared a tough soil problem. They marched from yard to yard as each owner described the trouble and then settled down at the George Dowling home for coffee and a gardening diagnosis by a landscape expert.

SPEAKING OF FUND raising — we liked the spirit of the canny Sausalito Woman's Club committee when members, weary of a season of money-making events, decided to make light of a necessary chore and called their final fund-raising event "It's For the Birds." They placed birdcages and other accoutrements in high flying places, and in to accommodate all in a practical way, innovated with a "Lonelyhearts Table" for widows to enjoy the dinner at the club and then go on to

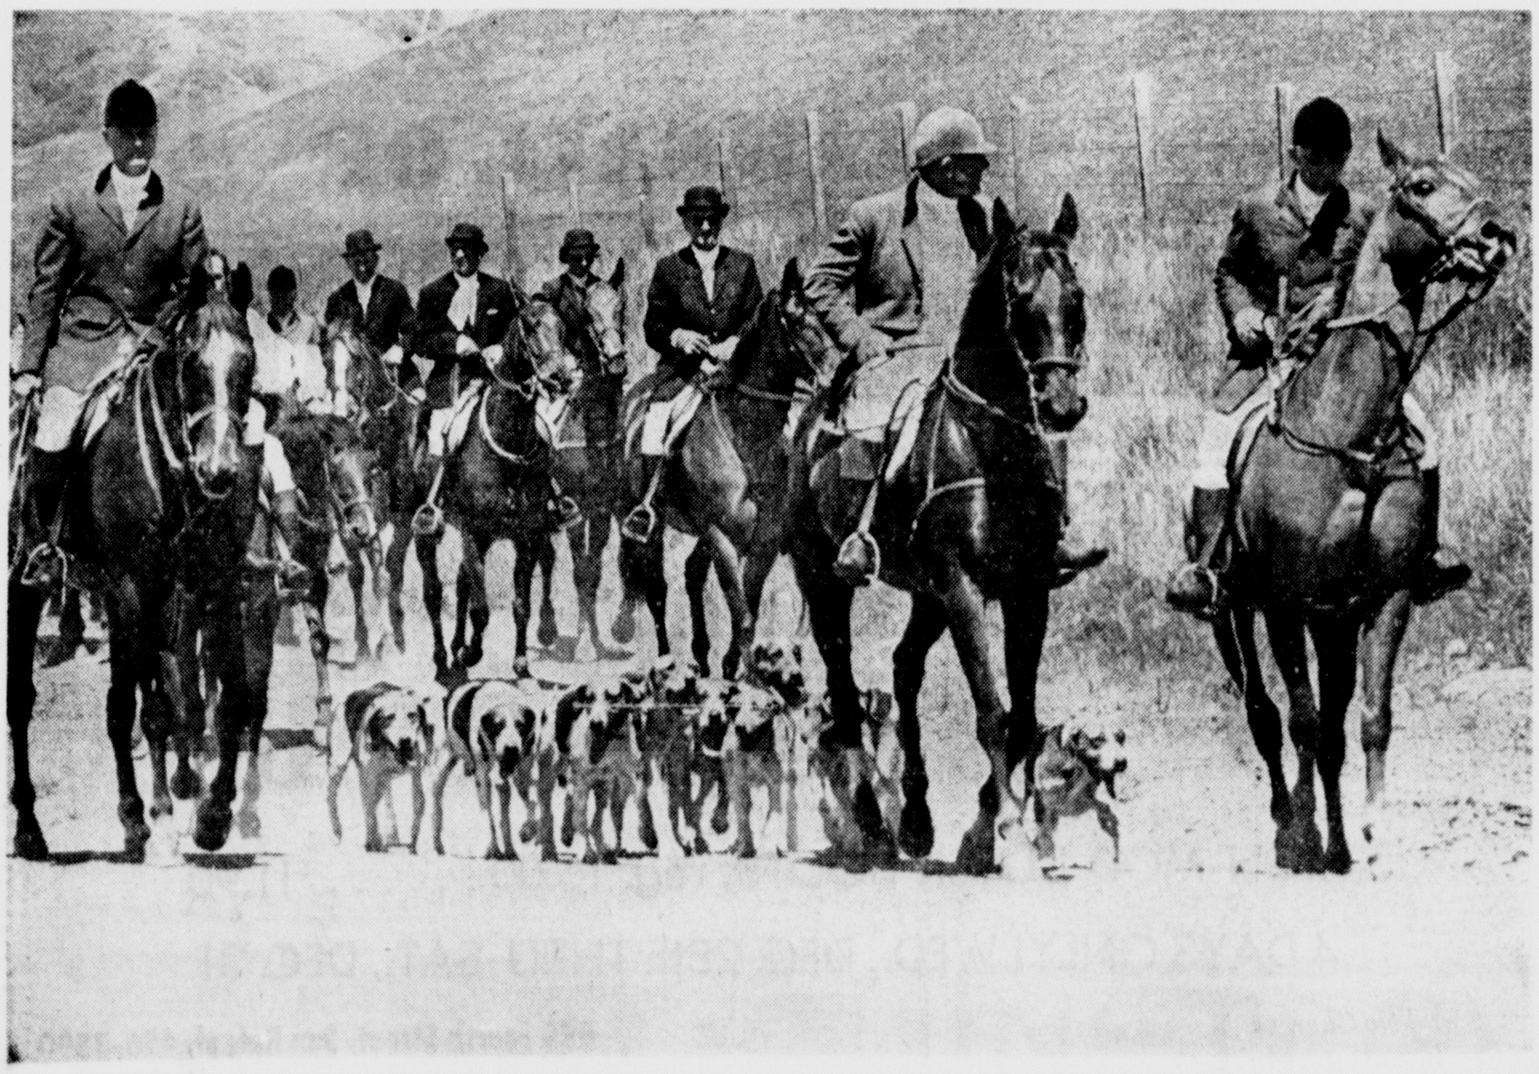
A FORMER Miss Marin at the Haunted House



IN THE MIDST of an April heat wave the hounds panted as they accompanied the Los Altos Hunt members on a two day fox-less hunt following a dragged scene course near Nicasio and behind the Meadow Club. Local members hosted a hunt breakfast afterward at the clubhouse.

STIRRED UP AND PICKETING, Marin housewives called attention to the rising cost of their groceries and protested the game and puzzle come-ons of the markets. They formed RAGE and are continuing comparative price shopping throughout the county's supermarkets. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax and Jim Kean) a member's home to visit.

THERE WERE A FEW minor changes in the deb scene here — instead of the mother - daughter instruction tea given in the spring, the girls gathered for a briefing and then were joined by a group of boys invited by the committee for a party around the pool. Another innovation was the idea to honor a Marin civic leader each year by asking him to introduce the girls as they make their bows at the ball, and non-Christmas decor.

AND THE PEOPLE go round and round. . . .

It's gotten to the point where the volunteer model's own mink looks a parcel better than that wild swathe she was given to tread the ramp in . . . most of the clothes, too, judging from recent months. A few of the style shows have perpetrated such eccentric outfits — mod-vinyl creations — that the undercurrent of audience "ughs" is nearly audible to the model whose grim mouth is expression of her inner thoughts. Perhaps next spring's styles will forgo the glamor of oilcloth. . . .

ONE REMEMBERS the oddest things — the outraged mother of the bride-elect offended that Luci Johnson's picture was bigger than her daughter's when their engagement stories appeared on the same page. . . . Vivian Hallinan's comment while serving 10 days for demonstrating on auto row, "For a night person jail is really rough . . . It's so boring." Her husband helped out, though, by bringing her a copy of the Warren Commission report.

Then there was the couple whose engagement form said they "met at the drugstore." We were intrigued by this possibility of chance love among the Whitman Samplers until we found out that they both worked there.

"I have brains, bones and cow eyes on my shopping list this morning," one Marin housewife informed us in October. All were used in the Haunted House by the Jolly Rogers Chapter of the Children's Home Society as a tremendously popular fund-raiser. This year 11,000 youngsters and parents went through for Halloween.

IN THE "if you want it done right, do it yourself" category — A visitor from England stopped to have her hair cut in the latest style by the master himself, Vidal Sassoon, just before she left London for Tiburon. But when she toddled into a Bay Area salon for a trim, the operator chided, "Where did you get that terrible cut? It certainly isn't the real Sassoon!" Sure, she went away mod. . . .

IT TAKES NERVE — Florence Archibald boldly set an outdoor patio party for March at the Novato home of Elizabeth Banning Davies for Marin Music Chest and did it on a very rainy November day. Sure enough, it was sunny.

Transistors were shamelessly brought out during social functions whenever the beloved Giants were batting. One summer's day at Marin Art and Garden Center as some 400 spectators were enjoying the fashion show, suddenly a voice audible over the taped music wailed, "They've taken Gaylord Perry out!" Fenn Herrington, a founder and staunch supporter of the Northgate Group, was seated next to the runway but still plenty tuned in to her Giants. . . .

Mill Valley's intrepid 74 year old traveler Roberta Winans made a five week raft voyage along the coast of Mexico and won the title "Cleopatra of the Nile" from the group when she pitched her little tent on the raft. . . .

JUST COVERING the daily news — When it came time to pick up the story information that was to accompany a picture and deadline was approaching, there was a slight hitch . . . It seems that it was lying inside a building from which was wafting the smell of gas fumes and none could enter until possible danger had passed. But hardly an explosive item, the story arrived in the nick of deadline.

Two days after Thanksgiving the desperate voice of a lady on the phone was seeking a way to contact the TOPS weight reduction club.

Another picture taking session for a P-TA chicken barbecue was carefully planned at someone's farm where fowl were plentiful. The photog arrived and chicken hunt was on. Half an hour and nary a feather, so the frantic school officials and ruffled ladies had to pose around an empty frying pan, chagrined.

Promptness over all — One lady puffed into the office one afternoon bringing her son's wedding story "as fast as I could." She apologized that the ceremony had already taken place a few days before — in the East. "We just drove into town and haven't been home yet because we wanted to get the story in."

And then there was the Ross matron who was "having her breakfast and couldn't be disturbed" with a telephone call. Well, it was barely 10 o'clock. . . .

It took a couple weeks to set up the interview and arrange a special boat ride on the official Coast Guard launch round about from Treasure Island to a remote part of Angel Island, and, when the reporter and photographer got there, the subject then decided to be utterly camera shy. Finally, after considerable coaxing, she permitted one photo — of her in a chair — which could have been taken in any Marin home. You know we tried. . . .

WE APOLOGIZE to the doting father who told his office he would be in Santa Rosa for the day and turned up plainly in an I-J picture at the Marin Art and Garden Center filming his little daughter's first modeling stint at the Northgate Group fashion show.

A FEW PEOPLE came up with new ideas or variations on older ones —The traditional ice event of the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary shifted from its usual "Christmas on Ice" do to become "Spring on Ice" in late April, with Mrs. Warren Perry as chairman.

San Domenico's new campus was the setting for summer camping for girls termed "Summer Adventure" with five weeks of arts, language sports and out of doors programs, a first-time venture here.

The Legal Secretaries established a training course to prepare stenos to work as legal secretaries in Marin to be held at the College of Marin, beginning in September.

Other Marinites studied hard to qualify as "docents" — teaching guides — when the Brundage Collection of Oriental art opened at the DeYoung Museum in June.

Volunteer nurses from Mill Valley's P-TA Council and clerical aides too assisted with the tubercular testing project throughout the district in February.

Programs on "Family Life Education" were especially big this year and the 14th District P-TA conference at San Rafael High School brought out volunteers and professionals from Marin and Sonoma. . . .

The Batman theme for parties had a brief vogue and the Boyd Museum Fairfax and San Anselmo grabbed hold for a Go-Go thing, calling themselves the "Boyd Wonders."

A GROUP OF young men who are "The Bachelors" of Southern Marin banded together and to put on two black tie dinner dances a year. They began with spring and fall balls, taking over the entire Alta Mira for the evening.

The Marin Branch of the AAUW gave an International Affair to raise funds for its fellowship program which aids women seeking advanced university degrees, and its success assures another next year.

A country auction was a successful first one big fund-raiser for the Marin Foundation's nine units.

The Ross Boyd Guild gave a popular ski-swap.

The Novato Girl Scout Assn. was the result of an amalgamation of the Novato, Hamilton Air Force Base, Loma Verde and Raphael Village Neighborhood units.

Tiburon Peninsula churchwomen combined to form SERVE to provide service to patients at Marin Convalescent and Rehabilitation Center. It is a joint effort of six Tiburon area churches.

University of California Extension opened daytime classes in Marin mainly for housewives who are going back to school during the hours their children are in class. It is no longer unusual to find households in which the wife is studying toward a college or post-graduate degree on a part time basis.

The Sweet Adelines, who sing the close harmonies, took third in their stiffest competition from among 19 song groups.

The second annual Japan Weekend was given by the Japanese Friendship Club with flower arrangement, tea ceremony, teriyaki dinner and music and dance.

A London cab veering around Belvedere's curves attracted attention. The Lawrence Greens bought it right off the streets of London town and hustled it home as a practical souvenir.

Operation Headstart youngsters were given the whys and hows of dental health via the Dental Auxiliary's puppet show, and the Marin Medical Auxiliary gave their babysitter training program for teen-agers.

Sunny Hills popped out with two more guilds — in the Glenwood and Peacock Gap areas.

The San Francisco Opera's new "Action" Auxiliary has set up a Marin arm with Bettye Ferguson as its chairman.

A new auxiliary was established at the Nazareth House to assist the residents with crafts and activities.

Jack and Jill Branch was begun by young marrieds who were Junior Pink Ladies at Marin General Hospital and some of whose mothers are among the leaders of the senior volunteer groups there.

The Court Marin of the Foresters donated a dryer and many other items to the Ross Hospital Tuberculosis Terrace as well as a piano. They and other volunteers assist and entertain the patients and help pass time constructively.

NEARLY 50 years of membership were the reason the Outdoor Art Club of Mill Valley gave an honorary membership to Mrs. Delmar Clinton, who was president of the club in 1927-28. Also at the luncheon were three others who had served on their executive board in those days.

Dr. Dorothy Blackmore left Dominican College after 15 years and became associate head of teacher education at the University of California at Davis.

Mrs. Robert Graver of Mill Valley won a 20 year pin for her two decades as a volunteer with the Girl Scouts.

Mrs. Otto Kloppenburg of San Rafael was elected president of Delta Gamma at its international convention.

Mrs. Robert L. Schultz of Mill Valley has been elected regional governor for middle California by the Mills College Alumnae Assn., and she and her husband are co-chairmen of the drive to raise nearly seven million dollars to secure a

Guild Elects Mrs. Robert Sitkins

When asked what she enjoyed most, Mrs. Robert S. Sitkin, new president of Belvedere Guild 3 of Sunny Hills, unhesitatingly answered: "People."

The guild's purpose of aiding emotionally disturbed children by supporting the work of Sunny Hills is very important to her. Her other interests are "any humanitarian organization," student exchange programs, ballet and all forms of the arts.

Barbara is the wife of Dr. Robert S. Sitkin. They have lived on the Belvedere Lagoon for eight years and are the parents of Dean Spencer, Donald Spencer, Katherine Sitkin and Margaret Lyons Sitkin.

The new president has been a member of the guild for five years, and previously held the office of secretary.

A graduate of Lowell High School in San Francisco, Barbara attended University of California.

Guild Elects Mrs. Robert Sitkins

When asked what she enjoyed most, Mrs. Robert S. Sitkin, new president of Belvedere Guild 3 of Sunny Hills, unhesitatingly answered: "People."

The guild's purpose of aiding emotionally disturbed children by supporting the work of Sunny Hills is very important to her. Her other interests are "any humanitarian organization," student exchange programs, ballet and all forms of the arts.

Barbara is the wife of Dr. Robert S. Sitkin. They have lived on the Belvedere Lagoon for eight years and are the parents of Dean Spencer, Donald Spencer, Katherine Sitkin and Margaret Lyons Sitkin.

The new president has been a member of the guild for five years, and previously held the office of secretary.

A graduate of Lowell High School in San Francisco, Barbara attended University of California.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Friendly Argument Reveals An 'Enjoyable' Violence In Sports

DEAR HELEN:

My husband and I have had a friendly argument. Whose side are you on? I say men watch sports like tobogganing, speedboat and auto racing, motorcycle races, even partially football, because they hope to see somebody hurt. In a way all those sports are like boxing and bull-fighting—they make people feel violent without being violent.

My husband says men watch them for the "competition" only. Who's the most right?

—LOUISE

DEAR LOUISE:

You're both right. Any man (and woman too, for that matter) who won't admit an accident adds to the excitement of watching a sports show is fooling himself. He wishes no one harm, but our built-in violence keeps him hoping. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

Our son and his wife have two small children, live here in town. They drop in whenever they please, raid the refrigerator, have informal meals with us. They even use my washer and dryer, as they have none. My son is finishing his college education, but has a good job.

All this is fine—we love having them, and we like to help them out. But why should our visits to THEM be "by appointment only"? We've been told to "call first." In fact, we usually wait until we're invited, because the three times I've called, they've been "busy."

Yet no one calls me first when they need a baby-sitter. Our daughter-in-law just drives by and leaves the children, then they all stay for dinner, later.

My husband says: Don't disturb a nice relationship — so many in-laws don't get along, and we do; but I'm beginning to wonder whether we're more convenient than loved?

—ASHAMED OF DOUBTING

DEAR DOUBTING:

Let's put it this way: you're loved as a convenience. You'd be loved as persons if you become a little less available. Tell your d-in-l you'll need advance notice on baby-sitting; suggest potluck dinners when they drop in looking hungry; casually mention their "appointment only" system has its points . . . and your washer has sprung a leak.

Grown-up children must be taught to treat their parents as equals. Otherwise some of them keep expecting the advantages of childhood all their lives.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm 31, and have never been married, or even close to it. You see, I took care of an invalid mother since I was 16, and also raised my little brothers and sisters. My mother died when I was 28; the kids are grown now. I stayed on in our small town and worked, but I was just "poor Mellie"—they had me pegged as the town spinster.

I'm not that bad off! So I packed up and moved to this place, 1,700 miles away. In the process I changed my image—from spinster to divorcee. People at my office see me as an interesting gal with a past she doesn't like to talk about. It's amazing how you can change your whole personality with just one lie . . . and for the better!

Well, of course, it has happened. I fell in love with a wonderful man and he wants me to marry him. He has never pried about my "past," but I've made it seem exciting. In fact, he's said how could a girl like me want a stodgy fellow like him? He's fascinated by his "mysterious divorcee."

Helen, how can I possibly tell him the truth—that he is the first man I ever really dated? Will he hate me?

"DIVORCED" SPINSTER

DEAR D.S.:

Of course not! The truth will probably make him love you all the more. A woman who devoted 12 years of her life to her family is certainly better wife material than a "mysterious divorcee." Your fiance may be very much relieved.—H.

Brownlee-Bastas Nuptials In Novato

Our Lady of Loretto Catholic Church in Novato was the setting for the wedding of Marie Catherin Bastas and Michael Joseph Brownlee on Dec. 17.

The Rev. James M. Purcell officiated at the double ring ceremony. Marie is the daughter of Felix Bastas of Santa Rosa and Mrs. Charles J. Hanes of Novato. She wore a floor-length Empire style gown of white satin brocade. Her maid of honor was Kris Kraig of Terra Linda, and bridesmaids were Kit McGrath, Mrs. Frank Bonomolo and Robin Yarish of Novato. They wore full-length dresses of red velveteen.

Peter Brownlee was best man and ushers were Ronald Gubser, Denny Allen of Novato and Richard Bastas of Santa Rosa, brother of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Brownlee of Novato and the brother of Mrs. Denny Allen and Peter Brownlee of Novato. He is employed with D. M. Brownlee Inc.

The couple will reside in Novato. Their reception was held at Rancho Rafael prior to the wedding trip to San Francisco.

Sandra Michael's Betrothal To Dennis Murr Announced

Maj. and Mrs. Gordon G. Michael of Novato announced the engagement of their daughter, Sandra Dale, to Dennis Powell Murr, at a dinner party last night.

Sandra was graduated from Novato High School and will receive a degree in biology at Sonoma State College in June. She plans to work on a secondary teaching credential and a master's degree next fall.

Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Murr of Santa Rosa and the brother of William H. Murr of Los Angeles. He was graduated from St. Peter's Prep School in Peekskill, N. Y., and attended Kenyon College in Gombier, Ohio. A member of Phi Kappa Sigma, he received a bachelor's degree in biology and a secondary teaching credential from Sonoma State College and is now completing his master's degree.

A late summer wedding is planned.

Five-Year-Old Challenges Chess Champion

FLENSBURG, Germany (GF) —A five-year-old German girl was the biggest attraction around at a recent chess tournament near here. Germany's chess champ — Berlin's Hans-Joachim Hecht—worried over 42 moves before checkmating the youngster Jutta Hempel.

Jutta was able to catch onto and defend herself against such complicated systems as "From's Gambit," generally understood only by the experts, in her match with Hecht, and her own moves seemed to cost her only the barest of calculating time.

As a consolation prize, Jutta was handed two chocolate candy bars. But she didn't appear to need much consoling; she casually announced she'd get to work on her game and be ready to challenge the champ to a return match in five years.

Then Jutta was off for home in Flensburg, where she otherwise does what most girls of her age do: plays with dolls.

Rae McCallum Is Mill Valley Bride

Rae Carol McCallum of Mill Valley became the bride of Patrick Rawson Haynie of Stockton in a 5 p.m. ceremony at the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCallum of Mill Valley, was given in marriage by her father in the double ring rite performed by the Rev. D. Murray Hammond.

She wore a street length champagne color crepe dress with pearl and rhinestone trim on the collar and cuffs, and her maid of honor, her sister Billie Jean McCallum of Mill Valley, was attired in a street length beige lace dress with A-line skirt and brown satin trim.

The bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin D. Haynie of Stockton, was served as best man by his brother, Dennis Haynie of Lodi. Ushers were the bride's brother, Gary McCallum of Mill Valley, Richard March of Lodi and Rex Hegwer of Placerville.

Following the ceremony a buffet dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents. On their return from a wedding trip to Las Vegas the couple will live in Santa Barbara.

The new Mrs. Haynie is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and is attending the University of California at Santa Barabara.

Patrick, who is better known as Pat, was graduated from Lodi Union High School and attended San Diego Military Academy and Sacramento State College. He is a corporal with the U.S. Marine Corps stationed at Camp Pendleton.

His sister is Carol Haynie of Stockton, and his grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Hasbrouck of Camingo and Mrs. Tipton Evans of Petaluma.

Five-Year-Old Challenges Chess Champion

FLENSBURG, Germany (GF)—A five-year-old German girl was the biggest attraction around at a recent chess tournament near here. Germany's chess champ — Berlin's Hans-Joachim Hecht—worried over 42 moves before checkmating the youngster Jutta Hempel.

Jutta was able to catch onto and defend herself against such complicated systems as "From's Gambit," generally understood only by the experts, in her match with Hecht, and her own moves seemed to cost her only the barest of calculating time.

As a consolation prize, Jutta was handed two chocolate candy bars. But she didn't appear to need much consoling; she casually announced she'd get to work on her game and be ready to challenge the champ to a return match in five years.

Then Jutta was off for home in Flensburg, where she otherwise does what most girls of her age do: plays with dolls.

Rae McCallum Is Mill Valley Bride

Rae Carol McCallum of Mill Valley became the bride of Patrick Rawson Haynie of Stockton in a 5 p.m. ceremony at the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCallum of Mill Valley, was given in marriage by her father in the double ring rite performed by the Rev. D. Murray Hammond.

She wore a street length champagne color crepe dress with pearl and rhinestone trim on the collar and cuffs, and her maid of honor, her sister Billie Jean McCallum of Mill Valley, was attired in a street length beige lace dress with A-line skirt and brown satin trim.

The bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin D. Haynie of Stockton, was served as best man by his brother, Dennis Haynie of Lodi. Ushers were the bride's brother, Gary McCallum of Mill Valley, Richard March of Lodi and Rex Hegwer of Placerville.

Following the ceremony a buffet dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents. On their return from a wedding trip to Las Vegas the couple will live in Santa Barbara.

The new Mrs. Haynie is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and is attending the University of California at Santa Barabara.

Patrick, who is better known as Pat, was graduated from Lodi Union High School and attended San Diego Military Academy and Sacramento State College. He is a corporal with the U.S. Marine Corps stationed at Camp Pendleton.

His sister is Carol Haynie of Stockton, and his grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Hasbrouck of Camingo and Mrs. Tipton Evans of Petaluma.

Midsection Struck By Snow, Winds

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Near blizzard conditions struck the nation's Midlands today. Heavy snow warnings were issued as far southwest as New Mexico.

Five inches of snow in northern Arizona and up to seven inches in northern New Mexico stalled traffic in both states. A state policeman reported a tornado-like gust of wind in New Mexico, resulting in extensive damage.

The wintry warnings were posted in Texas, Colorado, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri. Snow fell as far west as Utah, as well as the south and central Rockies.

On the fringe of the blizzard-like system, Montana received a spread of light snow.

Snow flurries also were reported in the Great Lakes region and over the northern Applachians, including an inch fall at Binghamton., N.Y.

New Mexico's would-be twister caused extensive damage to homes and businesses.

No injuries were reported, but the gust did flip over a tractor-trailor and tore the roof off a ranchers supply store and an adjacent building.

While New York City dug out from the northeast's white Christmas cover, skiers in Vermont took advantage of Killington's 27 inches of snow that fell since Sunday afternoon.

Coyotes apparently are moving east. They have been seen recently in East Tennessee.

Fairchild Makes Offer To Douglas

NEW YORK (AP) — Fairchild Hiller Corp. is considering offering the capital needed to keep Douglas Aircraft Co. going, a source said today.

He said Fairchild Hiller Chairman Sherman Fairchild has talked with Douglas officials. The plan advanced by Fairchild Hiller involves capital, but no actual merger, the source said.

Four other firms — North American Aviation Inc., General Dynamics Corp., Signal Oil and Gas Co. and McDonnell Co.—have been holding similar discussions with the ailing Douglas Co.

Fairchild, builder of helicopters and other space and aeronautical products, has total assets of some $105 million.

Tonga is the last of the Polynesian kingdoms in Oceania. It has been an English protectorate with a parliamentary form of government since 1900.

CONCERT REVIEW

A Thrilling Finale In Candlelight Series

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

There was a surprising and thrilling finale indeed to last night's first Bach-to-Mozart group concert in the seventh annual candlelight chamber music series of the Homestead Valley Improvement Club.

Brown's Hall in Mill Valley fairly shook with the ovation accorded Carole Bogard — one of the Bay Area's most beautiful and talented sopranos — at the conclusion of her "O Let the Bright Seraphim" from Handel's oratorio "Samson."

Infinitely enhanced by the brilliant trumpet of Edward Haug, it was a triumphant farewell for Carole, for she sang it after leader Raymond Duste's surprise announcement that she is leaving to fulfill engagements in the east.

Even without this stimulus to adulation, her singing of this magnificent aria would have been the highlight of the evening, for it is the kind of music she sings superbly. She also sang in Hindemith's "Die Serenaden" Opus 35 with great artistry, but interest in this work centered equally in the dissonant, angular melodies and harmonies of the piece in various combinations with cello, oboe and viola.

A fascinating piece of virtuosity was the duet in a fast, strongly rhythmic tempo between the viola played by the distinguished Marin guest artist Rolf Persnger and the cello of Ellen Dessler.

Miss Dessler's lovely cantabile was so lyrical in combination with Edgar Jones's rich baritone that it was almost like a vocal duet accompanied by the harpsichord in Pergolesi's "Salve Regina." Jones, as always, proved a great favorite. His ability to control long and extreme crescendoes and diminuendos was remarkable. It took a little time, however, for him to achieve the full vocal agility required in the florid passages.

In Telemann's Sonata in F Major, played by first violinist Frank Houser, second violinist Linds Ashworth, O. Boist, Raymond Dueste and Cellist Ellen Dessler with Margaret Fabrizio at the harpsichord, the ensemble was nicely balanced even though each instrumentalist is of solo stature.

Especially enjoyable were the congruity of the first violin and oboe and that of the two violins.

Adding a touch of hilarity to the evening was Haug's performance on a reproduction of the valveless, circular coiled baroque trumpet used some 300 years ago for the highest trumpet register. Haug's playing on it in Christopher Graupner's concerto for trumpet, despite his heroic efforts and some very good passages, was largely of historical interest, for it is evidently a capricious instrument to control in pitch and flexibility.

Miss Fabrizio showed as usual that she can be depended on for a solid and audible continuo, notwithstanding the delicacy of the harpsichord, no matter how many musicians may be performing.

Tryouts Scheduled For Novato Play

Tryout dates for "The Bells Are Ringing," Broadway hit musical which is the next production of the Novato Community Club, were announced today by Arthur Bliss, director.

These will be held at 2 p.m., Jan. 8, and 7:30 p.m., Jan. 10, both at the community house, for the eight main roles, and five female and 16 male speaking parts in the show. Tryouts for dancers will be at 8 p.m., Jan. 5, at the Jean Hall dance studio at 1510 Grant Avenue. Scripts and vocal scores may be had from Mrs. Marilyn Casady at her home at 1419 Monte Maria.

Library Planning Additional Shows

A film program shown free to children last week by the Friends of the Larkspur Library drew such a crowd that the organization has scheduled two showings at this week's program Thursday.

The films, "White Mane," "The Princess and the Dragon," and "The Story of King Midas," will be shown at 1:30 and 2:45 in Larkspur City Hall.

Midsection Struck By Snow, Winds

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Near blizzard conditions struck the nation's Midlands today. Heavy snow warnings were issued as far southwest as New Mexico.

Five inches of snow in northern Arizona and up to seven inches in northern New Mexico stalled traffic in both states. A state policeman reported a tornado-like gust of wind in New Mexico, resulting in extensive damage.

The wintry warnings were posted in Texas, Colorado, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri. Snow fell as far west as Utah, as well as the south and central Rockies.

On the fringe of the blizzard-like system, Montana received a spread of light snow.

Snow flurries also were reported in the Great Lakes region and over the northern Applachians, including an inch fall at Binghamton,, N.Y.

New Mexico's would-be twister caused extensive damage to homes and businesses.

No injuries were reported, but the gust did flip over a tractor-trailor and tore the roof off a ranchers supply store and an adjacent building.

While New York City dug out from the northeast's white Christmas cover, skiers in Vermont took advantage of Killington's 27 inches of snow that fell since Sunday afternoon.

Coyotes apparently are moving east. They have been seen recently in East Tennessee.

Fairchild Makes Offer To Douglas

NEW YORK (AP) — Fairchild Hiller Corp. is considering offering the capital needed to keep Douglas Aircraft Co. going, a source said today.

He said Fairchild Hiller Chairman Sherman Fairchild has talked with Douglas officials. The plan advanced by Fairchild Hiller involves capital, but no actual merger, the source said.

Four other firms — North American Aviation Inc., General Dynamics Corp., Signal Oil and Gas Co. and McDonnell Co.— have been holding similar discussions with the ailing Douglas Co.

Fairchild, builder of helicopters and other space and aeronautical products, has total assets of some $105 million.

Tonga is the last of the Polynesian kingdoms in Oceania. It has been an English protectorate with a parliamentary form of government since 1900.

CONCERT REVIEW

A Thrilling Finale In Candlelight Series

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

There was a surprising and thrilling finale indeed to last night's first Bach-to-Mozart group concert in the seventh annual candlelight chamber music series of the Homestead Valley Improvement Club.

Brown's Hall in Mill Valley fairly shook with the ovation accorded Carole Bogard — one of the Bay Area's most beautiful and talented sopranos — at the conclusion of her "O Let the Bright Seraphim" from Handel's oratorio "Samson."

Infinitely enhanced by the brilliant trumpet of Edward Haug, it was a triumphant farewell for Carole, for she sang it after leader Raymond Duste's surprise announcement that she is leaving to fulfill engagements in the east.

Even without this stimulus to adulation, her singing of this magnificent aria would have been the highlight of the evening, for it is the kind of music she sings superbly. She also sang in Hindemith's "Die Serenaden" Opus 35 with great artistry, but interest in this work centered equally in the dissonant, angular melodies and harmonies of the piece in various combinations with cello, oboe and viola.

A fascinating piece of virtuosity was the duet in a fast, strongly rhythmic tempo between the viola played by the distinguished Marin guest artist Rolf Persnger and the cello of Ellen Dessler.

Miss Dessler's lovely cantabile was so lyrical in combination with Edgar Jones's rich baritone that it was almost like a vocal duet accompanied by the harpsichord in Pergolesi's "Salve Regina." Jones, as always, proved a great favorite. His ability to control long and extreme crescendoes and diminuendos was remarkable. It took a little time, however, for him to achieve the full vocal agility required in the florid passages.

In Telemann's Sonata in F Major, played by first violinist Frank Houser, second violinist Linds Ashworth, O. Boist, Raymond Dueste and Cellist Ellen Dessler with Margaret Fabrizio at the harpsichord, the ensemble was nicely balanced even though each instrumentalist is of solo stature.

Especially enjoyable were the congruity of the first violin and oboe and that of the two violins.

Adding a touch of hilarity to the evening was Haug's performance on a reproduction of the valveless, circular coiled baroque trumpet used some 300 years ago for the highest trumpet register. Haug's playing on it in Christopher Graupner's concerto for trumpet, despite his heroic efforts and some very good passages, was largely of historical interest, for it is evidently a capricious instrument to control in pitch and flexibility.

Miss Fabrizio showed as usual that she can be depended on for a solid and audible continuo, notwithstanding the delicacy of the harpsichord, no matter how many musicians may be performing.

Tryouts Scheduled For Novato Play

Tryout dates for "The Bells Are Ringing," Broadway hit musical which is the next production of the Novato Community Club, were announced today by Arthur Bliss, director.

These will be held at 2 p.m., Jan. 8, and 7:30 p.m., Jan. 10, both at the community house, for the eight main roles, and five female and 16 male speaking parts in the show. Tryouts for dancers will be at 8 p.m., Jan. 5, at the Jean Hall dance studio at 1510 Grant Avenue. Scripts and vocal scores may be had from Mrs. Marilyn Casady at her home at 1419 Monte Maria.

Library Planning Additional Shows

A film program shown free to children last week by the Friends of the Larkspur Library drew such a crowd that the organization has scheduled two showings at this week's program Thursday.

The films, "White Mane," "The Princess and the Dragon," and "The Story of King Midas," will be shown at 1:30 and 2:45 in Larkspur City Hall.

Legal Machinery Questioned On Testing Baby Disease

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Laws in 36 states have been rushed through for the testing of babies for phenylketonuria, an inherited metabolic disease that has been associated with mental defects; they may be a mistake.

Dr. Samuel Bessman, a University of Maryland scientist, who has been doing research on PKU for nearly 20 years, has now come to the conclusion that not all individuals who have the untreated chemical syndrome are or will become mentally retarded.

He agrees that there is extensive evidence that the disease is inherited through a defective gene that controls the enzyme phenylalanine hydroxylase.

He also believes that lack of this enzyme results in accumulation of certain amino acids in the blood.

But he is not convinced that mental retardation in PKU patients is prevented by lowering high blood levels of phenyalanine through diets deficient in this amino acid, beginning at birth or early infancy.

More study is needed, he says in the New York Psychiatric Journal, before telling the public that an answer to the problem has been found. "We may be doing as much harm as good," he warns.

PKU is estimated to affect some 400 babies a year in the U. S.

Oil was discovered in Pennsylvania in 1859.

Underwater Lab For New Tests

HAMBURG, Germany (GF)— An underwater laboratory for space research, chiefly the study of the weightless condition, is planned by German scientists.

Measuring 29 feet long and eight feet wide, the laboratory is scheduled to be lowered to the bottom of the North Sea sometime next year.

The project, which is similar to those underway in the U.S., will lie on the sea bottom about 200 feet down off the coast of the island of Helgoland. The German Testing Institute for Air and Space Travel is in charge of the operation.

A group of scientists will man the 20-ton laboratory for a period of several months. Divers will be lowered to the laboratory and studied as they maneuver outside in a state simulating the weightlessness of space.

Hipsters Steal Cactus From British Garden

WASHINGTON (SS)—Someone has been stealing mescaline-producing cactus plants from the Royal Botanical Gardens in London. To prevent their further theft, the plants have been moved to a restricted area of the gardens.

But Britishers with a penchant for taking LSD-type "trips" can always get the cactus variety from one of several London florist shops, which will order the plant and promise delivery within days.

Something of the kind can also be done in this country. The peyote cactus — from which mescaline comes—can be bought from Southwest cactus growers, ostensibly only for horticultural purposes; the Food and Drug Administration does not control its sale.

One reason is that peyote, used by Indians as a rite in the Native American Church, has never spread far. It has an obnoxious taste and produces nausea, unless the mescaline is abstracted.

No action is being considered in England either. The problem is not yet big enough, according to a Scotland Yard drug spokesman.

But one cactus seller feels differently. Charles Gilbert, the only cacti exhibitor at the well-known Chelsea Flower Show, said if a customer asks for three or four of the plants, he refuses to sell.

"I suspect the person's interests. Anyone who chews this plant can develop grievances that become murderous," he said.

Mescaline was made famous by writer Aldous Huxley, who supposedly wrote a book under its influence.

Prisoners Offer To Go To Vietnam

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Rep. Clarence D. Long, D-Md., says he has received a letter from 386 of the prisoners at the Maryland Correctional Institution, in which they offer to fight in Vietnam.

Long said the Department of Defense has turned down the offers until the prisoners' terms have been completed.

Scuffle Reported At San Quentin

Boxing bouts at San Quentin Prison extended outside the ring Saturday, and two correctional officers were bruised in the scuffle, according to Business Mgr. Elmer L. Howell.

During the bouts some members of the ringside audience in the gymnasium got into a fight and Correctional Officers K. J. Slee and W. H. Woodside moved in to break it up, Howell said. In the process the officers were bruised.

Hipsters Steal Cactus From British Garden

WASHINGTON (SS)—Someone has been stealing mescaline-producing cactus plants from the Royal Botanical Gardens in London. To prevent their further theft, the plants have been moved to a restricted area of the gardens.

But Britishers with a penchant for taking LSD-type "trips" can always get the cactus variety from one of several London florist shops, which will order the plant and promise delivery within days.

Something of the kind can also be done in this country. The peyote cactus — from which mescaline comes—can be bought from Southwest cactus growers, ostensibly only for horticultural purposes; the Food and Drug Administration does not control its sale.

One reason is that peyote, used by Indians as a rite in the Native American Church, has never spread far. It has an obnoxious taste and produces nausea, unless the mescaline is abstracted.

No action is being considered in England either. The problem is not yet big enough, according to a Scotland Yard drug spokesman.

But one cactus seller feels differently. Charles Gilbert, the only cacti exhibitor at the well-known Chelsea Flower Show, said if a customer asks for three or four of the plants, he refuses to sell.

"I suspect the person's interests. Anyone who chews this plant can develop grievances that become murderous," he said.

Mescaline was made famous by writer Aldous Huxley, who supposedly wrote a book under its influence.

Prisoners Offer To Go To Vietnam

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Rep. Clarence D. Long, D-Md., says he has received a letter from 386 of the prisoners at the Maryland Correctional Institution, in which they offer to fight in Vietnam.

Long said the Department of Defense has turned down the offers until the prisoners' terms have been completed.

Scuffle Reported At San Quentin

Boxing bouts at San Quentin Prison extended outside the ring Saturday, and two correctional officers were bruised in the scuffle, according to Business Mgr. Elmer L. Howell.

During the bouts some members of the ringside audience in the gymnasium got into a fight and Correctional Officers K. J. Slee and W. H. Woodside moved in to break it up, Howell said. In the process the officers were bruised.

Winter's Freeze May Hurt The East's Drought Areas

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON — The oncoming winter freeze may "lock up" the six-year drought for another year in parts of northeastern United States.

Some states — Maine, Vermont, northern New Hampshire and parts of West Virginia — received enough rainfall this autumn to relieve the long drought, said Henry Barksdale, hydrologist with the U. S. Geological Survey.

Yet other states such as Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New York are still suffering from depleted water supplies. If no rain falls before winter sets in, these areas may have to face the drought extended through the winter into next spring. When the ground freezes, any additional water is unable to seep or percolate through the soil to recharge the underground supply of water that feeds streams, rivers, wells and reservoirs.

Autumn is the season during which considerable amounts of rain water are usually stored under the ground, explained Barksdale. This brief period of replenishment occurs after the growing season of plants, and before the winter freeze sets in.

The northeastern drought has taught people many lessons in water use and conservation. More attention is being paid to the sources of fresh water, to storage areas, and to distribution and use of this vital liquid in industry, agriculture and cities.

Greater care is being taken to keep tabs on water supplies, not only above surface but below the ground, where the largest amounts of fresh water are found, seeping slowly to the sea and constantly being replenished by precipitation.

Networks of observation wells are used to monitor the groundwater supply, said Barksdale. Many are conventional farm wells, but several new ones, only three or four inches in diameter, are being drilled and lined with steel pipe, plastic and even fiberglass.

Planners To Study Car-Washing Permit

An application for a conditional zoning permit to operate a self-service car-wash business between 1573 and 1581 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard by Donald K. Sherwood of San Rafael, will be considered by the Fairfax Planning Commission when it meets Thursday at 8 p.m. in the city council chambers.

Also on Thursday's agenda are a landscaping plan for the Mobil Oil Station at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Pacheco Avenue, and comments by the city administrator on annexations.

Maine was part of Massachusetts until 1820.

Winter's Freeze May Hurt The East's Drought Areas

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON — The oncoming winter freeze may "lock up" the six-year drought for another year in parts of northeastern United States.

Some states — Maine, Vermont, northern New Hampshire and parts of West Virginia — received enough rainfall this autumn to relieve the long drought, said Henry Barksdale, hydrologist with the U. S. Geological Survey.

Yet other states such as Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New York are still suffering from depleted water supplies. If no rain falls before winter sets in, these areas may have to face the drought extended through the winter into next spring. When the ground freezes, any additional water is unable to seep or percolate through the soil to recharge the underground supply of water that feeds streams, rivers, wells and reservoirs.

Autumn is the season during which considerable amounts of rain water are usually stored under the ground, explained Barksdale. This brief period of replenishment occurs after the growing season of plants, and before the winter freeze sets in.

The northeastern drought has taught people many lessons in water use and conservation. More attention is being paid to the sources of fresh water, to storage areas, and to distribution and use of this vital liquid in industry, agriculture and cities.

Greater care is being taken to keep tabs on water supplies, not only above surface but below the ground, where the largest amounts of fresh water are found, seeping slowly to the sea and constantly being replenished by precipitation.

Networks of observation wells are used to monitor the groundwater supply, said Barksdale. Many are conventional farm wells, but several new ones, only three or four inches in diameter, are being drilled and lined with steel pipe, plastic and even fiberglass.

Planners To Study Car-Washing Permit

An application for a conditional zoning permit to operate a self-service car-wash business between 1573 and 1581 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard by Donald K. Sherwood of San Rafael, will be considered by the Fairfax Planning Commission when it meets Thursday at 8 p.m. in the city council chambers.

Also on Thursday's agenda are a landscaping plan for the Mobil Oil Station at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Pacheco Avenue, and comments by the city administrator on annexations.

Maine was part of Massachusetts until 1820.

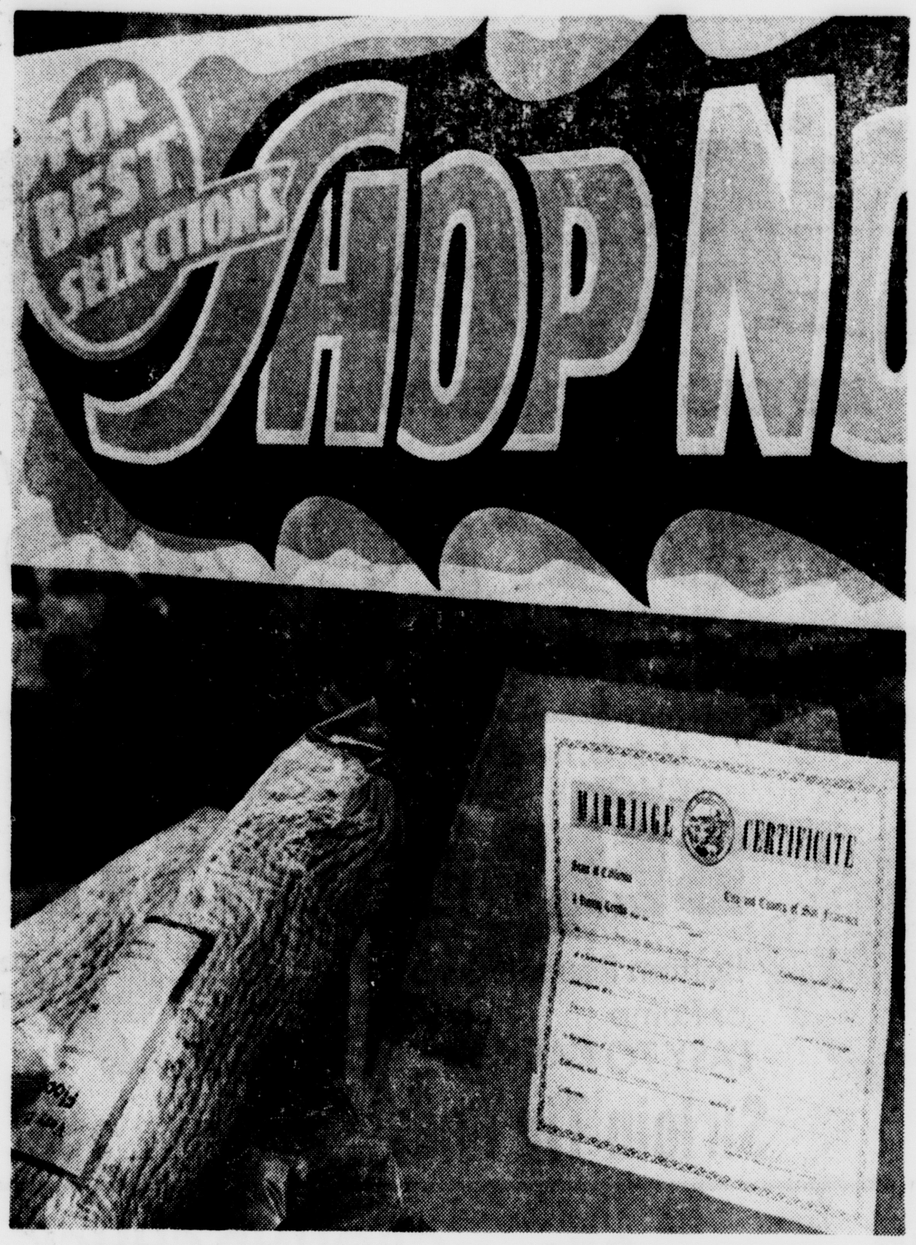
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION — SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1966 — 29



MOPHEADS AND MARRIAGE CERTIFICATE

Nestled amid mopheads in the window of the 188 Variety Store on Fourth Street, San Rafael is an original marriage certificate, found in the shop four months ago. Owner Joe Hok was unsuccessful in attempts to trace the couple, listed as James Ray Gifford and Paula Diane Snyder, so displayed the certificate in the window but it still hasn't been claimed. The marriage took place June 9, 1966, at Hamilton Air Force Base, and the witnesses were Cheryl Rasmussen and Richard Bruni, both of Novato.

A.F., Coast Guard Planes Hunt For Missing Family

Air Force and Coast Guard planes and a helicopter searched without success today for a twin-engine plane, missing in Mexico with eight members of a prominent Tiburon Peninsula family aboard.

Aboard the plane, which is feared to have crashed in Baja California between San Felipe and La Paz, are six members of a Tiburon family, Mr. and Mrs. Roger B. Dakin and four of their five children, Alexandria, 16; Zachery, 15; Matthew, 5, and Roger Jr., 4 months.

Also on the plane, reported overdue after it left San Diego last Tuesday, were Dakin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dakin of San Francisco, former residents of Belvedere.

It was flown by two crewmen from Executive Aviation Inc. at Oakland Airport, owner of the plane: Pilot Elton C. Stone and co-pilot Dennis Seitz, both of Alameda.

Samuel Dakin, 12, fifth child of the Roger Dakins, is on a ski holiday in Switzerland with family friends.

A plane and helicopter from San Diego criss-crossed an area south of San Felipe this morning after sketchy reports the plane may have crashed there.

An information officer for the Western Seach and Recovery Center at Hamilton Air Force Base, coordinator of the search, said Mexican amateur radio operators reported last night that the San Felipe Fire Department was making a ground search 35 miles south of the town after a report that plane wreckage had been sighted.

Crew of the search helicopter was unable to locate the town's fire chief for confirmation this morning. The copter and plane made a fruitless search of the area.

The Hamilton spokesman said the search is being concentrated south of San Felipe because of a third party report that the crew of a private plane reported radio contact with the Lockheed Lodestar 75 miles south of the seacoast community.

The plane, which Richard Dakin was considering buying, left Oakland Tuesday morning, stopped for fuel in San Diego, and took off at 1 p.m. for the three hour and 40 minute flight to San Lucas, southwest of La Paz and 775 miles from San Diego.

Executive Aviation, Inc., reported the plane missing Friday after friends in Mexico called to ask why the Dakins had not arrived.

Along with the craft searching near San Felipe, the coastal area was being searched by four planes, two each from the Air Force and Coast Guard, and some private planes.

The plane had a two-way radio aboard, but a check with 50 Mexican airfields in Baja California revealed no communication with the missing craft.

Richard Dakin, an importer, is board chairman of R. Dakin and Co., and president of the Franklin Hospital board in San Francisco.

While living in Belvedere he was trustee of a successful community effort to buy 26 acres of tidelands and deed them to the city.

He is a graduate of the University of Michigan with a degree in mechanical engineering.

His wife, Susanna Bryant Dakin, has written several biographical volumes and is secretary of the Council of Friends of the Bancroft Library, an honorary trustee of Scripps College, and a pioneer in the founder of the Pasadena Art Museum.

While living in Belvedere, she was active in the American Field Service foreign student program, and aided in the landscaping of Reed District school sites by matching funds raised by the Reed Parents Club.

Roger Dakin, who lives at 21 Tanfield Road, Tiburon, heads the family importing business, which specializes in dolls and stuffed toys. He is an amateur pilot.

The Richard Dakins have another son, Henry of Berkeley, and two daughters, Mrs. Halton Arp, and Mary, who is in India.

Youth Breaks Leg; Darts Into Vehicle

A Strawberry youth was in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with a broken leg after being hit by a car while running across Highway 101 yesterday.

California Highway Patrol commended driver Clark Howard Lybeck, 49, of Antioch for his defensive driving which averted a possible fatality. Lybeck saw three boys running across the highway as he drove northbound on the San Quentin Road approach to Highway 101 at 1:50 p.m. He braked the car.

Glenn Anthony Richardson, 16, of 50 Strawberry Drive, Mill Valley, a student at Marin Catholic High School, overran the divider and ran in front of his car, Lybeck told the patrol.

New Boy Scout Troop Formed

A new Boy Scout troop has been formed in San Anselmo under sponsorship of American Legion Post 179.

About 16 boys and their parents attended the inauguration meeting in the American Legion Log Cabin when the aims and purpose of the movement were explained by Boy Scout district executive Donald R. Wilson and his assistant, Jon E. Bagshaw.

The troop will hold its first executive committee meeting during January, according to an organizer Paul A. Hammer. A scoutmaster is to be appointed at that meeting.

Press Machine Injures Worker

A San Anselmo industrial worker suffered fractures of jaw and ribs yesterday when he was struck by several metal blocks which flew out of a press machine at the Bergman Manufacturing Co., 632 Irwin Street, San Rafael.

Allen W. Welsko, 30, of 89 Elm Avenue, San Anselmo, was reported in fair condition today in Marin General Hospital.

Police said the aluminum blocks, each weighing about 12 pounds, were being used to support a heavy machine when they flew loose.

Cobalt Drugs Are Withdrawn

OTTAWA (AP) — Federal authorities said today some drugs containing cobalt have been withdrawn from sale following tests aimed at finding an explanation for a number of deaths among heavy beer drinkers.

A Food and Drugs Directorate spokesman said the withdrawal was a precautionary step. There had been no reports of adverse reactions to the drugs, used mostly to treat minor conditions of anemia.

Withdrawal was prompted by preliminary evidence in laboratory animals of heart ailments similar to those discovered after the deaths of 18 beer drinkers in Quebec City last March.

Loggerhead sponges inhabiting coral reefs serve as tenements for small shrimp. One patient marine biologist counted 16,000 shrimp living in a single sponge.

Bonn Makes Exchange Of Prisoners

BONN, Germany (AP) — The government announced today that it had exchanged a former member of the Bundestag, convicted as a spy for Communist Czechoslovakia, for four prisoners — including a woman journalist — held by the Communists.

The exchange took place last Friday at Wartha, on the Iron Curtain border between East and West Germany.

The ex-legislator is Alfred Frenzel, 67, a Social Democrat sentenced to 15 years in prison in 1961.

The woman journalist involved in the exchange is Martina Kischke, 31, a woman's page editor on the Frankfurt Review. She had been held in the Soviet Union since last August, accused of espionage, but had never been tried. She had gone, according to the official story, to marry a Soviet engineer in Alma Ata.

The Justice Ministry refused to give any information on the others involved except that they had been sentenced to life imprisonment for "political activity."

Home Mortgage Interest Climbs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Interest rates on conventional home mortgages continued to rise during November but the Federal Home Loan Bank Board said today the peak may be near.

Although the November increase for new home mortgages was one of the largest of the year — from 6.32 per cent in October to 6.4 per cent in November — the rate on existing homes rose only slightly.

The board, which regulates the savings and loan industry, said the over-all slower rise in rates plus other evidence that more mortgage money is now available suggests interest rates may be near their peaks.

George Jessel is to make, for Paramount, his first movie in almost 10 years.

Clothiers Put Loss At $13,525

An estimated $13,525 in men's clothing, including 69 suits, was stolen from racks of Giovanni of Italy clothiers in Strawberry Town and Country Village Shopping Center, sheriff's officers said today.

Deputies said the owner, John C. Femino, reported he closed the shop at 5:45 p.m. Saturday. Early Sunday afternoon, a passer-by M. E. Denekas of 169 Stewart Drive, Tiburon, noticed the front door was pried open and informed officers.

Also taken were 59 men's sport coats, 11 bolts of cloth, and three all-weather coats, according to Femino.

Anthony Louis Lewgot, of 490 Calle De La Mesa, Loma Verde, told officers someone entered his home's open front door, and made off with $30 cash from a kitchen counter.

Argument Leads To Accident

An argument with her mother apparently caused a San Rafael woman to lose control of her car and crash into a tree last night on Lincoln Avenue, near Hamilton Court, San Rafael, police were told.

Martha M. Slopek, 21, of 325 Corrillo Drive, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a concussion and bruised left leg, while her mother, Mrs. Virginia Slopek of the same address, was treated for a cut face and bruised knees. The Slopeks told police they were arguing when the car veered across Lincoln Avenue and slammed into the tree shortly before 11 p.m.

Woman Is Stabbed During An Argument

Mrs. Dorothy Seals, 26, was stabbed twice in the neck during a fracas at her Marin City apartment last night but declined to press charges, sheriff's officers reported.

She was taken to Marin General Hospital for treatment, then released. Deputies said she told them she was arguing with her husband, Thomas Seals, at 259 Drake Avenue when he stabbed her with a kitchen knife.

Guilty Plea Made On Forgery Charge

David Joseph Crockett, 36, pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court today to forging a $146.79 check with intent to defraud Montgomery Ward and Co. in Corte Madera last April 16.

Judge Harold J. Haley scheduled sentencing for Jan. 23. Crockett, a transient, had waived preliminary hearing.

Los Angeles Man Booked For Burglary

A 32-year-old Los Angeles man, allegedly seen picking a coin box lock of a public telephone at Marin General Hospital, has been arrested on a felony charge of burglary, sheriff's officers said today.

Inspectors Guido Battaglia and Kenneth Irving said Los Angeles police arrested Wilbur Rodgers on a Marin Municipal Court warrant. He was released in Los Angeles on $2,750 bail pending arraignment on the charge here at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

Officers said Rodgers and a companion were seen looting the telephone box Nov. 27. A description of their automobile was also obtained, and a check revealed the vehcle was rented by Rodgers from a Los Angeles firm.

Battaglia said the companion, also of Los Angeles, is being sought.

Frost Covers Marin During Night; Low Temperatures

Frost hit Marin during the night as temperatures skidded into the 20s in some areas.

The Weather Bureau predicted sub-freezing temperatures in some areas again tonight, but said it would be warm this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon. A low of 30 was forecast for early tomorrow, following a high of 63 this afternoon.

Last night's chill — a county low of 24 was recorded in Woodacre spread frost throughout the county.

Other lows recorded last night were: Inverness, 25; Point Reyes Station and Novato, 28; Santa Venetia, and Ross, 32; San Anselmo, 33; Sausalito and Fairfax, 34, and San Rafael, 35.

Malicious Charge In Door Opening

Two men were charged with malicious mischief Saturday after the security guard at the Northgate Shopping Center observed them pulling open the locked doors of the Chrystal Room Lounge there.

Booked were William Foti, 22, of 15 Scenic Avenue, San Anselmo, and Sigmund K. Herzog, 25, of 1440 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

Caesar Taverna, part owner of the bar, estimated damage to the doors at $1,000.

Police Find Stolen Auto This Morning

A car, stolen during the night in Novato, was recovered this morning in Novato Fair Shopping Center in the possession of four juveniles who were booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall.

The 1960 Valiant station wagon was taken from the driveway of its owner, Jeff McAndrew, at 50 Grande Vista, according to Novato police.

Driver Examined For Auto Injuries

Jack Arthur Kuhlman, 42, of 167 Park Street, San Rafael, was examined at Marin general Hospital Friday after his car hit the rear of a tractor-trailer combination driven by Richard Hoffman Latimer, 43, of Aracata, Humboldt County, at 3:45 a.m.

Both eastbound vehicles were crossing the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge at high speed, according to California Highway Patrol.

Marinite Hurt In Auto Crash

Emily Bowman, 25, of 83 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, was listed in good condition today in Trinity Hospital, Arcata, with injuries suffered in an auto accident on Highway 101 near Commings, Mendocino County, Saturday.

California Highway Patrol in Eureka said today she was a passenger in a car driven northbound by her husband, Ronald G. Bowman, 26.

The car crossed the center line and collided with a truck-trailer coming in the opposite direction, reported the highway patrol.

Mrs. Bowman suffered severe cuts to her left leg and her husband, minor bruises.

Constable Does Well, Gets 11-Cent Raise

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI)—One county official had to get two raises to make as much as $1.11 per year. When Ronald Slover served as a county constable, the job paid $1 a year. He took the post mostly as political experience.

County officials must have thought he was doing well—they gave him one raise of 10 per cent, making it $1.10 a year(and then another of 10 per cent of the original 10 per cent, making it $1.11.

In winter an improperly dressed person will feel about as much pain at plus 40 degrees as at 40 degrees below zero.

Shotguns Taken For Duck Hunting

Corte Madera police confiscated three shotguns from two men and a teen-age boy from Redwood City and charged them with shooting ducks near Paradise Drive at 12:15 a.m. Christmas Day.

Police allowed Frederick Tribble and Tony Kuklis to keep two dead ducks.

Young Bicyclist Hurt In Accident

A young Bolinas bicyclist suffered minor injuries yesterday when she rode her bicycle out of a private driveway at 5:15 p.m. and hit a car driven by Robert Hardin Tuck, 40, of 74 Marina Court, San Rafael, northbound on Wharf Road.

Chryl Angela Rempelos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Rempelos of Bolinas, refused hospitalization.

Personnel Rules, Salaries On Tap

The Novato City Council will discuss salaries and review personnel rules when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

Also included on the short agenda are discussion of the celebration for the seventh anniversary of the city's incorporation, the junior chamber of commerce community attitude survey, and a report on inventory of the city's capital equipment.

Cuba Will Increase Its Bulgarian Trade

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A new agreement calls for a 22 per cent increase in trade between Cuba and Bulgaria, Havana radio reports.

The report said Cuba will ship sugar and molasses to the Eastern European country and will receive in turn farm machinery, canned foods and other industrial products.

MOPHEADS AND MARRIAGE CERTIFICATE

Nestled amid mopheads in the window of the 188 Variety Store on Fourth Street, San Rafael is an original marriage certificate, found in the shop four months ago. Owner Joe Hok was unsuccessful in attempts to trace the couple, listed as James Ray Gifford and Paula Diane Snyder, so displayed the certificate in the window but it still hasn't been claimed. The marriage took place June 9, 1966, at Hamilton Air Force Base, and the witnesses were Cheryl Rasmussen and Richard Bruni, both of Novato.

A.F., Coast Guard Planes Hunt For Missing Family

Air Force and Coast Guard planes and a helicopter searched without success today for a twin-engine plane, missing in Mexico with eight members of a prominent Tiburon Peninsula family aboard.

Aboard the plane, which is feared to have crashed in Baja California between San Felipe and La Paz, are six members of a Tiburon family, Mr. and Mrs. Roger B. Dakin and four of their five children, Alexandria, 16; Zachery, 15; Matthew, 5, and Roger Jr., 4 months.

Also on the plane, reported overdue after it left San Diego last Tuesday, were Dakin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dakin of San Francisco, former residents of Belvedere.

It was flown by two crewmen from Executive Aviation Inc. at Oakland Airport, owner of the plane: Pilot Elton C. Stone and co-pilot Dennis Seitz, both of Alameda.

Samuel Dakin, 12, fifth child of the Roger Dakins, is on a ski holiday in Switzerland with family friends.

A plane and helicopter from San Diego criss-crossed an area south of San Felipe this morning after sketchy reports the plane may have crashed there.

An information officer for the Western Seach and Recovery Center at Hamilton Air Force Base, coordinator of the search, said Mexican amateur radio operators reported last night that the San Felipe Fire Department was making a ground search 35 miles south of the town after a report that plane wreckage had been sighted.

Crew of the search helicopter was unable to locate the town's fire chief for confirmation this morning. The copter and plane made a fruitless search of the area.

The Hamilton spokesman said the search is being concentrated south of San Felipe because of a third party report that the crew of a private plane reported radio contact with the Lockheed Lodestar 75 miles south of the seacoast community.

The plane, which Richard Dakin was considering buying, left Oakland Tuesday morning, stopped for fuel in San Diego, and took off at 1 p.m. for the three hour and 40 minute flight to San Lucas, southwest of La Paz and 775 miles from San Diego.

Executive Aviation, Inc., reported the plane missing Friday after friends in Mexico called to ask why the Dakins had not arrived.

Hawaiians Still Keep Alive Tales Of Volcano Goddess

By SCIENCE SERVICE

Caught in the tree branches or bunched in wind-protected crannies behind rocks or doorsteps of Hawaii are fine glassy strands of volcanic lava, often called Pele's hair—the long fine tresses of the Polynesian goddess of fire and volcanoes.

Hawaii has two active volcanoes—Mauna Loa and Kilauea. These volcanoes often erupt with spectacular fountains of fiery lava, spurting as high as 1,000 feet in the air. Sometimes jets of steam blast from the volcano's throat and blow the lava into fine strands of material resembling spun glass, which the winds pick up and blow across the island. Pele's hair is identical with varieties of "rock wool" which are manufactured by blowing a jet of steam into a stream of molten rock.

In one of the few legends remaining alive in the world, Hawaiians tell how the long-haired Pele searched one island after another to find a suitable home, finally settling in the bubbling cauldron of Kilauea on the main island of Hawaii. People today still say they see Pele's face in the eruptions of liquid lava, which are mild and often beautiful because she is participating in them—but which are scientifically mild because this type of volcano erupts with a relatively mild and gentle release of gas vapor.

On this volcanic island, certain small mineral crystals, called feldspar phenocrysts by geologists, are known locally as Pele's diamonds and are treasured as semi-precious stones.

Hawaii is composed of the largest mass of volcanic material in the world, rising nearly 29,000 feet high from the ocean floor to the tip of the highest crater—nearly 14,000 feet above sea level. Mauna Loa has been erupting quietly and consistently, shooting up fountains of fiery lava or spreading slow flowing rivers of dark viscous lava as wide as a mile and as long as 40 miles, sometimes running into the ocean.

Kilauea, the home of Pele, is an oval pit about four square miles in area, with walls about 500 feet high. Although, it is an independent volcano and older than Mauna Loa, Kilauea is merely a hole in the side of the latter at an elevation of 4,000 feet.

Ballet Star's Husband Heads For Post Again

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Roberto Arias, husband of British ballerina Margot Fonteyn, headed home to Panama today for the first time since he was shot four times and paralyzed by a political rival more than two years ago.

Dame Margot and Arias' 18-year-old son, Roberto, accompanied him.

"I will have to return in a week because I have engagements in London," she said, "but my husband hopes to take his seat as a deputy in the National Assembly. If he does, he will probably stay until the assembly ends on Jan. 31."

Arias, 48, a former Panamanian ambassador in London, was elected deputy for a four-year term shortly before he was shot on June 12, 1964.

Live Weapon Takes Life Of Daughter

GRIFFIN, Ga. (AP) — Denice Marie Sanders, 7, ran up to her father and said teasingly, "Shoot me, Daddy."

A few hours later she was dead. The gun her father had held was not a weapon loaded with blanks, as he had believed, but a similar gun, loaded with live ammunition.

Sheriff Dwayne Gilbert said the coroner ruled that the slaying was an accident, and no charges will be filed.

The holiday tragedy occurred yesterday at the home of Chester Wright, where Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Sanders of Griffin, and their daughter, Denice, were visiting.

Spalding County Deputy Sheriff Gray Pinson said Wright had two 22-caliber pistols, one loaded with cartridges and the other with blanks.

Sanders picked up the live ammunition weapon, thinking it was the one with blanks, the deputy said. The girl ran to her father and said, "Shoot me, Daddy," Pinson related.

Wright, realizing that Sanders had the wrong gun, shouted and attempted to grab Sanders' arm, said Pinson. But the gun discharged, the bullet hitting Denice in the chest.

The girl was taken to a hospital but efforts to save her were futile. She died a few hours after the shooting.

Youth Held As Slaying Suspect

FULLERTON (AP) — Police say they have booked a 14-year-old boy on suspicion of murder and arson in connection with two fires and two deaths in Fullerton.

A police spokesman said Robert John Doyle, a Fullerton junior high school student, was arrested last night in connection with a pre-dawn fire at a house on Woodcrest Avenue and at the Orangethrope Christian Church.

Phillip Anthony Gomez, 19, and Pamela Faye, 12, died in the house fire, in which a 26-year-old mother rescued three other youngsters. One of those rescued is in critical condition at a Santa Ana hospital.

The Doyle boy will be taken to juvenile court which will decide the disposition of the case, police said.

Daniel Boone is buried in the Franklin Cemetery at Frankfort, Ky.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA EXTENSION
DAYTIME CLASSES FOR ADULTS IN MARIN
WINTER TERM
JANUARY - MARCH 1967

Enrollment is open now for University Extension's Winter Term program of daytime classes for adults in Marin. Classes are scheduled to begin during the first two weeks of January.

To enroll, fill out and mail the application form provided below, or bring the form with you to the first meeting of your class. You are welcome to visit the first session of a class without obligation if you would like to attend a meeting before deciding to enroll. (For classes marked "enrollment limited," an advance inquiry is strongly recommended.)

A detailed description of each course, with scheduling and fee information, is given below. Class meetings will be held once a week through the week of March 20, unless otherwise noted.

For further information please call 924-5611. Information is also available from Daytime Program offices in San Francisco, 861-5452.

Hawaiians Still Keep Alive Tales Of Volcano Goddess

By SCIENCE SERVICE

Caught in the tree branches or bunched in wind-protected crannies behind rocks or doorsteps of Hawaii are fine glassy strands of volcanic lava, often called Pele's hair—the long fine tresses of the Polynesian goddess of fire and volcanoes.

Hawaii has two active volcanoes—Mauna Loa and Kilauea. These volcanoes often erupt with spectacular fountains of fiery lava, spurting as high as 1,000 feet in the air. Sometimes jets of steam blast from the volcano's throat and blow the lava into fine strands of material resembling spun glass, which the winds pick up and blow across the island. Pele's hair is identical with varieties of "rock wool" which are manufactured by blowing a jet of steam into a stream of molten rock.

In one of the few legends remaining alive in the world, Hawaiians tell how the long-haired Pele searched one island after another to find a suitable home, finally settling in the bubbling cauldron of Kilauea on the main island of Hawaii. People today still say they see Pele's face in the eruptions of liquid lava, which are mild and often beautiful because she is participating in them—but which are scientifically mild because this type of volcano erupts with a relatively mild and gentle release of gas vapor.

On this volcanic island, certain small mineral crystals, called feldspar phenocrysts by geologists, are known locally as Pele's diamonds and are treasured as semi-precious stones.

Hawaii is composed of the largest mass of volcanic material in the world, rising nearly 29,000 feet high from the ocean floor to the tip of the highest crater—nearly 14,000 feet above sea level. Mauna Loa has been erupting quietly and consistently, shooting up fountains of fiery lava or spreading slow flowing rivers of dark viscous lava as wide as a mile and as long as 40 miles, sometimes running into the ocean.

Kilauea, the home of Pele, is an oval pit about four square miles in area, with walls about 500 feet high. Although, it is an independent volcano and older than Mauna Loa, Kilauea is merely a hole in the side of the latter at an elevation of 4,000 feet.

Ballet Star's Husband Heads For Post Again

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Roberto Arias, husband of British ballerina Margot Fonteyn, headed home to Panama today for the first time since he was shot four times and paralyzed by a political rival more than two years ago.

Dame Margot and Arias' 18-year-old son, Roberto, accompanied him.

"I will have to return in a week because I have engagements in London," she said, "but my husband hopes to take his seat as a deputy in the National Assembly. If he does, he will probably stay until the assembly ends on Jan. 31."

Arias, 48, a former Panamanian ambassador in London, was elected deputy for a four-year term shortly before he was shot on June 12, 1964.

Live Weapon Takes Life Of Daughter

GRIFFIN, Ga. (AP) — Denice Marie Sanders, 7, ran up to her father and said teasingly, "Shoot me, Daddy."

A few hours later she was dead. The gun her father had held was not a weapon loaded with blanks, as he had believed, but a similar gun, loaded with live ammunition.

Sheriff Dwayne Gilbert said the coroner ruled that the slaying was an accident, and no charges will be filed.

The holiday tragedy occurred yesterday at the home of Chester Wright, where Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Sanders of Griffin, and their daughter, Denice, were visiting.

Spalding County Deputy Sheriff Gray Pinson said Wright had two 22-caliber pistols, one loaded with cartridges and the other with blanks.

Sanders picked up the live ammunition weapon, thinking it was the one with blanks, the deputy said. The girl ran to her father and said, "Shoot me, Daddy," Pinson related.

Wright, realizing that Sanders had the wrong gun, shouted and attempted to grab Sanders' arm, said Pinson. But the gun discharged, the bullet hitting Denice in the chest.

The girl was taken to a hospital but efforts to save her were futile. She died a few hours after the shooting.

Youth Held As Slaying Suspect

FULLERTON (AP) — Police say they have booked a 14-year-old boy on suspicion of murder and arson in connection with two fires and two deaths in Fullerton.

A police spokesman said Robert John Doyle, a Fullerton junior high school student, was arrested last night in connection with a pre-dawn fire at a house on Woodcrest Avenue and at the Orangethrope Christian Church.

Phillip Anthony Gomez, 19, and Pamela Faye, 12, died in the house fire, in which a 26-year-old mother rescued three other youngsters. One of those rescued is in critical condition at a Santa Ana hospital.

The Doyle boy will be taken to juvenile court which will decide the disposition of the case, police said.

Daniel Boone is buried in the Franklin Cemetery at Frankfort, Ky.

East Banning West's Television Programs

BERLIN, Germany (GF) — Red leaders in Leipzig, largest city in the Soviet Zone of Germany, have moved to halt local citizens once and for all from watching TV programs beamed from the western half of the divided country. Under the provisions of a new "antenna regulation" written into the city code, inspectors will be around each time a new TV set is installed in a Leipziger's home to ascertain the antenna doesn't face the "wrong" direction.

The regulation also provides for inspection of antennas already up, with the promise that those facing the West will be removed.

Programs televised by stations in the Federal Republic of Germany and eagerly viewed beyond the Communist border have been a pain to Red German authorities for years. It is estimated that one out of every two Germans with TV in the Soviet Zone are regular viewers of the Western programs.

Members of the Zone's Communist Youth Group (FDJ) fanned out tearing down thousands of TV antennas facing the West following construction of the Berlin Wall August 13, 1961. In many cases, television sets were hauled from the homes of those who watched Western programs.

The youths, however, ran into stiff opposition among the population and party leaders soon halted the campaign and instead appealed to the "political conscience" of citizens.

The appeals have also worked out discouragingly for the Reds. Today, approximately two-thirds of all TV homes in the Zone can pick up programs from the West and most take advantage of the opportunity.

Because of certain protest, party leaders have so far declined to ban Western TV viewing in the Zone. But the new "antenna regulation" is a move in that direction. Instead of a general ban throughout the Zone, such regulations would hit one community after the other with hopes TV families will slowly grow accustomed to a steady diet of Communist TV.

Walnuts from France, estimated to be 33,000 short tons will be 65 per cent above last year's very poor crop and 15 per cent above average.

Germans Assist Other Nations

BONN, Germany (GF) — With 325 million dollars contributed this year for agricultural projects in underdeveloped countries, Bonn will have boosted its total aid so far to 4.25 billion dollars.

Currently, there are 300 German experts serving as consultants in about 40 underdeveloped countries. They are working on a total 80 projects in the agricultural sector.

The major portion of assistance — 35 per cent — has gone to African nations. Southern European nations, including Turkey, account for an other 25 per cent and one-fifth has gone to South America.

Programs televised by stations in the Federal Republic of Germany and eagerly viewed beyond the Communist border have been a pain to Red German authorities for years. It is estimated that one out of every two Germans with TV in the Soviet Zone are regular viewers of the Western programs.

Members of the Zone's Communist Youth Group (FDJ) fanned out tearing down thousands of TV antennas facing the West following construction of the Berlin Wall August 13, 1961. In many cases, television sets were hauled from the homes of those who watched Western programs.

The youths, however, ran into stiff opposition among the population and party leaders soon halted the campaign and instead appealed to the "political conscience" of citizens.

The appeals have also worked out discouragingly for the Reds. Today, approximately two-thirds of all TV homes in the Zone can pick up programs from the West and most take advantage of the opportunity.

Because of certain protest, party leaders have so far declined to ban Western TV viewing in the Zone. But the new "antenna regulation" is a move in that direction. Instead of a general ban throughout the Zone, such regulations would hit one community after the other with hopes TV families will slowly grow accustomed to a steady diet of Communist TV.

Germans Assist Other Nations

BONN, Germany (GF) — With 325 million dollars contributed this year for agricultural projects in underdeveloped countries, Bonn will have boosted its total aid so far to 4.25 billion dollars.

Currently, there are 300 German experts serving as consultants in about 40 underdeveloped countries. They are working on a total 80 projects in the agricultural sector.

The major portion of assistance — 35 per cent — has gone to African nations. Southern European nations, including Turkey, account for an other 25 per cent and one-fifth has gone to South America.

Accident Claims Four In Family

SALOME, Ariz. (UPI)— Four members of a California family died yesterday in a fiery two-vehicle accident four miles west of here on U.S. 60-70.

The victims were identified as Robert A. Kovach Jr., 51, Arleta, Calif., his wife, Ann May, 40, and their two children, Robert, 10, and William, 7.

The Arizona Highway Patrol said they were killed when their auto skidded out of control on the rain-slick highway and collided with a truck-trailer rig, driven by Alpha Lee Skinner, 41, Yucaipa, Calif. He was not injured seriously, but was hospitalized in Wickenburg, Ariz.

Both vehicles burst into flames following the accident, according to investigators.

Christmas Gifts Theft Is Reported

A San Francisco visitor to Marin didn't have a very merry Christmas Eve when someone stole Christmas gifts from the trunk of his car while he was having dinner at Sabella's restaurant, 555 Redwood Highway, Alto.

Charles A. Hines reported to the sheriff's office that someone took the gifts, valued at $263.40, between 6 and 7:30 p.m. while he was in the restaurant.

Scientists Watching Formation Of Star

WASHINGTON (SS) — Astronomers have postulated the formation of stars and solar system by the slow coagulations of interstellar matter.

They've calculated the energy transformations and physical processes needed to turn interstellar hydrogen gas into a star and circumstellar dust into planets.

But despite the intensifying search for evidence of such phenomena in recent years, it has never been found — perhaps up to now.

Scientists at the Lunar and Planetary Laboratory of the University of Arizona now believe they have detected for the first time what is probably a star and its planets in the process of formation.

The object under observation is R. Monocerotis, a bright, twelfth magnitude object at the head of Hubble's Variable Nebula, north of the constellation Orion, about 2,000 light years from the earth.

R. Monocerotis is distinguished by an excessively large infrared emission. Previous observers had suggested that the emission was caused by an undiscovered infrared companion star.

If R. Monocerotis is in fact a new planet being formed, its discovery supports the current theory of the origin of stellar-planetary systems.

The theory holds that solar systems originate with a concentration in space of hydrogen gas and dust. As the hydrogen contracts and begins to burn, the dust envelops the central core, spinning around its "sun" and eventually forming the planets of the system.

The energy released in this process is believed to be what was seen by the Arizona scientists, Dr. Frank J. Low and Bruce J. Smith of Rice University in Houston, Texas.

The composition of the dust particles surrounding the star is unknown, but a major component may be graphite or a similar carbon substance. Ice could be a constituent of the envelope, although not a major one. The mass of the dust cloud is about one-fourth of the sun's planetary system.

The discovery that infrared emissions may indicate stellar systems in formation has led Dr. Low and his associates to search for other infrared stars with similar properties.

Working at the Lunar and Planetary Laboratory under grants from the National Science Foundation and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, they have located at least 10 other protostars, some with dust envelopes so thick that they emit no visible light at all.

If enough protostars can be discovered in different stages of development, according to Dr. Low, the evolution of sun-like stars and their planets, including our own solar system, can be studied in detail.

Cuban Troops On The Move

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Recently created shock troops described by exiles as similar to China's Red Guards are reported on the move in Cuba.

The units, officially called Youth Technical Brigades, reportedly have the dual role of serving as technicians in industries and on farms and making certain the workers are good producers and good Communists.

The official Havana newspaper Granma, which reaches some exiles, quoted Cuban Labor Confederation Secretary-General Miguel Martin as describing the brigades as "a shock troop against indolence, disorganization and lack of discipline."

Women who get arthritis after the menopause usually have a relatively mild, self-arresting form which is limited to the hands.

Soviets Report Test On Moon

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Unions' second unmanned spaceship to make a soft landing on the moon "has tested the firmness and density of lunar ground," Tass says.

Besides transmitting fresh pictures back to earth, Luna 13 has forced a test rod into the lunar soil by means of mechanical manipulators, the Soviet news agency reported Monday. It said the rod will indicate surface and subsoil firmness.

Tass said the spaceship, which landed Saturday, also contained a radiation density meter to provide information about the firmness of the top layer of the moon's crust.

The flight of Mariner IV was the first successful mission to Mars, resulting in the first close-up pictures of the cratered planet's surface.

Petrini's Greenbrae

In this great world, so beautifully created and so ruthlessly mistreated by some, let us, in this New Year, redouble our efforts and our prayers so that the Divine Creator will illuminate the minds and guide responsible leaders to the paths of peace and love.

You Should know these FACTS about HOME BUYING in today's market . . .

REAL ESTATE OWNERSHIP IS YOUR BEST HEDGE AGAINST INFLATION!

The dollars you invest in a home are a sound investment, because certain economists predict that real estate prices may be up as much as 20% by 1970. If inflationary trends continue, the value of your property will increase correspondingly. The demand for homes is expected to continue because of our rapid population growth. Many good buys are available to home buyers now. This is a GOOD time to buy.

REMEMBER: Multiple Listing is the fastest way to find the home of your choice . . . Ask your Realtor!

You Should know these FACTS about HOME BUYING in today's market . . .

REAL ESTATE OWNERSHIP IS YOUR BEST HEDGE AGAINST INFLATION!

The dollars you invest in a home are a sound investment, because certain economists predict that real estate prices may be up as much as 20% by 1970. If inflationary trends continue, the value of your property will increase correspondingly. The demand for homes is expected to continue because of our rapid population growth. Many good buys are available to home buyers now. This is a GOOD time to buy.

REMEMBER: Multiple Listing is the fastest way to find the home of your choice . . . Ask your Realtor!

SECTION A
NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
Bid No. 257-A
(Advertisement)

1. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the San Rafael School District of Marin County will receive bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, transportation and services for the construction of the 1966 Additions to Coleman School, consisting of one two story building, appurtenant facilities and site improvements, at Rafael Drive and Belle Avenue, San Rafael, California.

2. Each bid to be in accordance with the plans and specifications now on file with Richard C. Marshall, Chester Bowles, Jr., Architects, A.I.A., 1045 Sansome Street, San Francisco, California, where the same may be examined and copies obtained upon deposit of ($25.00) (twenty-five) dollars per set, which deposit will be refunded upon the return of such copies in good condition within five days after the bids are opened.

3. Each bid shall be made on a form to be supplied by the Architect, and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check in the amount of $7,000.00 or a Bid Bond in the amount of 10% of the total contract price made payable to the order of the San Rafael Clerk of the Board whose address will be Third and E Streets, San Rafael, California, prior to 11:00 A.M., January 10, 1967 at which time they will be publicly opened and declared.

4. The above-mentioned check will be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract if awarded the work and will be retained by the District as agreed and liquidated damages if the successful bidder fails or refuses to enter into said contract or to furnish the necessary bonds after being requested to do so by the Board of Education of the San Rafael School District.

5. The successful bidder will be required to furnish a labor and material bond in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price in accordance with the contract documents.

6. Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California, the Board of Education of the San Rafael School Distirct has ascertained the prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which this work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract, which will be awarded to the successful bidder.

7. Eight hours shall constitute a work day unless otherwise specified on the union scale. The hourly wage rate prescribed is the per diem rate divided by the aforementioned number of hours constituting a work day.

8. Attention is directed to Section 4100 through 4113 of the Government Code concerning sub-contractors.

9. The wage scale referred to hereinabove is Section I of the Contract Documents.

10. The Board of Education of the San Rafael School District reserves the right to reject any and all bids or any alternate or unit price and/or waive any informality or irregularity in any bid received.

11. A Pre-Bid Conference will be held at the office of the Architects, 1045 Sansome Street, San Francisco, California on January 5, 1967 at 10:00 A.M. The purpose of the Conference is to familiarize each prospective bidder with the plans and specifications. If necessary, addenda will be issued by the Architect following the Conference in accordance with the General Conditions for the work.

12. There shall be no discrimination because of race, color, creed or political affiliation in the employment of persons for work under this contract.

BY ORDER OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE SAN RAFAEL SCHOOL DISTRICT
Dated: December 23, 1966

SECTION A
NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
Bid No. 257-A
(Advertisement)

1. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the San Rafael School District of Marin County will receive bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, transportation and services for the construction of the 1966 Additions to Coleman School, consisting of one two story building, appurtenant facilities and site improvements, at Rafael Drive and Belle Avenue, San Rafael, California.

2. Each bid to be in accordance with the plans and specifications now on file with Richard C. Marshall, Chester Bowles, Jr., Architects, A.I.A., 1045 Sansome Street, San Francisco, California, where the same may be examined and copies obtained upon deposit of ($25.00) (twenty-five) dollars per set, which deposit will be refunded upon the return of such copies in good condition within five days after the bids are opened.

3. Each bid shall be made on a form to be supplied by the Architect, and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check in the amount of $7,000.00 or a Bid Bond in the amount of 10% of the total contract price made payable to the order of the San Rafael Clerk of the Board whose address will be Third and E Streets, San Rafael, California, prior to 11:00 A.M., January 10, 1967 at which time they will be publicly opened and declared.

4. The above-mentioned check will be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract if awarded the work and will be retained by the District as agreed and liquidated damages if the successful bidder fails or refuses to enter into said contract or to furnish the necessary bonds after being requested to do so by the Board of Education of the San Rafael School District.

5. The successful bidder will be required to furnish a labor and material bond in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price in accordance with the contract documents.

6. Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California, the Board of Education of the San Rafael School Distirct has ascertained the prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which this work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract, which will be awarded to the successful bidder.

7. Eight hours shall constitute a work day unless otherwise specified on the union scale. The hourly wage rate prescribed is the per diem rate divided by the aforementioned number of hours constituting a work day.

8. Attention is directed to Section 4100 through 4113 of the Government Code concerning sub-contractors.

9. The wage scale referred to hereinabove is Section I of the Contract Documents.

10. The Board of Education of the San Rafael School District reserves the right to reject any and all bids or any alternate or unit price and/or waive any informality or irregularity in any bid received.

11. A Pre-Bid Conference will be held at the office of the Architects, 1045 Sansome Street, San Francisco, California on January 5, 1967 at 10:00 A.M. The purpose of the Conference is to familiarize each prospective bidder with the plans and specifications. If necessary, addenda will be issued by the Architect following the Conference in accordance with the General Conditions for the work.

12. There shall be no discrimination because of race, color, creed or political affiliation in the employment of persons for work under this contract.

BY ORDER OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE SAN RAFAEL SCHOOL DISTRICT
Dated: December 23, 1966

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Waitnig Period To Operate On Cataracts Is Out Now

VAN DELLEN

Everyone who lives long enough is likely to develop cataracts. Changes in the lens are noted in 90 per cent of persons over 65 years of age but only a small number will lose enough vision to warrant surgery. The operation is safe and the risk is practically nil.

A cataract is haziness of the lens. The cloudiness begins slowly and in time the lens become completely opaque except to strong light. The senile cataract tends to develop more quickly when the health of the individual is not good, when his diet is faulty, or some focus of infection is present. This is why a complete physical examination is suggested whenever a cataract is in the making.

IN THE PAST, it was considered essential to wait until the cataract ripened. Meanwhile the victim spent several years of increasingly gloomy vision. Today surgery is done when the victim loses practical vision. This varies in different individuals depending upon their needs but cataract extraction is not advisable in the elderly so long as they see well enough to get along.

The modern technique of cataract removal entails very little discomfort and the individual is up and about when the effects of sedation abate. The procedure is geared to oldsters and can be done safely even though the person has a high blood pressure, diabetes, or heart disease.

SOME OPHTHALMOLOGISTS now use cryoextraction — a well-known freezing technique. When a super-cold object touches a moist surface, ice particles form to fuse the two. The eye is anesthetized and an incision is made along the outer aspect of the orbit. The tip of the frozen instrument is applied to the moist surface of the lens and an ice mass is formed immediately that fuses the cataract to the extractor. The tip is withdrawn with a gentle twisting movement and the incision is closed. The lens can also be removed with a forceps.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

RECOVERY PERIOD

Mrs. O. O. writes: How long does it take to regain strength after having pneumonia and a baby?

REPLY

Recovery from both should occur simultaneously. The interval required after confinement varies from a few hours to a few weeks, and convalescence from pneumonia may take a month. Penicillin and the other antibiotics have helped considerably to hasten convelescence from this respiratory disease.

FALLING ASLEEP

G. W. writes: It takes me an hour or more to fall asleep at night. Have you any suggestions about curing this condition?

REPLY

There are many helpful procedures to cure this type of insomnia and we have incorporated some of them into our leaflet on insomnia, which may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TV AND RADIATION

V. S. writes: Is there any danger of being hurt by radiation from TV if you watch it for long periods of time?

REPLY

No. There is no more danger from the TV screen than from any other light. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on television and the eyes.

SKIN SHEDS OFTEN

K. M. writes: Does the skin in human beings change every seven years?

REPLY

The skin sheds constantly and changes many times in a seven year period.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Waitnig Period To Operate On Cataracts Is Out Now

VAN DELLEN

Everyone who lives long enough is likely to develop cataracts. Changes in the lens are noted in 90 per cent of persons over 65 years of age but only a small number will lose enough vision to warrant surgery. The operation is safe and the risk is practically nil.

A cataract is haziness of the lens. The cloudiness begins slowly and in time the lens become completely opaque except to strong light. The senile cataract tends to develop more quickly when the health of the individual is not good, when his diet is faulty, or some focus of infection is present. This is why a complete physical examination is suggested whenever a cataract is in the making.

IN THE PAST, it was considered essential to wait until the cataract ripened. Meanwhile the victim spent several years of increasingly gloomy vision. Today surgery is done when the victim loses practical vision. This varies in different individuals depending upon their needs but cataract extraction is not advisable in the elderly so long as they see well enough to get along.

The modern technique of cataract removal entails very little discomfort and the individual is up and about when the effects of sedation abate. The procedure is geared to oldsters and can be done safely even though the person has a high blood pressure, diabetes, or heart disease.

SOME OPHTHALMOLOGISTS now use cryoextraction — a well-known freezing technique. When a super-cold object touches a moist surface, ice particles form to fuse the two. The eye is anesthetized and an incision is made along the outer aspect of the orbit. The tip of the frozen instrument is applied to the moist surface of the lens and an ice mass is formed immediately that fuses the cataract to the extractor. The tip is withdrawn with a gentle twisting movement and the incision is closed. The lens can also be removed with a forceps.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

RECOVERY PERIOD

Mrs. O. O. writes: How long does it take to regain strength after having pneumonia and a baby?

REPLY

Recovery from both should occur simultaneously. The interval required after confinement varies from a few hours to a few weeks, and convalescence from pneumonia may take a month. Penicillin and the other antibiotics have helped considerably to hasten convelescence from this respiratory disease.

FALLING ASLEEP

G. W. writes: It takes me an hour or more to fall asleep at night. Have you any suggestions about curing this condition?

REPLY

There are many helpful procedures to cure this type of insomnia and we have incorporated some of them into our leaflet on insomnia, which may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TV AND RADIATION

V. S. writes: Is there any danger of being hurt by radiation from TV if you watch it for long periods of time?

REPLY

No. There is no more danger from the TV screen than from any other light. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on television and the eyes.

SKIN SHEDS OFTEN

K. M. writes: Does the skin in human beings change every seven years?

REPLY

The skin sheds constantly and changes many times in a seven year period.

Today's Health Hint — Eating habits should be guided by common sense.

Cold May Assist In Preventing Brain Damage

LONDON (SS) — The brain may survive oxygen deprivation if the body temperature is lowered.

Two researchers in the I. P. Pavlov Institute of Physiology, Leningrad, report research on rats in the Dec. 10 issue of Nature, here.

It is well known that deficiency of oxygen to the cerebral tissues inhibits the intensity of metabolism in the brain, and the Russian experiments explain the mechanism, using as an example the synthesis of phospholipids. (Phospholipids, or phosphatides, are found in all living cells in connection with fat storage.)

Using male albino rats of the Wistar strain, Drs. D. A. Chetverikov and S. V. Gasteva proved their point by four experiments—all in a cooled barochamber with lowered oxygen for two hours. When the floor of the chamber was heated, however, half of the rats died; examination indicated that it was the hypothermia, or cooling, that diminished the oxygen requirements of tissues by reducing the rate at which metabolic processes use energy.

Condition Is Fair

Harry Chin, 37, of 52 Stagehound Passage, Corte Madera, was in fair condition today at Presbyterian Hospital in San Francisco. The Corte Madera fire department gave him resuscitation after he became ill at his home at 1:10 a.m. Saturday.

Tape Recorder Stolen

A portable tape recorder worth $134 was reported stolen Saturday from Vaillage Music Store, 9 East Blithedale Avenue. Sarah Wilcox, owner of the store, told police the recorder was on display when stolen.

TELEVISION REVIEW

NET Will Launch National Link Up

By ALINE MOSBY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The minority television viewer, who grumbles he isn't getting enough mature programs, takes one step closer to his long-hoped for fourth network in January.

To demonstrate its belief that a fourth network can offer much-needed adult programs, National Educational Television (NET) will link 75 of its 104 affiliated stations for the first time for a commentary program on President Johnson's State of the Union speech on or about Jan. 11.

MOST EXPENSIVE

The $100,000 program, the most expensive NET ever has offered, is part of NET's "great leap forward" during 1967 to promote the Ford Foundation's proposal to Washington for a satellite to beam a fourth "cultural" network.

"It's become obvious that the next step in NET's development was interconnection of our educational stations," explained Don Dixon, NET public affairs chief and producer of the commentary "special."

"We hope this program will convince people in Washington, people who support educational TV and people who have doubts about educational TV that it can be meaningful and interesting on live network broadcasts. And that the interconnection of our stations is necessary if educational television is to realize its potential."

MAIL SHOWS

NET now airmails five hours of new programs on tape weekly to its affiliates, an arrangement that Dixon derides as "horse and buggy." The stations never have been linked by telephone company lines, as are CBS, ABC and NBC stations, because it costs too much for NET, supported since its inception in 1958 mainly by Ford Foundation funds.

Educational stations must be linked in a network, said Dixon, because "there are things we want to do, such as timely documentaries and commentary, that can't be done on airmailed tape."

The Educational Television scored a scoop over the commercial networks recently when it premiered the first full-length documentary film on the recent floods in Florence.

Richard Burton narrated the one-hour touching film that, much more than news accounts, brought realization of the scope of the tragedy.

Drivers To Get Free Coffee

ALBANY N.Y. (UPI)—Motorists will be served free coffee on the New York State Thruway on New Year's Eve, it was announced today.

Authority Chairman R. Burdell Bixby noted that regulations prohibit consumption of alcoholic beverages anywhere on the 559-mile Thruway system. The ban went into effect last May.

Seven oil companies and four restaurant firms operating on the superhighway are sharing the cost of the coffee. It will be served without charge from 10 p.m. Dec. 31 until 7 a.m. Jan. 1 at all thruway restaurants.

Minor Injuries From Rail Wreck

Fortunato Siguas, 25, of 162 Belvedere Street, Apt. 13, San Rafael, suffered minor facial cuts when his car struck a bridge railing along Highway 101 at Lucky Drive, Larkspur, at 4:40 a.m. Sunday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Officers said Siguas apparently dozed at the wheel.

Air Pollution Plan Proposed

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y., said today he would introduce a bill in Congress to establish a nationally coordinated program of air pollution control.

He said in a statement that the bill would transfer from local and state agencies to the federal government final responsibility for enforcement of pollution-emission standards.

Rosenthal said his bill would empower the secretary of health, education and welfare to establish an interstate system of regions on which to base improved air pollution control, set appropriate emission standards for the regions, and enforce through the courts compliance with these standards by the appropriate local, state or interstate air pollution agencies.

$800,000 Given To Eastern College

SOUTH HADLEY, Mass. (AP)—Mount Holyoke College has received an $800,000 gift from Elizabeth Ball Cowan of Amherst, a 1904 alumna.

Mrs. Cowan made no restrictions on use of the principal except that the college make a monthly payment for life to her niece.

A gage that uses nuclear energy to measure sediment in streams and rivers, then automatically records the data is needed for fast, inexpensive sediment checks.

$20,000 In Antiques Is Reported Stolen

EUREKA (UPI) — Authorities said thieves apparently entered an antique shop through a window and stole $20,000 in antiques and personal property while the owner was vacationing.

Martha Rouce, owner of the Spruce Point Antique Shop, yesterday reported the theft of valuable art glass, jewelry and coats.

TELEVISION REVIEW

NET Will Launch National Link Up

By ALINE MOSBY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The minority television viewer, who grumbles he isn't getting enough mature programs, takes one step closer to his long-hoped for fourth network in January.

To demonstrate its belief that a fourth network can offer much-needed adult programs, National Educational Television (NET) will link 75 of its 104 affiliated stations for the first time for a commentary program on President Johnson's State of the Union speech on or about Jan. 11.

MOST EXPENSIVE

The $100,000 program, the most expensive NET ever has offered, is part of NET's "great leap forward" during 1967 to promote the Ford Foundation's proposal to Washington for a satellite to beam a fourth "cultural" network.

"It's become obvious that the next step in NET's development was interconnection of our educational stations," explained Don Dixon, NET public affairs chief and producer of the commentary "special."

"We hope this program will convince people in Washington, people who support educational TV and people who have doubts about educational TV that it can be meaningful and interesting on live network broadcasts. And that the interconnection of our stations is necessary if educational television is to realize its potential."

MAIL SHOWS

NET now airmails five hours of new programs on tape weekly to its affiliates, an arrangement that Dixon derides as "horse and buggy." The stations never have been linked by telephone company lines, as are CBS, ABC and NBC stations, because it costs too much for NET, supported since its inception in 1958 mainly by Ford Foundation funds.

Educational stations must be linked in a network, said Dixon, because "there are things we want to do, such as timely documentaries and commentary, that can't be done on airmailed tape."

The Educational Television scored a scoop over the commercial networks recently when it premiered the first full-length documentary film on the recent floods in Florence.

Richard Burton narrated the one-hour touching film that, much more than news accounts, brought realization of the scope of the tragedy.

Drivers To Get Free Coffee

ALBANY N.Y. (UPI)—Motorists will be served free coffee on the New York State Thruway on New Year's Eve, it was announced today.

Authority Chairman R. Burdell Bixby noted that regulations prohibit consumption of alcoholic beverages anywhere on the 559-mile Thruway system. The ban went into effect last May.

Seven oil companies and four restaurant firms operating on the superhighway are sharing the cost of the coffee. It will be served without charge from 10 p.m. Dec. 31 until 7 a.m. Jan. 1 at all thruway restaurants.

Minor Injuries From Rail Wreck

Fortunato Siguas, 25, of 162 Belvedere Street, Apt. 13, San Rafael, suffered minor facial cuts when his car struck a bridge railing along Highway 101 at Lucky Drive, Larkspur, at 4:40 a.m. Sunday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Officers said Siguas apparently dozed at the wheel.

$20,000 In Antiques Is Reported Stolen

EUREKA (UPI) — Authorities said thieves apparently entered an antique shop through a window and stole $20,000 in antiques and personal property while the owner was vacationing.

Martha Rouce, owner of the Spruce Point Antique Shop, yesterday reported the theft of valuable art glass, jewelry and coats.

Air Pollution Plan Proposed

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y., said today he would introduce a bill in Congress to establish a nationally coordinated program of air pollution control.

He said in a statement that the bill would transfer from local and state agencies to the federal government final responsibility for enforcement of pollution-emission standards.

Rosenthal said his bill would empower the secretary of health, education and welfare to establish an interstate system of regions on which to base improved air pollution control, set appropriate emission standards for the regions, and enforce through the courts compliance with these standards by the appropriate local, state or interstate air pollution agencies.

$800,000 Given To Eastern College

SOUTH HADLEY, Mass. (AP)—Mount Holyoke College has received an $800,000 gift from Elizabeth Ball Cowan of Amherst, a 1904 alumna.

Mrs. Cowan made no restrictions on use of the principal except that the college make a monthly payment for life to her niece.

A gage that uses nuclear energy to measure sediment in streams and rivers, then automatically records the data is needed for fast, inexpensive sediment checks.

East Cocks Arms For Shrine Game Aerial Fireworks

SANTA CLARA (UPI)—Duffy Daugherty is the kind of coach who would rather run than pass but the feeling is his East team will do more passing than running in the East-West game Saturday at San Francisco.

In yesterday's long workout on the Santa Clara practice field, Duffy, who coaches at Michigan State, had his quarterbacks working overtime, despite the fact he has such talented runners on the squad as Clinton Jones of MSU, Nick Eddy of Notre Dame and Dave Fisher of Michigan.

Danny Talbott of North Carolina threw 17 passes during the workout, hitting on 12 of them, including three to Jack Clancy, the fancy Michigan end who hauled in one of 64 yards for a "touchdown."

Benny Russell of Louisville, the other East quarterback, completed 10 of 14 passes when he was in there, including a long bomb to Ken Last of Minnesota.

In an all-star game it's easier to work in a passing attack and most squads depend heavily on throwing the ball. Still, Daugherty is the kind of coach who could switch it around. It's tough to ask such as Jones, Eddy and Fisher to stand around while the ends and flankers get all the action.

"I'd rather run than pass anytime," said Daugherty, "But I have some pretty good men to play it the other way (pass), too."

Dick Kenney, MSU's barefoot kicker from Hawaii, was another who impressed in yesterday's workout. Kennedy boomed the ball 70 yards or more on several occasions.

Meanwhile, at Stanford where the West is practicing for the game which benefits the Shrine Crippled Children's Hospital, Lloyd Phillips, the big defensive lineman from Arkansas, checked in to bring the squad up to its 26-man limit.

Head coach John Ralston put Phillips, delayed because of illness in his family, to work right away. Ralston also had Ray McDonald, the big running back from Idaho, operating at defensive end again in place of the injured Tom Greenlee of Washington. Greenlee has a pulled leg muscle but is expected to see some action Saturday.

Ralston put his squad through a "touch-tackle" scrimmage. It looked more like a full scrimmage as several of the boys really hit each other. One player, though, lost his head for a second. That was 6-6 defensive tackle Dennis Randall of Oklahoma State who blitzed quarterback Tim Van Galder of Iowa State. Van Galder went down but was not hurt. Ralston called it "good, clean fun."

The West holds two drills again today and then will taper down to just one practice on Wednesday and Thursday. The East has been holding a single daily drill right along.

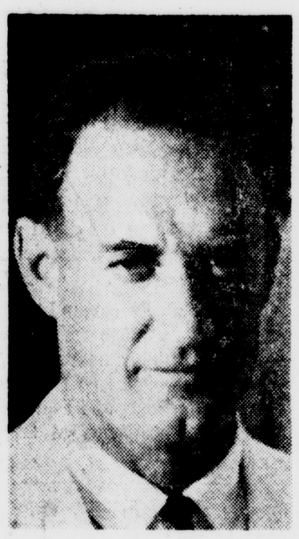
Locals Flock To See Warriors; Net Pro Follows Ex-Grid Pupil

DRABBLES 'N' DRIBBLES—San Francisco's exciting Warriors are drawing sizable crowds this season, including a goodly number of well-known Marinites.

Just last Thursday for that ding-donger with the spirited 76ers I observed in the audience such local yokels as attorney Dave Costamagna, Bill Zimmerman, Harry Graves, George Kerrigan, Charlie McFarland, banker Al Nieri, Tony Novacic (the physical therapist who NEVER rubs you the wrong way) and Drs. Lou Geissberger, Porter Forcade, Doug Ramsey and Marv Gilberg.



DR. MARV GILBERG

The elongated Dr. Geissberger and diminutive Costamagna presented a formidable Mutt 'n' Jeff team.

ANOTHER STEADY pro basketball spectator is Ignacio's Walt Moreno, the former College of Marin All-American guard-turned artist, who designed the Warriors' unique uniforms and also directed all the art work for the upcoming NBA All-Star game —tickets, posters, etc.

Moreno, a connoisseur of the game, says the trade that sent Guy Rodgers to Chicago is largely responsible for Warrior super-soph Rick Barry's tremendous scoring this season. "Barry," explains Moreno, "has altered his playing and shooting style. Last year with play-maker Rodgers setting him up, Rick moved constantly with the ball. Now, with Rodgers gone, Barry has changed his strategy and has gone more to his outside one-hander and plays more one-on-one offensively. Apparently the change is for the better since Rick's leading the NBA by a mile-and-a-half."

MARIN TENNIS pro Paul Wilkins will take more than casual interest in Stanford football fortunes the next three seasons.

Looming as the Farm's future quarterback is Richard Oliver who played for Wilkins when the latter coached football at a Baytown, Tex., junior high school back in 1961. A fullback then, Oliver became Stanford's No. 1 frosh signal-caller this year.

Wilkins, by the way, was a classmate of 49ers John David Crowe and Charley Krueger at Texas A & M in 1957.

QUICKIE QUIZ—Name the four major leaguers who, since 1950, have hit four home runs in one game. (No fair consulting your library.)

That part is easy. When I give you the answer tomorrow I'll ask you the difficult second part to the quiz.

This Time It's The Other Ankle

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—There wasn't much that went wrong for the San Francisco Warriors Christmas night at Cincinnati. There wasn't much that went right for them last night at Memphis against St. Louis.

Not only did the Hawks hit 47 of 90 shots on the way to a 120-111 win over the Warriors, but San Francisco star Rick Barry again injured an ankle.

Barry, who recently strained ligaments in his right ankle, last night twisted the left one during the first quarter. It began to swell and he came out in the final stanza to have it packed in ice. "We don't know how bad it is," Warrior coach Bill Sharman said unhappily. "We'll have to wait . . ."

St. Louis meanwhile got a lot of points from two men who aren't considered big scorers—Bill Bridges and rookie Lou Hudson. Bridges had 31 points and 20 rebounds and Hudson hit 33.

The Hawks staved off a strong Warrior rally in the closing minutes when the lead they held almost the entire game melted down to two points. But Bridges hit three straight to put the game out of range.

Barry, who has been playing with a tightly taped ankle since injuring it in practice eight days ago, led San Francisco with 34 and Nate Thurmond and Jeff Mullins had 21 apiece. But nobody else added more than Paul Neumann's 10.

San Francisco had 44 of 106 shots for 41 per cent — not good enough when an opponent is shooting over 50 per cent.

The Warriors emerged with a 22-13 mark and a 6½ game lead over the second place Hawks in the West. San Francisco, which won 124-112 at Cincinnati Sunday behind Barry's 50 points, thus is 1-1 on its latest road swing. They call on Baltimore Thursday.

$100,000 Persuaded Ralston

BAKERSFIELD (AP)—America's top amateur tennis player, Dennis Ralston, made official today what had long been rumored. He has turned professional.

"Professional tennis offers me a future while amateur tennis in the United States offers a player nothing," Ralston told the Associated Press by telephone from his home here.

Thus ends the amateur career after seven years of the still at 24 boyish, strawberry blond Californian, who has played all over the world and won everything in sight except for the two big ones.

"Any regrets?" he was asked.

"Yes," said Denny, as his intimates know him, and he named the two big ones—Wimbledon and the United States National at Forest Hills.

"I wouldn't say I have any real regrets but I would have liked to have won those two," he continued.

Ralston said he preferred not to divulge financial terms but reportedly he signed for three years for $100,000.

The contract was signed with Wallace M. Dill of the International Professional Tennis Assn. in San Rafael.

Ralston was hardly displeased by what he termed a premature disclosure of the contract by Dill yesterday at his home in San Rafael. The announcement, Ralston said, was to have been formally made today.

"Yes, I thought about it for over a year," he went on. "I've got a family and I do have to start looking toward the future. This contract provides me with a good start."

Ralston's pro career will get under way next month in Australia, followed by competition in the U.S., then Europe and South Africa.

The opposition will include veteran Pancho Gonzales of the U.S. and Australians Rod Laver.

INDIA STUNS AUSSIES IN DAVIS CUP UPSET

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — The Indian pair of Ramathan Krishnan and Jaideep Mukerjea defeated Australians John Newcombe and Tony Roche 4-6, 7-5, 6-4, 6-4 today in one of the greatest upsets of Davis Cup challenges.

The victory means India's challenge for amateur tennis' most prized trophy remains alive into the third day, with Australia holding a 2-1 lead and two singles matches to go.

When Roche outed the final point, the Indians, grinning broadly, put their arms about each other as they hurried to the net to shake hands with the shocked Australians.

The crowd of 10,000 stood and applauded the Indians as they left the court after a gallant fight which they won by brilliant tennis that nobody expected.

"I told you yesterday we had not lost hope," said a beaming Raj Kumar Khanna, captain of the Indian team. "Nobody thought our doubles team was able to defeat such a formidable combination as Newcombe and Roche.

"It was one of the best doubles matches I've seen. Although our boys lost the first set they were playing very well."

Commenting on tomorrow's singles matches in which Krishnan plays Roy Emerson and Mukerjea battles Fred Stolle, Khanna said:

"We are hoping and will do our best."

Harry Hopman, the Australian captain, said the singles "could be very interesting," adding:

"I think it was a very good doubles. These Indians played marvelously. Some of Krishnan's touch volleys were magnificent. They played much better than I expected."

Newcombe and Roche appeared as if they would wrap up the Cup for Australia for the third straight year in easy fashion.

"They won the first set and had the Indians down 0-40 in the second game of the second seet. But the visitors battled back and held the service.

This seemed to give them confidence, and they proceeded to smash, volley and hit passing shots with precision and speed.

The dramatic Indian comeback had the crowd gripping their seats in excitement and yelling and cheering.

After tying the match at one set apiece, the Indians easily won the third set, never losing more than a single point in a game.

The fourth set was tied 2-2, but Mukerjea put his team ahead by smashing a game point between Newcombe and Roche.

The Australians had a chance to even the match in the eighth game, but they lost a 30-0 lead, then committed two errors and lost the game.

It was downhill for the Indians the rest of the way.

As far as the over-all play is concerned, though, it's still uphill for the visitors.

SPORTS BRIEFS

Weekend Sports in Brief
By Associated Press

Football

CINCINNATI—Homer Rice, assistant coach at Oklahoma, was named head football coach of Cincinnati, succeeding Charles Studley.

WICHITA, Kan.—Boyd Converse of Kilgore, Tex., J.C. moved up to head football coach at Wichita University, succeeding George Karras.

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—Frank Stavroff of Indiana came off the bench and tossed two fourth-quarter touchdown passes, and leading the North to a 14-9 victory over the South in the Blue-Gray Classic.

DES MOINES, Iowa—Tom Cahill, who led Army to an 8-2 record in his first year asfhead coach, was named Coach of year as head coach, was named Coach of the Year by the Football Writers Assn. of America.

EL PASO, Tex.—Wyoming got strong running from Jim Klick and hard rushes from its defensive line in beating Florida State 28-20 in the Sun Bowl.

MIAMI—The North team rolled to a 20-point halftime lead, then coasted to a 27-14 victory in the 19th annual North-South All-Star Game.

Tennis

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—America's hopes for the 18-and-under boys title in the Orange Bowl Junior Championships were jolted when Patrick Proisy of France beat California's Steven Avoyer 6-3, 3-6, 6-2.

BAKERSFIELD, Calif.—Dennis Ralston, the United States' top amateur player, announced that he has turned professional.

MELBOURNE, Australia—India kept its Davis Cup hopes alive with a stunning upset in its doubles match with Australia when Ramathan Krishnan and Jaideep Mukerjea beat Tony Roche and John Newcombe 4-6, 7-5, 6-4, 6-4.

Horse Racing

LAUREL, Md.—Silwall, $8, sloshed to a six-length victory in the First Lady Handicap at muddy Laurel race track.

Moreno, a connoisseur of the game, says the trade that sent Guy Rodgers to Chicago is largely responsible for Warrior super-soph Rick Barry's tremendous scoring this season. "Barry," explains Moreno, "has altered his playing and shooting style. Last year with play-maker Rodgers setting him up, Rick moved constantly with the ball. Now, with Rodgers gone, Barry has changed his strategy and has gone more to his outside one-hander and plays more one-on-one offensively. Apparently the change is for the better since Rick's leading the NBA by a mile-and-a-half."

MARIN TENNIS pro Paul Wilkins will take more than casual interest in Stanford football fortunes the next three seasons.

Looming as the Farm's future quarterback is Richard Oliver who played for Wilkins when the latter coached football at a Baytown, Tex., junior high school back in 1961. A fullback then, Oliver became Stanford's No. 1 frosh signal-caller this year.

Wilkins, by the way, was a classmate of 49ers John David Crowe and Charley Krueger at Texas A & M in 1957.

QUICKIE QUIZ—Name the four major leaguers who, since 1950, have hit four home runs in one game. (No fair consulting your library.)

That part is easy. When I give you the answer tomorrow I'll ask you the difficult second part to the quiz.

This Time It's The Other Ankle

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—There wasn't much that went wrong for the San Francisco Warriors Christmas night at Cincinnati. There wasn't much that went right for them last night at Memphis against St. Louis.

Not only did the Hawks hit 47 of 90 shots on the way to a 120-111 win over the Warriors, but San Francisco star Rick Barry again injured an ankle.

Barry, who recently strained ligaments in his right ankle, last night twisted the left one during the first quarter. It began to swell and he came out in the final stanza to have it packed in ice. "We don't know how bad it is," Warrior coach Bill Sharman said unhappily. "We'll have to wait . . ."

St. Louis meanwhile got a lot of points from two men who aren't considered big scorers—Bill Bridges and rookie Lou Hudson. Bridges had 31 points and 20 rebounds and Hudson hit 33.

The Hawks staved off a strong Warrior rally in the closing minutes when the lead they held almost the entire game melted down to two points. But Bridges hit three straight to put the game out of range.

Barry, who has been playing with a tightly taped ankle since injuring it in practice eight days ago, led San Francisco with 34 and Nate Thurmond and Jeff Mullins had 21 apiece. But nobody else added more than Paul Neumann's 10.

San Francisco had 44 of 106 shots for 41 per cent — not good enough when an opponent is shooting over 50 per cent.

The Warriors emerged with a 22-13 mark and a 6½ game lead over the second place Hawks in the West. San Francisco, which won 124-112 at Cincinnati Sunday behind Barry's 50 points, thus is 1-1 on its latest road swing. They call on Baltimore Thursday.

$100,000 Persuaded Ralston

BAKERSFIELD (AP)—America's top amateur tennis player, Dennis Ralston, made official today what had long been rumored. He has turned professional.

"Professional tennis offers me a future while amateur tennis in the United States offers a player nothing," Ralston told the Associated Press by telephone from his home here.

Thus ends the amateur career after seven years of the still at 24 boyish, strawberry blond Californian, who has played all over the world and won everything in sight except for the two big ones.

"Any regrets?" he was asked.

"Yes," said Denny, as his intimates know him, and he named the two big ones—Wimbledon and the United States National at Forest Hills.

"I wouldn't say I have any real regrets but I would have liked to have won those two," he continued.

Ralston said he preferred not to divulge financial terms but reportedly he signed for three years for $100,000.

The contract was signed with Wallace M. Dill of the International Professional Tennis Assn. in San Rafael.

Ralston was hardly displeased by what he termed a premature disclosure of the contract by Dill yesterday at his home in San Rafael. The announcement, Ralston said, was to have been formally made today.

"Yes, I thought about it for over a year," he went on. "I've got a family and I do have to start looking toward the future. This contract provides me with a good start."

Ralston's pro career will get under way next month in Australia, followed by competition in the U.S., then Europe and South Africa.

The opposition will include veteran Pancho Gonzales of the U.S. and Australians Rod Laver,

INDIA STUNS AUSSIES IN DAVIS CUP UPSET

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — The Indian pair of Ramathan Krishnan and Jaideep Mukerjea defeated Australians John Newcombe and Tony Roche 4-6, 7-5, 6-4, 6-4 today in one of the greatest upsets of Davis Cup challenges.

The victory means India's challenge for amateur tennis' most prized trophy remains alive into the third day, with Australia holding a 2-1 lead and two singles matches to go.

When Roche outed the final point, the Indians, grinning broadly, put their arms about each other as they hurried to the net to shake hands with the shocked Australians.

The crowd of 10,000 stood and applauded the Indians as they left the court after a gallant fight which they won by brilliant tennis that nobody expected.

"I told you yesterday we had not lost hope," said a beaming Raj Kumar Khanna, captain of the Indian team. "Nobody thought our doubles team was able to defeat such a formidable combination as Newcombe and Roche.

"It was one of the best doubles matches I've seen. Although our boys lost the first set they were playing very well."

Commenting on tomorrow's singles matches in which Krishnan plays Roy Emerson and Mukerjea battles Fred Stolle, Khanna said:

"We are hoping and will do our best."

Harry Hopman, the Australian captain, said the singles "could be very interesting," adding:

"I think it was a very good doubles. These Indians played marvelously. Some of Krishnan's touch volleys were magnificent. They played much better than I expected."

Newcombe and Roche appeared as if they would wrap up the Cup for Australia for the third straight year in easy fashion.

"They won the first set and had the Indians down 0-40 in the second game of the second seet. But the visitors battled back and held the service.

This seemed to give them confidence, and they proceeded to smash, volley and hit passing shots with precision and speed.

The dramatic Indian comeback had the crowd gripping their seats in excitement and yelling and cheering.

After tying the match at one set apiece, the Indians easily won the third set, never losing more than a single point in a game.

The fourth set was tied 2-2, but Mukerjea put his team ahead by smashing a game point between Newcombe and Roche.

The Australians had a chance to even the match in the eighth game, but they lost a 30-0 lead, then committed two errors and lost the game.

It was downhill for the Indians the rest of the way.

As far as the over-all play is concerned, though, it's still uphill for the visitors.

Yanks Rip Rebels Again; Big Bowl Battles On TV

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A team of Yankee stars, eager to impress a flock of pro scouts in the stands, rolled to a 27-14 victory over the Rebels last night in the North-South colloge football game.

Eugene Trosch, 6-foot-6, 247-pound defensive tackle from the University of Miami, was voted the most valuable player for the South, and another defensive tackle, Pete Duranko, 6-2, 235-pounder from Notre Dame, was picked for the North.

The North team, winning only for the seventh time in the 18-year series, powered to a 20-0 halftime lead, then coasted home behind a rugged defense.

Donald Cockroft, the nation's leading punter from Adams State College in Colorado, boosted the Yanks into a 6-0 first quarter lead with field goals of 31 and 38 yards.

Then, in one minute, 12 seconds of the second period, the Yanks scored twice on a nine-yard pass from Colorado's Bernie McCall to Tulsa's Neal Sweeney and a 20-yard dash with an intercepted pass by Duranko.

Houston's Bo Burris finally found the range for the South in the last quarter with scoring shots of 15 and 11 yards to Gary Rowe of North Carolina State.

But the South never got in close shooting distance as the North also scored in the fourth on a nine-yard run by Bo Rein of Ohio State

The post-season bowl activity hits its peak this weekend with the Rose, Sugar, Orange, Cotton and Gator Bowls, the East-West Shrine Game and the NFL and AFL championship games.

The Cotton and Gator Bowls and the Shrine Game open the heavy slate Saturday, New Year's Eve. The two pro championships will be played Sunday and the Rose, Sugar and Orange Bowls are set for Monday.

The Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., matches Tennessee, 7-3, and Syracuse, 8-2 while the Cotton Bowl at Dallas has Georgia, 9-1, vs. Southern Methodist, 8-2. The Shrine game in San Francisco matches all-star teams of seniors from the East and West.

Green Bay, 12-2, and Dallas, 10-3-1, play for the NFL championship in Dallas while Kansas City, 11-2-1, and Buffalo, 9-4-1, are matched in Buffalo for the AFL title.

The Sugar Bowl in New Orleans has Alabama, 10-0, vs. Nebraska, 9-1, the Rose Bowl in Pasadena presents Purdue, 8-2, vs. Southern California, 7-3, and the Orange Bowl in Miami pits Georgia Tech, 9-1, and Florida, 8-2.

The television line-up, all times Pacific Standard, has ABC showing the Gator Bowl at 9 a.m. Saturday, CBS on the Cotton Bowl at 11:30 a.m. and NBC with the Shrine Game at 1:30. NBC has the AF game at 10 a.m. Sunday and CBS will show the NFL game at 1 p.m. Monday, NBC has a tripleheader, with the Sugar Bowl at 11 a.m., the Rose Bowl at 2 p.m. and the Orange Bowl at 5.

Two games were played last Saturday, Wyoming beating Florida State 28-20 in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., and the Blue beating the Gray 14-9 in the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala.

Frank Stavroff of Indiana came off the bench and passed for two last quarter touchdowns in the Blue's comeback victory, while Jim Kiick and Rick Egloff were the key figures in Wyoming's victory. Kiick ran for 135 yards and two touchdowns and Egloff passed for one and ran for another.

Toes May Decide 'Cotton'

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — If Saturday's Cotton Bowl football game should go down to a matter of place-kicking — and with Georgia and Southern Methodist boasting defenses that could put a premium on field goals — there are a couple of guys who ought to meet the issue.

Bob Etter of Georgia has done more of it than his counterpart, Dennis Partee of Southern Methodist, but the results have not been more successful.

Partee is the fellow who won two games with a total of 33 seconds to play. He kicked a field goal to pull Southern Methodist within two points of Texas, then booted a 32-yarder with 18 seconds left to win the game 13-12.

Partee's 10-yard field goal with 15 seconds remaining knocked down Baylor 24-22.

Etter kicked three field goals against Georgia Tech. His field goal tied the score and another won the game against Mississippi State.

His point after touchdown put Georgia ahead to stay against Auburn. He kicked two field goals against Miami and might have gotten another but for a bad center snap. Miami won the only game Georgia lost, 7-6.

Partee booted 21 of 23 extra points and landed on four of nine field goal attempts. He also punted 47 times for an average of 36 yards.

Etter sent 12 of 15 field goal tries through the crossbars and kicked 21 of 22 extra point attempts.

Etter led the Southeastern Conference in scoring with 57 points. It was the first time a place-kicker overturned this trick.

Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad.

One of Dennis' most vivid—and pleasant—memories was the Davis Cup triumph over favored Australia in 1963, when he was the key Yankee performer.

One of his toughest, he said, was the loss to Fred Stolle of Australia in the challenge round at Cleveland two years ago.

Strictly as a joke, he quipped, "My only regret is that I had but one life to give to my country." It appeared from the telephone talk that Dennis' pretty young wife supplied that line.

The couple has one daughter, Angela, nine months old.

Ralston has consistently decried the description of him as temperamental, hard to handle or spoiled. "But once such a label is pinned on you, there's not much you can do about it," he said.

Alabama Preps For Sugar Bowl Battle

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Just about everybody in the sports world has heard the rumor that Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama can walk on water and control the elements.

A diligent search has failed to turn up anybody to attest to the water-walking, although Crimson Tide rooters say it's true.

However, this writer once saw the rain stop and the sun break through the clouds at a football game as the Bears walked on the field. And 'Bama's chief publicity man, Charley Thornton, says this has happened several other times.

If the legendary Bryant has such powers, they apparently don't work in New Orleans. The last time Bryant brought his Red Elephants to town — for the 1963 Sugar Bowl — it snowed. Real, honest-to-goodness snow. Six inches of it. The only deep snowfall here this century.

When Alabama held its first practice here Monday for its 1967 Sugar Bowl clash with Nebraska, it rained.

The Bear and his boys were inside the field house for a picture-taking session. Afterwards, Bryant ordered the team outside in sweat togs despite a cold drizzle. Writers covering the session began murmuring, "That rain is just about ready to stop."

But it didn't. So the Crimson Tiders, only major unbeaten and untied team in the country, worked for an hour and 45 minutes in the wet stuff.

Even if the elements don't obey Bryant in New Orleans it's a town he likes to visit. He never has lost a Sugar Bowl game.

Alabama has been to more bowls than any other college team. This marks the Tide's 20th post-season appearance. And it's Bryant's 12th bowl game. Over-all, he has a 7-4-1 record in bowls.

Next Monday's Sugar Bowl, an 82,000-sellout, will be televised by NBC. Kickoff is at 2 p.m., EST.

Nebraska Coach Pleased With Defensive Workout

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Nebraska wound up training here Monday for the Sugar Bowl game with a defensive scrimmage that pleased Coach Bob Devaney.

The squad then prepared to leave for New Orleans to fill its date with Alabama Jan. 2.

Devaney felt quite differently with the defensive scrimmage, in which the No. 1 defense worked against Alabama's offense as put on by the scout team, than with the offensive scrimmage Sunday.

"We accomplished all we came to do," said Devaney. "We are further ahead with our training than we were last year when we left Phoenix for the Orange Bowl game with Alabama."

Devaney was particularly pleased with linebackers Barry Alvarez and Ron Kirkland, the latter shifted from offensive halfback to bolster the defense.

The only player on the doubtful list was Lynn Senkbeil, senior linebacker, who has been favoring a foot injury. He didn't work Monday and Devaney said "we have practically eliminated him from our thinking."

It was mostly cold weather during the team's work here, but Devaney didn't think this was any handicap to the practice. He admitted, however, that it might have worked some against morale since the players couldn't get outside and swim and frolic on the beach as they did the last time they trained in Brownsville.

Seals Coach Threatens Big Shakeup

OAKLAND (UPI) — The new year symbolizes out with the old and in with the new and that's just what may happen to the California Seals.

Acting Coach Charlie Burns said that the Seals are in for a wholesale shakeup — especially if their lacklustre play continues.

General manager and coach Rudy Pilous is in the East hunting for fresh talent and Burns said in the wake of a 6-1 loss to Seattle last Friday that "they think they've got it made because Rudy is away. But they had better wake up because when some new players come in it may be too late."

Burns said that Los Angeles and Seattle are especially improved—and these are the two teams battling California (11-12-6 for fourth place and a playoff berth. Both Los Angeles and Seattle won last night.

California hosts front-running Portland tomorrow and Friday and are scrimmaging hard at the Jewel Box Arena in an effort to become accustomed to their new home ice and thus cash in on the advantage of playing on it.

"The club looks flat," Burns said. "Danny Belisle has been our best player and he's taking advantage of getting the chance to play. If the rest of the club played like Danny has been going we'd be all right." Forbes (Kennedy) and Tex 2evans) have their moments too but I can't say too much about the rest of the guys."

The Strike Ends—They're Off And Running At Anita

By BOB MYERS

ARCADIA (AP)—Three years of non-labor strife was promised today to all California race tracks — unless trouble breaks out on some new front.

And Jockey Bill Shoemaker was off to a winning season at Santa Anita.

So what else is new?

Santa Anita's big racing plant, which has learned to live dangerously, escaped its latest strike threat as a post-Christmas present yesterday, home 10 hours before post time for the first race.

Management representing the nine racing associations in California and representatives of the AFL-CIO and Teamsters unions settled their long and bitter controversy.

As a result, pari-mutuel clerks and maintenance crews will receive $1 a day increases for the first two years and 75 cents for the third year, plus health and welfare benefits.

Attendance for opening day was 52,264 and the betting handle was $3,066,455.

The track had expected 70,000 and a handle of approximately $3,400,000 as it had in 1960 on a comparable day-after-Christmas holiday.

Thousands of fans obviously were not aware of the pre-dawn settlement of the dispute.

There was no racing today at Santa Anita.

Shoemaker racked up three wins, including a ride aboard the favorite, Pretense, in the $29,200 Palos Verdes Handicap at seven furlongs.

The Shoe's margin was ½ length over Hoist Bar, with an Argentine runner, Aurelius II, 1¾ back in third.

The high weight of the feature, Time Tested, at 122, finished fourth, still another length back. Time Tested, from the Ogden M. Phipps stable, is a running mate of the mighty Buckpasser, who is scheduled to make his debut at Santa Anita in the Malibu Stakes Saturday.

This was the fourth Palos Verdes victory for Shoemaker, who scored on another Llangollen Farm horse, Nashville, in 1957.

Shoemaker's other victories yesterday were on Royal Adventure for $4.80 in the third and Llangollen Farm's Ultimate for $6.60 in the fourth.

"I can't really remember the last time I got off to such a good start," said Shoemaker. "This horse ran a helluva race. He's bred to go a route and I imagine he'll get the chance at Santa Anita."

THE DEFENDING CHAMPS

Marin Tars Travel To Santa Monica Tourney

College of Marin will have the dubious role of defending champion when the Tars battle in the Santa Monica Invitational Tournament tomorrow through Friday, but the role is no plum prize.

The Tars, now 4-6, will have to get by at least two highly-ranked junior college foes in addition to their first-round hurdle, Palomar, tomorrow.

Fullerton, No. 8, and Long Beach, No. 3 are also entered in the tournament with Long Beach in the upper bracket and Fullerton in the lower bracket with Marin.

Coach Cal Riemcke's Tars will send a healthy team, for a change, to the tournament. Six-foot-nine center Brad Luz and 6-4 Kraig Kilby are both at full strength again after missing two recent games with injuries.

The Tars are not as potent on offense as last year, but their full court press has been effective and they have a balanced if unspectacular scoring attack, led by Bill Pandiani, Terry Overlid and Russ Smith.

Yanks Rip Rebels Again; Big Bowl Battles On TV

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A team of Yankee stars, eager to impress a flock of pro scouts in the stands, rolled to a 27-14 victory over the Rebels last night in the North-South colloge football game.

Eugene Trosch, 6-foot-6, 247-pound defensive tackle from the University of Miami, was voted the most valuable player for the South, and another defensive tackle, Pete Duranko, 6-2, 235-pounder from Notre Dame, was picked for the North.

The North team, winning only for the seventh time in the 18-year series, powered to a 20-0 halftime lead, then coasted home behind a rugged defense.

Donald Cockroft, the nation's leading punter from Adams State College in Colorado, boosted the Yanks into a 6-0 first quarter lead with field goals of 31 and 38 yards.

Then, in one minute, 12 seconds of the second period, the Yanks scored twice on a nine-yard pass from Colorado's Bernie McCall to Tulsa's Neal Sweeney and a 20-yard dash with an intercepted pass by Duranko.

Houston's Bo Burris finally found the range for the South in the last quarter with scoring shots of 15 and 11 yards to Gary Rowe of North Carolina State.

But the South never got in close shooting distance as the North also scored in the fourth on a nine-yard run by Bo Rein of Ohio State

The post-season bowl activity hits its peak this weekend with the Rose, Sugar, Orange, Cotton and Gator Bowls, the East-West Shrine Game and the NFL and AFL championship games.

The Cotton and Gator Bowls and the Shrine Game open the heavy slate Saturday, New Year's Eve. The two pro championships will be played Sunday and the Rose, Sugar and Orange Bowls are set for Monday.

The Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., matches Tennessee, 7-3, and Syracuse, 8-2 while the Cotton Bowl at Dallas has Georgia, 9-1, vs. Southern Methodist, 8-2. The Shrine game in San Francisco matches all-star teams of seniors from the East and West.

Green Bay, 12-2, and Dallas, 10-3-1, play for the NFL championship in Dallas while Kansas City, 11-2-1, and Buffalo, 9-4-1, are matched in Buffalo for the AFL title.

The Sugar Bowl in New Orleans has Alabama, 10-0, vs. Nebraska, 9-1, the Rose Bowl in Pasadena presents Purdue, 8-2, vs. Southern California, 7-3, and the Orange Bowl in Miami pits Georgia Tech, 9-1, and Florida, 8-2.

The television line-up, all times Pacific Standard, has ABC showing the Gator Bowl at 9 a.m. Saturday, CBS on the Cotton Bowl at 11:30 a.m. and NBC with the Shrine Game at 1:30. NBC has the AF game at 10 a.m. Sunday and CBS will show the NFL game at 1 p.m. Monday, NBC has a tripleheader, with the Sugar Bowl at 11 a.m., the Rose Bowl at 2 p.m. and the Orange Bowl at 5.

Two games were played last Saturday, Wyoming beating Florida State 28-20 in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., and the Blue beating the Gray 14-9 in the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala.

Frank Stavroff of Indiana came off the bench and passed for two last quarter touchdowns in the Blue's comeback victory, while Jim Kiick and Rick Egloff were the key figures in Wyoming's victory. Kiick ran for 135 yards and two touchdowns and Egloff passed for one and ran for another.

Toes May Decide 'Cotton'

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — If Saturday's Cotton Bowl football game should go down to a matter of place-kicking — and with Georgia and Southern Methodist boasting defenses that could put a premium on field goals — there are a couple of guys who ought to meet the issue.

Bob Etter of Georgia has done more of it than his counterpart, Dennis Partee of Southern Methodist, but the results have not been more successful.

Partee is the fellow who won two games with a total of 33 seconds to play. He kicked a field goal to pull Southern Methodist within two points of Texas, then booted a 32-yarder with 18 seconds left to win the game 13-12.

Partee's 10-yard field goal with 15 seconds remaining knocked down Baylor 24-22.

Etter kicked three field goals against Georgia Tech. His field goal tied the score and another won the game against Mississippi State.

His point after touchdown put Georgia ahead to stay against Auburn. He kicked two field goals against Miami and might have gotten another but for a bad center snap. Miami won the only game Georgia lost, 7-6.

Partee booted 21 of 23 extra points and landed on four of nine field goal attempts. He also punted 47 times for an average of 36 yards.

Etter sent 12 of 15 field goal tries through the crossbars and kicked 21 of 22 extra point attempts.

Etter led the Southeastern Conference in scoring with 57 points. It was the first time a place-kicker overturned this trick.

RALSTON

Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad.

One of Dennis' most vivid—and pleasant—memories was the Davis Cup triumph over favored Australia in 1963, when he was the key Yankee performer.

One of his toughest, he said, was the loss to Fred Stolle of Australia in the challenge round at Cleveland two years ago.

Strictly as a joke, he quipped, "My only regret is that I had but one life to give to my country." It appeared from the telephone talk that Dennis' pretty young wife supplied that line.

The couple has one daughter, Angela, nine months old.

Ralston has consistently decried the description of him as temperamental, hard to handle or spoiled. "But once such a label is pinned on you, there's not much you can do about it," he said.

Alabama Preps For Sugar Bowl Battle

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Just about everybody in the sports world has heard the rumor that Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama can walk on water and control the elements.

A diligent search has failed to turn up anybody to attest to the water-walking, although Crimson Tide rooters say it's true.

However, this writer once saw the rain stop and the sun break through the clouds at a football game as the Bears walked on the field. And 'Bama's chief publicity man, Charley Thornton, says this has happened several other times.

If the legendary Bryant has such powers, they apparently don't work in New Orleans. The last time Bryant brought his Red Elephants to town — for the 1963 Sugar Bowl — it snowed. Real, honest-to-goodness snow. Six inches of it. The only deep snowfall here this century.

When Alabama held its first practice here Monday for its 1967 Sugar Bowl clash with Nebraska, it rained.

The Bear and his boys were inside the field house for a picture-taking session. Afterwards, Bryant ordered the team outside in sweat togs despite a cold drizzle. Writers covering the session began murmuring, "That rain is just about ready to stop."

But it didn't. So the Crimson Tiders, only major unbeaten and untied team in the country, worked for an hour and 45 minutes in the wet stuff.

Even if the elements don't obey Bryant in New Orleans it's a town he likes to visit. He never has lost a Sugar Bowl game.

Alabama has been to more bowls than any other college team. This marks the Tide's 20th post-season appearance. And it's Bryant's 12th bowl game. Over-all, he has a 7-4-1 record in bowls.

Next Monday's Sugar Bowl, an 82,000-sellout, will be televised by NBC. Kickoff is at 2 p.m., EST.

Nebraska Coach Pleased With Defensive Workout

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Nebraska wound up training here Monday for the Sugar Bowl game with a defensive scrimmage that pleased Coach Bob Devaney.

The squad then prepared to leave for New Orleans to fill its date with Alabama Jan. 2.

Devaney felt quite differently with the defensive scrimmage, in which the No. 1 defense worked against Alabama's offense as put on by the scout team, than with the offensive scrimmage Sunday.

"We accomplished all we came to do," said Devaney. "We are further ahead with our training than we were last year when we left Phoenix for the Orange Bowl game with Alabama."

Devaney was particularly pleased with linebackers Barry Alvarez and Ron Kirkland, the latter shifted from offensive halfback to bolster the defense.

The only player on the doubtful list was Lynn Senkbeil, senior linebacker, who has been favoring a foot injury. He didn't work Monday and Devaney said "we have practically eliminated him from our thinking."

It was mostly cold weather during the team's work here, but Devaney didn't think this was any handicap to the practice. He admitted, however, that it might have worked some against morale since the players couldn't get outside and swim and frolic on the beach as they did the last time they trained in Brownsville.

Seals Coach Threatens Big Shakeup

OAKLAND (UPI) — The new year symbolizes out with the old and in with the new and that's just what may happen to the California Seals.

Acting Coach Charlie Burns said that the Seals are in for a wholesale shakeup — especially if their lacklustre play continues.

General manager and coach Rudy Pilous is in the East hunting for fresh talent and Burns said in the wake of a 6-1 loss to Seattle last Friday that "they think they've got it made because Rudy is away. But they had better wake up because when some new players come in it may be too late."

Burns said that Los Angeles and Seattle are especially improved—and these are the two teams battling California (11-12-6 for fourth place and a playoff berth. Both Los Angeles and Seattle won last night.

California hosts front-running Portland tomorrow and Friday and are scrimmaging hard at the Jewel Box Arena in an effort to become accustomed to their new home ice and thus cash in on the advantage of playing on it.

"The club looks flat," Burns said. "Danny Belisle has been our best player and he's taking advantage of getting the chance to play. If the rest of the club played like Danny has been going we'd be all right." Forbes (Kennedy) and Tex 2evans) have their moments too but I can't say too much about the rest of the guys."

The Strike Ends—They're Off And Running At Anita

By BOB MYERS

ARCADIA (AP)—Three years of non-labor strife was promised today to all California race tracks — unless trouble breaks out on some new front.

And Jockey Bill Shoemaker was off to a winning season at Santa Anita.

So what else is new?

Santa Anita's big racing plant, which has learned to live dangerously, escaped its latest strike threat as a post-Christmas present yesterday, home 10 hours before post time for the first race.

Management representing the nine racing associations in California and representatives of the AFL-CIO and Teamsters unions settled their long and bitter controversy.

As a result, pari-mutuel clerks and maintenance crews will receive $1 a day increases for the first two years and 75 cents for the third year, plus health and welfare benefits.

Attendance for opening day was 52,264 and the betting handle was $3,066,455.

The track had expected 70,000 and a handle of approximately $3,400,000 as it had in 1960 on a comparable day-after-Christmas holiday.

Thousands of fans obviously were not aware of the pre-dawn settlement of the dispute.

There was no racing today at Santa Anita.

Shoemaker racked up three wins, including a ride aboard the favorite, Pretense, in the $29,200 Palos Verdes Handicap at seven furlongs.

The Shoe's margin was ½ length over Hoist Bar, with an Argentine runner, Aurelius II, 1¾ back in third.

The high weight of the feature, Time Tested, at 122, finished fourth, still another length back. Time Tested, from the Ogden M. Phipps stable, is a running mate of the mighty Buckpasser, who is scheduled to make his debut at Santa Anita in the Malibu Stakes Saturday.

This was the fourth Palos Verdes victory for Shoemaker, who scored on another Llangollen Farm horse, Nashville, in 1957.

Shoemaker's other victories yesterday were on Royal Adventure for $4.80 in the third and Llangollen Farm's Ultimate for $6.60 in the fourth.

"I can't really remember the last time I got off to such a good start," said Shoemaker. "This horse ran a helluva race. He's bred to go a route and I imagine he'll get the chance at Santa Anita."

ROSIER CAGE OUTLOOK FOR MARIN CATHOLIC

(First in a series on Marin Athletic League basketball prospects.)

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Before the prep basketball season started nobody was mentioning Marin Catholic as a contender for the Marin Athletic League title.

But after the Wildcats won their first four games people started to change their minds.

Marin Catholic coach Gus Hassapakis admits things look rosier than last year at this time. "We will be dangerous and can threaten," said Hassapakis. "Without question our scoring is the difference.

Four of the five starters for Marin Catholic are in the double figures, led by guard Harry Matsinger (5-7) who has averaged 14.5 points in the first eight games, five of them won by the 'Cats.

Six-two center Ches Barnia is next at 13.8, followed by 6-1 forward Rick Garms, 10.8, and 5-11 guard Paul Vickers who has been averaging slightly more than seven points a game.

Bornia, Garms and Matsinger are juniors, and Vickers and Lngrassia are the seniors on the starting five. Eight players on the 13-man squad are juniors, two are sophomores and three seniors.

BORNIA RETURNS

Barnia was a starter last year and led the team in scoring, although he averaged less than 10 points per game. Ingrassia and Vickers were varsity reserves, while Garms and Matsinger are up from the Class B team. Matsinger was high scorer for the Wildkettens last season averaging 14 points per contest.

The sixth man on the M.C. team is junior guard Stacey Schaefer, up from last year's junior varsity.

"We're getting good scoring but lack height on the boards," Hassapakis said. He added that he was very pleased with the way Garms and Ingrassia helped Bornia in rebounding against Poly and Galileo, the last two games for the Wildcats. Poly beat Marin 73-60 but the Wildcats came back against Galileo to win 45-34. What the Wildcats lack in height, says Hassapakis they're making up with hustle.

TOP CONTENDERS

Strong contenders for the league title will be Redwood, Tamalpais, San Rafael and Drake, says Gus. "Redwood seems to have the best balance . . . good height and speed and Andre Horn," he said. If you came in late, Horn is the leading prep scorer among the Marin team, sporting a 16.8 average.

Other players on the varsity roster for Marin Catholic are junior guard Mark Carbone, sophomore guard Mike Murray, senior forward Tim Lenehan, junior forward Rick Rafael, junior center Paul McCarthy, sophomore forward Dan Fouts and junior forward Brian McLaughlin.

The Wildcats, who had a 10-15 overall won-lost record last year and finished last in the MCAL with a 3-9 mark, open the league season Jan. 6 at Novato High School.

ROSIER CAGE OUTLOOK FOR MARIN CATHOLIC

(First in a series on Marin Athletic League basketball prospects.)

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Before the prep basketball season started nobody was mentioning Marin Catholic as a contender for the Marin Athletic League title.

But after the Wildcats won their first four games people started to change their minds.

Marin Catholic coach Gus Hassapakis admits things look rosier than last year at this time. "We will be dangerous and can threaten," said Hassapakis. "Without question our scoring is the difference.

Four of the five starters for Marin Catholic are in the double figures, led by guard Harry Matsinger (5-7) who has averaged 14.5 points in the first eight games, five of them won by the 'Cats.

Six-two center Ches Barnia is next at 13.8, followed by 6-1 forward Rick Garms, 10.8, and 5-11 guard Paul Vickers who has been averaging slightly more than seven points a game.

Bornia, Garms and Matsinger are juniors, and Vickers and Lngrassia are the seniors on the starting five. Eight players on the 13-man squad are juniors, two are sophomores and three seniors.

BORNIA RETURNS

Barnia was a starter last year and led the team in scoring, although he averaged less than 10 points per game. Ingrassia and Vickers were varsity reserves, while Garms and Matsinger are up from the Class B team. Matsinger was high scorer for the Wildkettens last season averaging 14 points per contest.

The sixth man on the M.C. team is junior guard Stacey Schaefer, up from last year's junior varsity.

"We're getting good scoring but lack height on the boards," Hassapakis said. He added that he was very pleased with the way Garms and Ingrassia helped Bornia in rebounding against Poly and Galileo, the last two games for the Wildcats. Poly beat Marin 73-60 but the Wildcats came back against Galileo to win 45-34. What the Wildcats lack in height, says Hassapakis they're making up with hustle.

TOP CONTENDERS

Strong contenders for the league title will be Redwood, Tamalpais, San Rafael and Drake, says Gus. "Redwood seems to have the best balance . . . good height and speed and Andre Horn," he said. If you came in late, Horn is the leading prep scorer among the Marin team, sporting a 16.8 average.

Other players on the varsity roster for Marin Catholic are junior guard Mark Carbone, sophomore guard Mike Murray, senior forward Tim Lenehan, junior forward Rick Rafael, junior center Paul McCarthy, sophomore forward Dan Fouts and junior forward Brian McLaughlin.

The Wildcats, who had a 10-15 overall won-lost record last year and finished last in the MCAL with a 3-9 mark, open the league season Jan. 6 at Novato High School.

Today is Tuesday, Dec. 27, the 361st day of 1966 with four to follow.

The moon is in its full phase. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening star is Saturn.

French biological chemist and bacteriologist Louis Pasteur was born on this day in 1822.

On this day in history:

In 1932, the largest indoor theater at the time was opened in New York City, Radio City Music Hall.

In 1941, the Japanese bombed the neutral city of Manila.

In 1945, the United States, Britain, and Russia announced they would govern Korea as joint trustees for five years, then grant independence.

In 1963, the Commerce Department authorized the sale of surplus wheat to Russia.

A Thought for the Day — French novelist Stendahl said: "One can acquire everything, in solitude, except character."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Examine All Clues Before You Guess The Right Play

Continuing our celebration of Bonehead Bridge Week we pause to look at a hand that my friend, Mike Lawrence, will not forget in a hurry.

Experts sometimes spend years getting a hand like this decently buried.

KING LEAD

West led the king of diamonds, and dummy's low trump won. Lawrence cashed the jack of trumps, got to his hand with the queen of clubs and led out three top trumps, discarding low spades from dummy. On the last trump both opponents discarded diamonds, telling Lawrence nothing.

Lawrence led a club to dummy's king, discovering the bad news, discarded a spade on the ace of clubs and ruffed a club.

A GUESS

Then he led a spade and had to guess whether to play the king or jack from dummy.

Lawrence thought he knew where the ace of spades was. On the previous trick, after Lawrence ruffed a club to get to his hand, West had thought for several moments before discarding a diamond. West was obviously counting to see how many cards in each suit South had originally held.

WHY HE COUNTED

Lawrence reasoned that West would bother to count out the South hand only if he had the ace of spades. So declarer played the king of spades from dummy and went down.

Actually, West was a very studious type and counted South's hand just to keep in practice. It was not his fault, he pointed out, if South didn't understand students.

CLUE MISSSED

Lawrence missed a clue that might have steered him in the right direction. West obviously held a long diamond suit headed by ace-king or king-queen. If West had held the ace of spades also, he would have bid at his first turn instead of passing throughout.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 notrump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ A 5
♥ 9 7
♦ A J 6 5 2
♣ J 10 3 2

What do you say?

Answer: Bid 3 notrump.

Your own 10 points make the combined count 26 to 28 points, which should be enough for game. Since game in notrump should be much easier than winning 11 tricks at a minor suit, there is no particular advantage in bidding your diamonds.

Yanks Rip Rebels Again; Big Bowl Battles On TV

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A team of Yankee stars, eager to impress a flock of pro scouts in the stands, rolled to a 27-14 victory over the Rebels last night in the North-South colloge football game.

Eugene Trosch, 6-foot-6, 247-pound defensive tackle from the University of Miami, was voted the most valuable player for the South, and another defensive tackle, Pete Duranko, 6-2, 235-pounder from Notre Dame, was picked for the North.

The North team, winning only for the seventh time in the 18-year series, powered to a 20-0 halftime lead, then coasted home behind a rugged defense.

Donald Cockroft, the nation's leading punter from Adams State College in Colorado, boosted the Yanks into a 6-0 first quarter lead with field goals of 31 and 38 yards.

Then, in one minute, 12 seconds of the second period, the Yanks scored twice on a nine-yard pass from Colorado's Bernie McCall to Tulsa's Neal Sweeney and a 20-yard dash with an intercepted pass by Duranko.

Houston's Bo Burris finally found the range for the South in the last quarter with scoring shots of 15 and 11 yards to Gary Rowe of North Carolina State.

But the South never got in close shooting distance as the North also scored in the fourth on a nine-yard run by Bo Rein of Ohio State

The post-season bowl activity hits its peak this weekend with the Rose, Sugar, Orange, Cotton and Gator Bowls, the East-West Shrine Game and the NFL and AFL championship games.

The Cotton and Gator Bowls and the Shrine Game open the heavy slate Saturday, New Year's Eve. The two pro championships will be played Sunday and the Rose, Sugar and Orange Bowls are set for Monday.

The Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., matches Tennessee, 7-3, and Syracuse, 8-2 while the Cotton Bowl at Dallas has Georgia, 9-1, vs. Southern Methodist, 8-2. The Shrine game in San Francisco matches all-star teams of seniors from the East and West.

Green Bay, 12-2, and Dallas, 10-3-1, play for the NFL championship in Dallas while Kansas City, 11-2-1, and Buffalo, 9-4-1, are matched in Buffalo for the AFL title.

The Sugar Bowl in New Orleans has Alabama, 10-0, vs. Nebraska, 9-1, the Rose Bowl in Pasadena presents Purdue, 8-2, vs. Southern California, 7-3, and the Orange Bowl in Miami pits Georgia Tech, 9-1, and Florida, 8-2.

The television line-up, all times Pacific Standard, has ABC showing the Gator Bowl at 9 a.m. Saturday, CBS on the Cotton Bowl at 11:30 a.m. and NBC with the Shrine Game at 1:30. NBC has the AF game at 10 a.m. Sunday and CBS will show the NFL game at 1 p.m. Monday, NBC has a tripleheader, with the Sugar Bowl at 11 a.m., the Rose Bowl at 2 p.m. and the Orange Bowl at 5.

Two games were played last Saturday, Wyoming beating Florida State 28-20 in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., and the Blue beating the Gray 14-9 in the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala.

Frank Stavroff of Indiana came off the bench and passed for two last quarter touchdowns in the Blue's comeback victory, while Jim Kiick and Rick Egloff were the key figures in Wyoming's victory. Kiick ran for 135 yards and two touchdowns and Egloff passed for one and ran for another.

Toes May Decide 'Cotton'

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — If Saturday's Cotton Bowl football game should go down to a matter of place-kicking — and with Georgia and Southern Methodist boasting defenses that could put a premium on field goals — there are a couple of guys who ought to meet the issue.

Bob Etter of Georgia has done more of it than his counterpart, Dennis Partee of Southern Methodist, but the results have not been more successful.

Partee is the fellow who won two games with a total of 33 seconds to play. He kicked a field goal to pull Southern Methodist within two points of Texas, then booted a 32-yarder with 18 seconds left to win the game 13-12.

Partee's 10-yard field goal with 15 seconds remaining knocked down Baylor 24-22.

Etter kicked three field goals against Georgia Tech. His field goal tied the score and another won the game against Mississippi State.

His point after touchdown put Georgia ahead to stay against Auburn. He kicked two field goals against Miami and might have gotten another but for a bad center snap. Miami won the only game Georgia lost, 7-6.

Partee booted 21 of 23 extra points and landed on four of nine field goal attempts. He also punted 47 times for an average of 36 yards.

Etter sent 12 of 15 field goal tries through the crossbars and kicked 21 of 22 extra point attempts.

Etter led the Southeastern Conference in scoring with 57 points. It was the first time a place-kicker overturned this trick.

Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad.

One of Dennis' most vivid—and pleasant—memories was the Davis Cup triumph over favored Australia in 1963, when he was the key Yankee performer.

One of his toughest, he said, was the loss to Fred Stolle of Australia in the challenge round at Cleveland two years ago.

Strictly as a joke, he quipped, "My only regret is that I had but one life to give to my country." It appeared from the telephone talk that Dennis' pretty young wife supplied that line.

The couple has one daughter, Angela, nine months old.

Ralston has consistently decried the description of him as temperamental, hard to handle or spoiled. "But once such a label is pinned on you, there's not much you can do about it," he said.

Alabama Preps For Sugar Bowl Battle

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Just about everybody in the sports world has heard the rumor that Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama can walk on water and control the elements.

A diligent search has failed to turn up anybody to attest to the water-walking, although Crimson Tide rooters say it's true.

However, this writer once saw the rain stop and the sun break through the clouds at a football game as the Bears walked on the field. And 'Bama's chief publicity man, Charley Thornton, says this has happened several other times.

If the legendary Bryant has such powers, they apparently don't work in New Orleans. The last time Bryant brought his Red Elephants to town — for the 1963 Sugar Bowl — it snowed. Real, honest-to-goodness snow. Six inches of it. The only deep snowfall here this century.

When Alabama held its first practice here Monday for its 1967 Sugar Bowl clash with Nebraska, it rained.

The Bear and his boys were inside the field house for a picture-taking session. Afterwards, Bryant ordered the team outside in sweat togs despite a cold drizzle. Writers covering the session began murmuring, "That rain is just about ready to stop."

But it didn't. So the Crimson Tiders, only major unbeaten and untied team in the country, worked for an hour and 45 minutes in the wet stuff.

Even if the elements don't obey Bryant in New Orleans it's a town he likes to visit. He never has lost a Sugar Bowl game.

Alabama has been to more bowls than any other college team. This marks the Tide's 20th post-season appearance. And it's Bryant's 12th bowl game. Over-all, he has a 7-4-1 record in bowls.

Next Monday's Sugar Bowl, an 82,000-sellout, will be televised by NBC. Kickoff is at 2 p.m., EST.

Nebraska Coach Pleased With Defensive Workout

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Nebraska wound up training here Monday for the Sugar Bowl game with a defensive scrimmage that pleased Coach Bob Devaney.

The squad then prepared to leave for New Orleans to fill its date with Alabama Jan. 2.

Devaney felt quite differently with the defensive scrimmage, in which the No. 1 defense worked against Alabama's offense as put on by the scout team, than with the offensive scrimmage Sunday.

"We accomplished all we came to do," said Devaney. "We are further ahead with our training than we were last year when we left Phoenix for the Orange Bowl game with Alabama."

Devaney was particularly pleased with linebackers Barry Alvarez and Ron Kirkland, the latter shifted from offensive halfback to bolster the defense.

The only player on the doubtful list was Lynn Senkbeil, senior linebacker, who has been favoring a foot injury. He didn't work Monday and Devaney said "we have practically eliminated him from our thinking."

It was mostly cold weather during the team's work here, but Devaney didn't think this was any handicap to the practice. He admitted, however, that it might have worked some against morale since the players couldn't get outside and swim and frolic on the beach as they did the last time they trained in Brownsville.

Seals Coach Threatens Big Shakeup

OAKLAND (UPI) — The new year symbolizes out with the old and in with the new and that's just what may happen to the California Seals.

Acting Coach Charlie Burns said that the Seals are in for a wholesale shakeup — especially if their lacklustre play continues.

General manager and coach Rudy Pilous is in the East hunting for fresh talent and Burns said in the wake of a 6-1 loss to Seattle last Friday that "they think they've got it made because Rudy is away. But they had better wake up because when some new players come in it may be too late."

Burns said that Los Angeles and Seattle are especially improved—and these are the two teams battling California (11-12-6 for fourth place and a playoff berth. Both Los Angeles and Seattle won last night.

California hosts front-running Portland tomorrow and Friday and are scrimmaging hard at the Jewel Box Arena in an effort to become accustomed to their new home ice and thus cash in on the advantage of playing on it.

"The club looks flat," Burns said. "Danny Belisle has been our best player and he's taking advantage of getting the chance to play. If the rest of the club played like Danny has been going we'd be all right." Forbes (Kennedy) and Tex 2evans) have their moments too but I can't say too much about the rest of the guys."

The Strike Ends—They're Off And Running At Anita

By BOB MYERS

ARCADIA (AP)—Three years of non-labor strife was promised today to all California race tracks — unless trouble breaks out on some new front.

And Jockey Bill Shoemaker was off to a winning season at Santa Anita.

So what else is new?

Santa Anita's big racing plant, which has learned to live dangerously, escaped its latest strike threat as a post-Christmas present yesterday, home 10 hours before post time for the first race.

Management representing the nine racing associations in California and representatives of the AFL-CIO and Teamsters unions settled their long and bitter controversy.

As a result, pari-mutuel clerks and maintenance crews will receive $1 a day increases for the first two years and 75 cents for the third year, plus health and welfare benefits.

Attendance for opening day was 52,264 and the betting handle was $3,066,455.

The track had expected 70,000 and a handle of approximately $3,400,000 as it had in 1960 on a comparable day-after-Christmas holiday.

Thousands of fans obviously were not aware of the pre-dawn settlement of the dispute.

There was no racing today at Santa Anita.

Shoemaker racked up three wins, including a ride aboard the favorite, Pretense, in the $29,200 Palos Verdes Handicap at seven furlongs.

The Shoe's margin was ½ length over Hoist Bar, with an Argentine runner, Aurelius II, 1¾ back in third.

The high weight of the feature, Time Tested, at 122, finished fourth, still another length back. Time Tested, from the Ogden M. Phipps stable, is a running mate of the mighty Buckpasser, who is scheduled to make his debut at Santa Anita in the Malibu Stakes Saturday.

This was the fourth Palos Verdes victory for Shoemaker, who scored on another Llangollen Farm horse, Nashville, in 1957.

Shoemaker's other victories yesterday were on Royal Adventure for $4.80 in the third and Llangollen Farm's Ultimate for $6.60 in the fourth.

"I can't really remember the last time I got off to such a good start," said Shoemaker. "This horse ran a helluva race. He's bred to go a route and I imagine he'll get the chance at Santa Anita."

THE DEFENDING CHAMPS

Marin Tars Travel To Santa Monica Tourney

College of Marin will have the dubious role of defending champion when the Tars battle in the Santa Monica Invitational Tournament tomorrow through Friday, but the role is no plum prize.

The Tars, now 4-6, will have to get by at least two highly-ranked junior college foes in addition to their first-round hurdle, Palomar, tomorrow.

Fullerton, No. 8, and Long Beach, No. 3 are also entered in the tournament with Long Beach in the upper bracket and Fullerton in the lower bracket with Marin.

Coach Cal Riemcke's Tars will send a healthy team, for a change, to the tournament. Six-foot-nine center Brad Luz and 6-4 Kraig Kilby are both at full strength again after missing two recent games with injuries.

The Tars are not as potent on offense as last year, but their full court press has been effective and they have a balanced if unspectacular scoring attack, led by Bill Pandiani, Terry Overlid and Russ Smith.

INCOME TAX FACTS

If Married By Dec. 31, Joint Filing Is Legal

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, C.P.A.

Are you planning on being married next year?

Married people can file joint returns which is the same as splitting the income and filing two separate returns as far as the amount of taxes you pay is concerned. It doesn't matter when you got married as long as you were married on Dec. 31, 1966, you can file a joint return for 1966.

Wikel

This might be a good reason for getting married this year.

Was your son or daughter married in 1966 or are they planning on being married in 1966? If so, you may be able to claim him or her as a dependent on your 1966 income tax returns, and they may also claim their own personal exemption. Certain conditions must be met.

The newlyweds must not file a joint return for 1966. If they do, then the deduction for you is lost and there is nothing you can do about it.

You must have furnished over half the cost of your child's support for 1966, but the child does not have to have lived with you at any time during the year.

Your child's gross income must not have been more than $600 in 1966 unless he or she was a student or was under nineteen years old on December 31, 1966, in which case the income test does not apply. Remember that in California half of what your child's new spouse earns after the wedding is considered income of your child.

If your child meets all the tests for dependency, then you should claim him or her on your tax returns. Then the couple should file separate returns, each claiming his or her own exemption. In California it does not matter if one spouse had no income for under community property rules income received after marriage can be divided between the two.

This tax saving plan will save you at least $84. Remember that the first and most important thing to do is to make sure that your child does not file a joint return with the new spouse.

Are you or your wife going to be 65 in 1967?

If so, you may want to defer income until 1967, assuming that you can.

When you are 65 you will have an additional personal exemption which means that you can make an additional $600 tax free. Also, you may qualify for the retirement income credit.

Because of the additional exemptions and the retirement income credit, it is possible that you will pay a great deal less tax in 1967 by virtue of being 65 years old than you would in 1966.

Because of this, it is advisable to check your income and expense for this year and your anticipated income and expense for 1967 and see what the tax would be in each year.

Be sure to remember that in 1967 you have to overcome a one per cent limitation on drugs and three per cent limitation on medical expense before you can start deducting your medical expenses even though you are over 65 in 1967.

Stock Market Lower, Loss Said Sizable

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today in moderate trading.

Some of the worst earlier losses were cut but the market took a fairly sizabel loss.

Volume for the day was estimated at 6.2 million shares compared with 7.47 million on Friday.

Key stocks showed losses of fractions to 1 or 2 points. Airlines and other glamor stocks showed wider losses.

After a mixed start the market headed generally lower, worsening its decline slowly as the session wore on. The start of the last trading week of 1966 coincided with the first chance to sell "regular way" and have profits eligible for reporting on next year's income tax returns, thus postponing the tax bite for a full year.

Losses of around 3 points were shown by IBM, SCM and Fairchild Camera.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

All Stocks Have Risk, So Diversify

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I am a widow nearing retirement. Most of the stock I own is in Masonite Corp. What is your opinion of this company? Do you suggest any change?" W. D.

A. Masonite is a major producer of hardboard. Its plant at Laurel, Miss., is the largest facility in the world for turning out that material. I like the stock for moderate income and continued growth. No one, however—and particularly no one in your position—should disregard the principle of diversification, which is a fundamental rule of investing. There is an element of risk in all stocks and this should be spread out among sufficient individual issues so that loss in any one could not seriously impair your capital.

I would hold a moderate amount of Masonite if the present 3½ per cent yield is sufficient for retirement. I would switch the balance into income stocks, and suggest C. I. T. Financial, yielding six per cent; Southern Rwy., selling on a 6½ per cent basis; and Maytag, now offering a 6.3 per cent return.

Q "We're a couple in our early thirties and have $1,500 in U.S. Savings Bonds. We are thinking of cashing these and investing in stock. Would you advise this?" J. A.

A. Like most nice young couples, you are anxious to build for the future. You've told me so little of your circumstances that it's rather difficult to advise you. Because no mention is made of other assets, I'm going to assume that your $1,500 in savings bonds represents the bulk of your savings to date. If that is so, I strongly advise you against redeeming them and putting the money in stocks.

NEW LOOK FOR NURSERY

A receptionist's booth is one of the features to be added to Sunnyside Nursery, San Anselmo, closed this week for remodeling. In this sketch by designers Wagstaff and McDonald, the view is from the inside looking toward the garden in the rear.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

New Tiburon Art Gallery To Open Doors In January

A new art gallery — Tiburon Gallery — will open Jan. 29 at 9 Main Street, Tiburon, in the quarters formerly occupied by the Mexican Bazaar.

Owner Mrs. Anna Allsman, a Tiburon housewife and mother, has never been in business before. She will exhibit only the works of established Marin County artists, keeping open Tuesdays through Sundays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and possibly on Thursday evenings.

ACROSS THE STREET at 18 Main, Jack W. Clarke of Belvedere has opened a public relations office. His operations will be centered in the Bay Area, with assignments accepted in Seattle, Portland, Los Angeles, Honolulu and Anchorage.

A 20-year employee of Ford Motor Co., Clarke retired last March after five years as the company's western public relations manager, headquartered in San Francisco. He previously held Ford publicity positions in Michigan and Illinois. Starting at 13 as a reporter, he has spent most of his life in newspaper work and public relations.

A DISTRIBUTION DEPOT for Mother's Cake and Cookie Co., Oakland, has been opened at 169 Paul Drive, Northgate Industrial Park, in one of Ron Antonioli's new buildings. Lease was negotiated by Art McIntosh of Dohemann and Co.

The facility has 2,300 square feet of floor space and will serve three truck routes in Marin County.

IN LINE WITH San Anselmo's program to upgrade its commercial appearance, Donald Perry has closed his Sunnyside Nursery this week for a remodeling job.

Building designers Wagstaff and McDonald have laid out the plans for work to be done with glass doors, basalt brick and redwood rustic and Ross Valley Co. is the general contractor. The nursery will reopen Jan. 3.

SAN RAFAEL FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSN. will end the year with one million dollars more in assets than it had on Jan. 1. The figure now stands at about $8,500,000, according to president Harold Elberg, who with pardonable pride can't refrain from a little boasting about the company's continuing loan record: Still no delinquent loans since its opening a few years ago. No foreclosures.

PETER PIKE of Ross is one of two men on the staff of York Securities Corp. named to its board of directors. He has been with the company since 1961 and is assistant to the president and head of the life insurance department. San Francisco manager Jerrold Babbin was also made a director.

MOTORCRAFT, Don Collins of Don Collins Buick, San Rafael, picked up one of the new California GS Buicks at the General Motors assembly plant in Fremont and now has it on display. The new model is a two-door, vinyl-topped, six-passenger coupe built in California and tailored just for this state . . . Marin Motorsports of San Rafael has expanded its Triumph line and is currently showing all models of this British-built cycle. Owner Sandy Greenblat holds that interest is now switching to these heavier two-wheelers. He also handles Honda, Norton and Ducati.

ROSIER CAGE OUTLOOK FOR MARIN CATHOLIC

(First in a series on Marin Athletic League basketball prospects.)

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Before the prep basketball season started nobody was mentioning Marin Catholic as a contender for the Marin Athletic League title.

But after the Wildcats won their first four games people started to change their minds.

Marin Catholic coach Gus Hassapakis admits things look rosier than last year at this time. "We will be dangerous and can threaten," said Hassapakis. "Without question our scoring is the difference.

Four of the five starters for Marin Catholic are in the double figures, led by guard Harry Matsinger (5-7) who has averaged 14.5 points in the first eight games, five of them won by the 'Cats.

Six-two center Ches Barnia is next at 13.8, followed by 6-1 forward Rick Garms, 10.8, and 5-11 guard Paul Vickers who has been averaging slightly more than seven points a game.

Bornia, Garms and Matsinger are juniors, and Vickers and Lngrassia are the seniors on the starting five. Eight players on the 13-man squad are juniors, two are sophomores and three seniors.

BORNIA RETURNS

Barnia was a starter last year and led the team in scoring, although he averaged less than 10 points per game. Ingrassia and Vickers were varsity reserves, while Garms and Matsinger are up from the Class B team. Matsinger was high scorer for the Wildkettens last season averaging 14 points per contest.

The sixth man on the M.C. team is junior guard Stacey Schaefer, up from last year's junior varsity.

"We're getting good scoring but lack height on the boards," Hassapakis said. He added that he was very pleased with the way Garms and Ingrassia helped Bornia in rebounding against Poly and Galileo, the last two games for the Wildcats. Poly beat Marin 73-60 but the Wildcats came back against Galileo to win 45-34. What the Wildcats lack in height, says Hassapakis they're making up with hustle.

TOP CONTENDERS

Strong contenders for the league title will be Redwood, Tamalpais, San Rafael and Drake, says Gus. "Redwood seems to have the best balance . . . good height and speed and Andre Horn," he said. If you came in late, Horn is the leading prep scorer among the Marin team, sporting a 16.8 average.

Other players on the varsity roster for Marin Catholic are junior guard Mark Carbone, sophomore guard Mike Murray, senior forward Tim Lenehan, junior forward Rick Rafael, junior center Paul McCarthy, sophomore forward Dan Fouts and junior forward Brian McLaughlin.

The Wildcats, who had a 10-15 overall won-lost record last year and finished last in the MCAL with a 3-9 mark, open the league season Jan. 6 at Novato High School.

Today is Tuesday, Dec. 27, the 361st day of 1966 with four to follow.

The moon is in its full phase. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening star is Saturn.

French biological chemist and bacteriologist Louis Pasteur was born on this day in 1822.

On this day in history:

In 1932, the largest indoor theater at the time was opened in New York City, Radio City Music Hall.

In 1941, the Japanese bombed the neutral city of Manila.

In 1945, the United States, Britain, and Russia announced they would govern Korea as joint trustees for five years, then grant independence.

In 1963, the Commerce Department authorized the sale of surplus wheat to Russia.

A Thought for the Day — French novelist Stendahl said: "One can acquire everything in solitude, except character."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Examine All Clues Before You Guess The Right Play

Continuing our celebration of Bonehead Bridge Week we pause to look at a hand that my friend, Mike Lawrence, will not forget in a hurry.

Experts sometimes spend years getting a hand like this decently buried.

KING LEAD

West led the king of diamonds, and dummy's low trump won. Lawrence cashed the jack of trumps, got to his hand with the queen of clubs and led out three top trumps, discarding low spades from dummy. On the last trump both opponents discarded diamonds, telling Lawrence nothing.

Lawrence led a club to dummy's king, discovering the bad news, discarded a spade on the ace of clubs and ruffed a club.

A GUESS

Then he led a spade and had to guess whether to play the king or jack from dummy.

Lawrence thought he knew where the ace of spades was. On the previous trick, after Lawrence ruffed a club to get to his hand, West had thought for several moments before discarding a diamond. West was obviously counting to see how many cards in each suit South had originally held.

WHY HE COUNTED

Lawrence reasoned that West would bother to count out the South hand only if he had the ace of spades. So declarer played the king of spades from dummy and went down.

Actually, West was a very studious type and counted South's hand just to keep in practice. It was not his fault, he pointed out, if South didn't understand students.

CLUE MISSSED

Lawrence missed a clue that might have steered him in the right direction. West obviously held a long diamond suit headed by ace-king or king-queen. If West had held the ace of spades also, he would have bid at his first turn instead of passing throughout.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 notrump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ A 5
♥ 9 7
♦ A J 6 5 2
♣ J 10 3 2

What do you say?

Answer: Bid 3 notrump.

Your own 10 points make the combined count 26 to 28 points, which should be enough for game. Since game in notrump should be much easier than winning 11 tricks at a minor suit, there is no particular advantage in bidding your diamonds.

INCOME TAX FACTS

If Married By Dec. 31, Joint Filing Is Legal

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, C.P.A.

Are you planning on being married next year?

Married people can file joint returns which is the same as splitting the income and filing two separate returns as far as the amount of taxes you pay is concerned. It doesn't matter when you got married as long as you were married on Dec. 31, 1966, you can file a joint return for 1966.

Wikel

This might be a good reason for getting married this year.

Was your son or daughter married in 1966 or are they planning on being married in 1966? If so, you may be able to claim him or her as a dependent on your 1966 income tax returns, and they may also claim their own personal exemption. Certain conditions must be met.

The newlyweds must not file a joint return for 1966. If they do, then the deduction for you is lost and there is nothing you can do about it.

You must have furnished over half the cost of your child's support for 1966, but the child does not have to have lived with you at any time during the year.

Your child's gross income must not have been more than $600 in 1966 unless he or she was a student or was under nineteen years old on December 31, 1966, in which case the income test does not apply. Remember that in California half of what your child's new spouse earns after the wedding is considered income of your child.

If your child meets all the tests for dependency, then you should claim him or her on your tax returns. Then the couple should file separate returns, each claiming his or her own exemption. In California it does not matter if one spouse had no income for under community property rules income received after marriage can be divided between the two.

This tax saving plan will save you at least $84. Remember that the first and most important thing to do is to make sure that your child does not file a joint return with the new spouse.

Are you or your wife going to be 65 in 1967?

If so, you may want to defer income until 1967, assuming that you can.

When you are 65 you will have an additional personal exemption which means that you can make an additional $600 tax free. Also, you may qualify for the retirement income credit.

Because of the additional exemptions and the retirement income credit, it is possible that you will pay a great deal less tax in 1967 by virtue of being 65 years old than you would in 1966.

Because of this, it is advisable to check your income and expense for this year and your anticipated income and expense for 1967 and see what the tax would be in each year.

Be sure to remember that in 1967 you have to overcome a one per cent limitation on drugs and three per cent limitation on medical expense before you can start deducting your medical expenses even though you are over 65 in 1967.

Stock Market Lower, Loss Said Sizable

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today in moderate trading.

Some of the worst earlier losses were cut but the market took a fairly sizabel loss.

Volume for the day was estimated at 6.2 million shares compared with 7.47 million on Friday.

Key stocks showed losses of fractions to 1 or 2 points. Airlines and other glamor stocks showed wider losses.

After a mixed start the market headed generally lower, worsening its decline slowly as the session wore on. The start of the last trading week of 1966 coincided with the first chance to sell "regular way" and have profits eligible for reporting on next year's income tax returns, thus postponing the tax bite for a full year.

Losses of around 3 points were shown by IBM, SCM and Fairchild Camera.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

All Stocks Have Risk, So Diversify

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I am a widow nearing retirement. Most of the stock I own is in Masonite Corp. What is your opinion of this company? Do you suggest any change?" W. D.

A. Masonite is a major producer of hardboard. Its plant at Laurel, Miss., is the largest facility in the world for turning out that material. I like the stock for moderate income and continued growth. No one, however—and particularly no one in your position—should disregard the principle of diversification, which is a fundamental rule of investing. There is an element of risk in all stocks and this should be spread out among sufficient individual issues so that loss in any one could not seriously impair your capital.

I would hold a moderate amount of Masonite if the present 3½ per cent yield is sufficient for retirement. I would switch the balance into income stocks, and suggest C. I. T. Financial, yielding six per cent; Southern Rwy., selling on a 6½ per cent basis; and Maytag, now offering a 6.3 per cent return.

Q "We're a couple in our early thirties and have $1,500 in U.S. Savings Bonds. We are thinking of cashing these and investing in stock. Would you advise this?" J. A.

A. Like most nice young couples, you are anxious to build for the future. You've told me so little of your circumstances that it's rather difficult to advise you. Because no mention is made of other assets, I'm going to assume that your $1,500 in savings bonds represents the bulk of your savings to date. If that is so, I strongly advise you against redeeming them and putting the money in stocks.

NEW LOOK FOR NURSERY

A receptionist's booth is one of the features to be added to Sunnyside Nursery, San Anselmo, closed this week for remodeling. In this sketch by designers Wagstaff and McDonald, the view is from the inside looking toward the garden in the rear.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

New Tiburon Art Gallery To Open Doors In January

A new art gallery — Tiburon Gallery — will open Jan. 29 at 9 Main Street, Tiburon, in the quarters formerly occupied by the Mexican Bazaar.

Owner Mrs. Anna Allsman, a Tiburon housewife and mother, has never been in business before. She will exhibit only the works of established Marin County artists, keeping open Tuesdays through Sundays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and possibly on Thursday evenings.

ACROSS THE STREET at 18 Main, Jack W. Clarke of Belvedere has opened a public relations office. His operations will be centered in the Bay Area, with assignments accepted in Seattle, Portland, Los Angeles, Honolulu and Anchorage.

A 20-year employee of Ford Motor Co., Clarke retired last March after five years as the company's western public relations manager, headquartered in San Francisco. He previously held Ford publicity positions in Michigan and Illinois. Starting at 13 as a reporter, he has spent most of his life in newspaper work and public relations.

A DISTRIBUTION DEPOT for Mother's Cake and Cookie Co., Oakland, has been opened at 169 Paul Drive, Northgate Industrial Park, in one of Ron Antonioli's new buildings. Lease was negotiated by Art McIntosh of Dohemann and Co.

The facility has 2,300 square feet of floor space and will serve three truck routes in Marin County.

IN LINE WITH San Anselmo's program to upgrade its commercial appearance, Donald Perry has closed his Sunnyside Nursery this week for a remodeling job.

Building designers Wagstaff and McDonald have laid out the plans for work to be done with glass doors, basalt brick and redwood rustic and Ross Valley Co. is the general contractor. The nursery will reopen Jan. 3.

SAN RAFAEL FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSN. will end the year with one million dollars more in assets than it had on Jan. 1. The figure now stands at about $8,500,000, according to president Harold Elberg, who with pardonable pride can't refrain from a little boasting about the company's continuing loan record: Still no delinquent loans since its opening a few years ago. No foreclosures.

PETER PIKE of Ross is one of two men on the staff of York Securities Corp. named to its board of directors. He has been with the company since 1961 and is assistant to the president and head of the life insurance department. San Francisco manager Jerrold Babbin was also made a director.

MOTORCRAFT. Don Collins of Don Collins Buick, San Rafael, picked up one of the new California GS Buicks at the General Motors assembly plant in Fremont and now has it on display. The new model is a two-door, vinyl-topped, six-passenger coupe built in California and tailored just for this state . . . Marin Motorsports of San Rafael has expanded its Triumph line and is currently showing all models of this British-built cycle. Owner Sandy Greenblat holds that interest is now switching to these heavier two-wheelers. He also handles Honda, Norton and Ducati.

Merit Should Be Factor In Teachers' Pay Scale

We heartily endorse and support the current effort by trustees of Tamalpais High School District to devise a system which incorporates merit as well as seniority in setting teachers' pay scales.

At a recent meeting, acting Chairman John C. Siemens observed once again that recognition of special merit should be in pay increases rather than in fringe benefits. He noted that the outmoded system of having teachers' pay related solely to the amount of time spent in the district and the number of college credits accumulated should be superseded by one that is less mechanical.

Through the efforts of the California Teachers Assn. and its local organizations, public school teachers have been successful in getting school trustees to raise their salaries to realistic levels. Unfortunately, the system employed ignores merit considerations in establishing the pay scales. As a result, the best teachers—the most effective and most conscientious — can earn no more than the least effective ones.

For a couple of decades, we have heard a steady chant from teachers' organizations that if we are to attract the best qualified teachers, we must offer adequate pay. As the pay level increased, schools have attracted good teachers, and also the not-so-good who get just as much pay.

The time has come when teachers themselves should recognize this unreasonable state of affairs and begin to work on reforms that will take into account the merit of individual teachers along with their seniority.

We join the trustees, residents, taxpayers and parents of the Tamalpais High School District in the hope that the teachers' association, in its study of the problem, will come up with a recommendation for an improved system of pay scales.

Such a system should serve as an added incentive for dedicated and efficient teachers to continue and improve their service to the community. If it discourages less effective teachers, motivating them to leave the profession, the effect would be to raise the average proficiency of working teachers as a group. That, obviously, would be a desirable effect.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Present Peace Plea Most Significant Under Johnson

WASHINGTON—Ambassador Goldberg's request to U Thant to help bring about a cease-fire in Vietnam should not be dismissed by anybody as "just another peace gesture."

It is more than that.

It is the most significant diplomatic action the United States has taken since President Johnson in April, 1965, declared we would enter "unconditional" talks anywhere, any time.

AND, IF THERE is any wish on the other side to end the fighting, it is a most promising action.

I would not raise false hopes. No hope should be raised until there is some sign the Communists want to talk; it takes at least two to negotiate. But there are definite and solid reasons why the Johnson-to-Goldberg-to-Thant move has a greater potential for getting somewhere than all previous attempts.

These are the reasons:

For the first time the U. S. and U. N. Secretary General Thant are working together.

The United States is inviting Mr. Thant to take "any necessary step" — including direct approach to the National Liberation Front in South Vietnam —to bring about negotiations.

THANT IS NOT reiterating his previous thesis that a cease-bombing had to be a pre-condition for peace talks.

Contact with the other side is vital to any headway and Thant is in the best position to bring about such contact now that he has been uanimously re-elected by the U. N.

The publication of the Goldberg letter, far from being an act of propaganda, was valuable to Thant because it gives public assurance in every capital that the U. S. "will cooperate fully" in getting discussions started. Thant knew the letter was coming — and welcomed the initiative.

THE U. S. PROPOSAL is direct and uncomplicated: A prompt cease-fire in all of Vietnam preliminary to early negotiations or an agreement to begin peace talks and make a cease-fire the first order of business.

These circumstances clearly make the Johnson-to-Goldberg-to-Thant move meaningful.

What of the prospects? Can anything come of it? We won't know immediately because, quite rightly, Thant will be acting cautiously and privately in order to set up the needed contacts and explore the preliminaries.

There are formidable deterrents.

THE INSTANT RESPONSE of the Viet Cong, of Peking, and of Moscow was to call everything and everybody a "fraud." The Viet Cong representative in Tokyo even called Thant "the servant of fraud" if he dared to do anything to help bring about peace.

Communist China, its leaders harried by a divisive struggle for power in their own ranks, are warning Hanoi that it must not allow itself to be drawn into peace talks.

The Soviet Union spurned the Goldberg-Thant initiative and said the solution should be to let the people of North and South Vietnam fight it out so "they could decide their own future."

THERE COULD be no neater way to blur the facts. The people of South Vietnam started no fight against the people of North Vietnam. They were attacked; they want nothing more than to be let alone so they can rule themselves as the Geneva accords provide. There is no reason to have any doubts as to what Moscow means when it talks about "allowing people to have the right to decide for themselves." The laboratory examples are East Germany and Eastern Europe. Here Moscow gives the people complete freedom to choose Communist governments—and nothing else.

If the Communists really think the Goldberg-Thant peace move is a hoax, they have one easy way to prove it: Name place and date for meeting.

TEEN DRIVERS WRITE OWN OBITUARIES

Teen driving offenders write their own obituaries for one Gary, Indiana, municipal judge. He also orders those convicted of traffic violations to interview undertakers and to view bodies of accident victims in funeral homes.

The judge's dramatic approach has greatly reduced the accident rate. Before the program began, 300 teen-age offenders were brought to court each week. Later it averaged around 25.

Commented the judge about the young lawbreakers:

"When they bring in their obits and reports, they are very chastened, indeed. It is a terribly sobering experience they have been through."

Young people need and usually want a reasonable amount of discipline. Surveys show that they are somewhat "let down" when parents or teachers allow them more freedom than they are able to cope with.

They expect someone in authority to establish ground rules for good behavior and to train them in self-mastery. God will bless you if you help youth.

"Whoever loves correction loves knowledge, but he who hates reproof is stupid."
(Proverbs 12:1)

Teach us to exercise self-control under all circumstances, O Lord.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Non-Christians Contribute, Too

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As a Christian I am deeply concerned about comments made by San Rafael councilmen. (See I-J, Tues., Dec. 20, p. 9). Councilman Charles W. Aby's statements that America "was founded as a Christian country," and that "the rest of these people (ie. American non-Christians) are here by sufferance, really," are as offensive as they are inaccurate.

A brief American history lesson might inform Councilman Aby that many of our founding fathers, especially those involved in the writing of the Constitution, called themselves not Christians but Deists, though their provisions for religious tolerance indicate their love and concern for their fellow men to be greater than the Councilman's.

As for "suffering" non-Christians to live in America, just briefly consider their contributions to our country and society. Without them our national achievements and our roll of great men and women would be drastically reduced. This country, Mr. Aby, was founded on the principle that no one need live here by sufferance. Please look to your own Christian beliefs, sir, before you make such ill-advised public statements about your fellow Americans and about those whom you as a councilman are supposedly representing and serving.

Let's Share The Bridge Toll Money

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The Golden Gate Bridge directors fight for life.

By what legal right can they hire a lobbyist, paid with Bridge funds to thwart efforts to give control of said bridge to the California Toll Bridge authority?

Two public spirited state senators, J. Eugene McAteer and John F. McCarthy, think differently.

Why are the Bridge directors so interested in maintaining the status quo? Certainly not for the public's benefit.

If the directors are so efficient, why did it take them years to inaugurate the four lane alternate during rush hours?

The Golden Gate Bridge has been a profitable operation for a small minority for years. Publicity as to who holds the bridge bonds may be of help to force the holder to accept payment now. The funds are available.

Let's put an end to this luxury that the people can ill afford and place it in the hands of the California Toll Bridge authority where it belongs.

If you want to do away with an outmoded operation, write to your state senator or assemblyman.

Councilman Needs Course In History

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Councilman Aby and colleagues, please tell me where you found the information that this country was founded as a Christian country. My 18-plus years of formal education have not taught me the same facts.

Some of the original colonies were founded for religious freedom (by escape from Christian homelands); some were established for trade. Westward expansion, except for the Mormons, was economic. The Indians from whom this land was stolen probably suffer us all to live here. Are the descendants of founders of this country here on sufferance if they have left the faith of their fathers or if their ancestors were explorers, gold miners or traders? Do our immigration laws permit only Christians to enter? Do the newest immigrants belong if they are Christians while the descendants of the Jews who came to New Amsterdam in 1654 live in the U. S. on sufferance?

The words of our pledge of allegiance did not contain the phrase "Under God" when I was a girl. Nowhere does it say "through Jesus Christ." Our Constitution has emphasized separation of church and state precisely because by 1789 the founders knew that religious freedom meant just that: FREEDOM FOR ALL, the religious and the non-religious. Please, Councilman, study your history, and do so with an open mind.

Slow Down And Live Longer

Editor, Independent-Journal:

With long holiday weekends comes that King of Terrors, disastrous highway accidents. Also dire headlines, blunt editorials and somber pronouncements by officialdom everywhere. Nevertheless, all too many terribly unfortunate calamities occur.

"If the average driver would slow down even 15 minutes more a day . . . over 30,000 lives would be saved in the U. S. each year." So says a recent study made by Stanford Research Institute, and further, "All reports indicate a sharp increase in the death rate in accidents, as speed increases."

When has anybody heard a legislative proposal to REDUCE speed? On the contrary, traveling a few miles less than maximum, in some areas, is likely to result in a citation! How can anyone sensibly contend that it would not be safer to reduce speed limits, especially after dark? Preaching safety without commensurate reduction in speed limits appears to be sheer hypocrisy! A speed limit of not over 60 M.P.H. on many of even the best highways doesn't compare with "jet propulsion" but neither does it throw us back into the "horse - and - buggy" days!

Parents Must Take A Stand

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The front page article in your Dec. 16 issue concerning the caroling cancellation because of teacher resistance, if objectively reported, candidly illustrates the increasing burden upon both the parent and the family unit in the face of ever increasing pedogogical insufficiency.

Who among the half million-odd Marin County taxpayers doesn't resent the use of our children as a vehicle for the pursuit of some obscure private cause of a few mini-intellects, particularly when that cause has educational ramifications upon these children.

Paradoxically, these teachers are paid to instruct these children in the command of such disciplines which would reject as inane this sort of controversy. With such headlines, the teaching profession does itself irreparable harm and shows itself to be exactly what its detractors claim, namely a haven for the lazy and incompetent.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Financing Will Be Key Subject Before '67 Legislature

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Undoubtedly, financing will be the major subject for consideration of the 1967 Legislature, which so far has not had the suggestion of funding new programs, but will be hard put to keep the state's services, welfare programs and the normal functions of government going in the style to which they have been accustomed.

Increased taxes are almost a virtual certainty, but the questions of in what form, how much and who will be hit hardest are still to be resolved.

Size of Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan's 1967-68 fiscal year budget already is approximated at $5 billion dollars, although it could be more or less, depending on what the governor-elect presents to the Legislature and also on what the Legislature itself considers may be valid for additional state expenditures.

UNDER THE present system of financing, which includes bookkeeping on the accrual system, the state would wind up with a deficit of $227 million in June, 1968.

Two methods can be used to balance the budget. The first is to curtail expenditure, and the second is to raise taxes. The odds are that taxes will be increased, but on the other hand, the Reagan administration seriously is contemplating some reductions in expenditure, which is a new outlook for state financing.

VARIOUS ESTIMATES have been advanced as to the amount of new taxes that must be raised. According to A. Alan Post, the $227 million is a minimum. Other estimates have ranged as high as $700 million.

Sen. George Miller, D-Martinez, chairman of the Senate revenue and taxation committee, is frankly disturbed over the high estimates of the deficit. His concern lies in the fear that credit of the state will be impaired, and that it will take more of the taxpayer's money for the future bond sales interest. He points out that beginning next year, the state will be required to sell about $25 million in new water development bonds each month.

Thus, according to these factual estimates, it will be necessary to increase some tax to provide the $227 million unless the new governor can come up with that amout of curtailment and at the same time, hold the legislative line on expenditures not now contemplated. And this is at a minimum figure.

HOWEVER, SUCH action would hold the balancing problem for only one year, so the question arises as to whether the Legislature should adopt a long-range taxing program, which would avert the necessity of increases every year.

Such action undoubtedly would mean increases in many more fields and would hit the public harder. Arguments for the long-range program are to the effect that the state at least would know where it stands and be able to balance the budget for some years in advance. Against such a program, the arguments are that it is unwise to commit the taxpayers' money and collect it when the need does not exist immediately.

There are two bright outlooks in the somewhat dismal state financial picture. First, the new administration is taking steps to put operation on a business basis, and second, no one has come up with ideas for vast, new expenditure programs.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Kennedy Seeking Big Demo Plum

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Stepping in where first-termers usually fear to tread is becoming a habit with Sen. Robert Kennedy.

The junior senator from New York has decided to try for the chairmanship of the influential Senate Democratic Campaign Committee — a major agency for raising electioneering funds.

In phone calls and backstage meetings, Kennedy is busily soliciting support of Democratic colleagues to succeed Warren Magnuson, D-Wash.

A CLOSE PERSONAL friend of President Johnson, Magnuson is relinquishing chairmanship preparatory to seeking a fifth term in 1968. Under long-standing custom, this politically important party office is not held by a member facing a re-election contest.

Backstage word that Kennedy is after the job has led several strong Senate supporters of the President to try to persuade Magnuson to take the unprecedented step of holding on to the chairmanship. But Magnuson has shown no inclination.

For one thing, it's very questionable whether he could get away with it. An attempt by him to retain the chairmanship would unquestionably precipitate a bitter factional clash among Senate Democrats as Kennedy's ardent supporters would be sure to oppose it.

THERE ALSO has been some covert talk about asking the President to personally intercede with Magnuson. But that is deemed very unlikely, as such meddling in purely Senate affairs would be hotly resented.

As a one-time member of the Senate, Johnson presumably is acutely aware of the chamber's traditional vehement hostility toward any outside interference in its internal activities. So it's highly improbable the President will in any way attempt to intrude into this situation, or that Magnuson will try to hold on to the chairmanship.

Kennedy's latest political ambition faces vigorous challenge by two other influential senators.

Sens. Vance Hartke of Indiana, who headed the Democratic Campaign Committee from 1959 to 1963, and Randolph Jennings of West Virginia, chairman of the Public Works Committee, are sounding out colleagues for backing.

HARTKE IS SEEKING the support of Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Democratic Whip Russell Long of Louisiana, one of the newer powers. Jennings, close friend of Vice President Hubert Humphrey, is concentrating on Western and Southern senators in his electioneering.

In making his bid for the committee chairmanship, Kennedy is following in the footsteps of former Sen. Barry Goldwater.

WHETHER OR NOT Kennedy is aware of this, the fact is that Goldwater pursued exactly this course in 1958 before he made his successful race for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

Although a first - termer, Goldwater sought and won the chairmanship of the Republican Campaign Committee. In this position he was a widely sought speaker at state and local fund-raising and other events. After leaving the Senate, the Arizonan credited this chairmanship as having played a key role in winning the presidential nomination.

Apparently, Kennedy is following the same strategy in pursuing his well-known White House ambitions.

Lot Of Uncommon Things Go Unnoticed In City Of Novato

Last week I told of the refusal of a Negro in Novato to play the part of Santa Claus. Later I heard that in another instance, one did.

At one of the local schools, Santa Claus was a Negro. The children didn't even notice it or didn't pay any attention to it. So as not to disillusion any of them, I won't mention which school it was.

Novato is a place where things that are not common elsewhere are taken for granted. I remember when I first took over the Novato beat, I was startled to see someone get out of a pickup truck with a revolver strapped to his hip. This person walked into the bank, conducted his business and then back to his truck and drove away.

I think if I remember right, that I was the only one who paid any attention to him. Now, if someone comes into the city wearing his sidearm I no longer even bother to glance to see who it is. I saw a man in the barber chair the other day with his revolver on.

YOUNG HUNTERS walk all over town or ride their bicycles with their guns over their shoulders. No one even bothers to look unless it is to see where they are going and what kind of game they are after. A couple of youthful hunters who returned to the city with a big red fox which they had shot did draw a little attention.

The other day a teen-age girl led her horse up the sidewalk on Grant Avenue, waited for the light and then led it across Highway 101 and on up the sidewalk without even drawing a curious glance.

IN SPITE OF these things, three other things have occurred lately that have drawn more than passing interest.

A couple of weeks ago, a small car went up the street with the trunk lid open. It was going slowly, so that the cars had to pass it. As they did, the drivers could see a man inside the trunk of the small foreign car crouched down on his knees and peering out from under the lid.

His hands held the handles of a small rotary plow which he was towing behind the car. People wondered why he didn't put it in the trunk or tie the plow to the rear bumper rather than trying to tow it by holding onto it.

ABOUT A WEEK later, another small car, an American make, was going up the street with a power lawn mower in back of it. Sure enough it was being towed by a man crouched in the trunk of the car.

I wonder if this was some kind of a test of strength or whether the person just didn't think of the logical way to transport the two small pieces of machinery.

Then just a few days ago, a car went up the street that did draw some strange looks from the people as it went.

SITTING IN THE front seat of the car beside the driver was a deer. People could see that the animal wasn't frightened, so it could not have been a captive wild animal. In fact it sat there looking around and seemed to be enjoying the ride.

Some people were surprised when the deer looked at the driver, and like an affectionate puppy, leaned over and licked him on the cheek.

Then they could see that it had a rhinestone collar on.

Yes, it was Bob Nave with his pet deer.

So strange things do happen on the streets of Novato.

Jabbing Remarks That Lead Only To Additional Trouble

NEW YORK—Remarks that lead only to trouble:

"Well, after all, why not?"

"I don't know why junior behaves that way. He certainly didn't get it from my side of the family."

"As a respected leader of your community, you are one of a select few to whom this pioneering offer is being extended."

"WHICH DO YOU want me to do — drive the car or listen to you?"

"Gee, boss, is that as far as you can hit the ball? I can do better than that with a pool cue."

"I guess another little one won't do us any harm."

"I was cleaning out the attic, and I ran across this old bundle of your love letters."

"IF YOU'RE that tired of washing dishes, why don't you just throw them out the window?"

"Remember, if you ever need help, don't forget to call on me."

"Is there anything else I can do for you now?"

"Do you do anything during the day except look at soap operas on television?"

"It is a pretty long story, but I do think it is worth the telling."

"I KNOW IT IS none of my business, but if I were you, I'd—"

"I understand you are taking karate lessons. What have you learned so far?"

"Don't worry. I'll fix it myself later when there's more time."

"I'm sure there's enough gas in the tank to get us there. I filled it only yesterday—or was it the day before?"

"Oh, hand me the knife. It certainly doesn't take much brains to carve a turkey."

"WHY DON'T we just appoint a committee?"

"Don't just stand there. Do something."

"If you don't mind me offering a suggestion—"

"They'll never find a way to automate my job. I'm already the indispensable machine around here."

"Why not park right here? The odds are a hundred to one that we won't get a ticket."

"Now, hold on there just a second, Buster."

"Why can't you be like other wives?"

"WHY CAN'T you be like other husbands?"

"Frankly, I've never tackled anything quite like this before, but—"

"Let's settle this outside — right now."

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Robert Pendergrass, an attorney, was elected president of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, succeeding Wishard Brown.

Henry H. Miller was installed as the first president of the newly formed Kentfield Lions Club.

The California Taxpayers Assn. estimated that Marin's population had reached 119,500, an increase of 5,100 during the year.

Corte Madera Town Council approved plans for a 25-year civic center development program.

20 YEARS AGO

Marin County ranked second most generous to the March of Dimes with a contribution rate of $.3995 per capita, while Solano County, with a rate of $.4662, led the list.

Superior Court Judge Edward I. Butler ruled that Marin Municipal Water District could lease its property to the Meadow Club, but could not charge the club a reduced rate.

A drive to transfer Angel Island from the War Assets Administration to the state for use as a marine park was supported by the Bay Area Maritime Commission.

No Damage From Quake

LOS ANGELES (AP) — No damage was reported by police following an earthquake which rocked the Los Angeles County coastal area yesterday. But some residents said the tremor knocked ornaments from their Christmas trees.

Dr. Charles Richter, seismologist at Cal Tech, said the tremor was "minor and not sufficient to cause damage."

He said it registered 3.5 on the Richter scale and apparently centered in the Santa Monica and south bay areas, where most of the shock was felt.

The 2:59 p.m. jolt was also felt along the coast in Orange County.

House Fire Sifted For More Bodies

WILLIAMS (UPI) Coroner's deputies today investigated the possibility of an eighth victim in the Christmas Eve fire which destroyed a 20-room ranch house.

Sheriff's deputies continued to sift through the smoldering ruins in search of more skelital remains. The ashes were too hot yesterday to complete the search after five bodies were recovered.

The charred skeletons of Municipal Court Judge Seymour Vann and four other members of his family were found in the rubble Sunday. Colusa County Sheriff Max J. Mayfield said he was certain at least two other persons died in the blaze.

Coroner Henry Moore said he was investigating reports a teenage girl may have been visiting when flames roared through the house. He said relatives told him a teen-age girl friend of one of Vann's daughters had planned to spend Christmas at the house.

School Employees Elect President

Mrs. Toni Richtman, secretary at Bel Aire School, Tiburon, is the new president of the California School Employees Assn., Reed Chapter 448.

Other officers recently elected for the 1967 term by the non-teaching employees in Reed School District include vice president Peg MacAuley, administrative assistant for the district; treasurer, Anne Robinson, library clerk at Del Mar School; secretary, Aurora Garrett, library clerk at Reed School; publicity chairman, Sue Allan, teachers' aid at Granada School.

The southernmost community on the continental United States is Flamingo, Fla., in Everglades National Park.

Tailor-Made Super Penicillin Is Forecast

By SCIENCE SERVICE

NEW YORK — The scientist who first synthesized penicillin says that the "molecular engineers" are becoming so good at tinkering with the structure of compounds they should be able to tailor-make a super penicillin to combat any disease.

Penicillins of one kind or another are already fighting their way back against the tide of other miracle drugs that make up the doctor's arsenal of broad-spectrum antibiotics.

At a New York Academy of Sciences meeting on the "comparative assessment of broad-spectrum penicillins," some of the scientists reported that the best way to handle the penicillin may be to leave them alone to do their work, instead of combining them with other drugs.

The situation is complicated, they said, "by a fixed and mystic belief that if one antimicrobial agent is good, two must be better and three even more efficacious despite evidence to the contrary."

Ampicillin, a synthetic penicillin in use in this country for about two years, was described as effective when used alone against bacterial meningitis. One group reported the mortality rate was halved when Ampicillin was used alone instead of with cloramphenical and streptomycin.

The group concluded that adding other drugs to one that is effective may actually be detrimental. It seems possible, they said, the chlormaphenical and Ampicillin may interfere with each other. They also said the toxicity of chloramphenicol may have an adverse effect upon survival of the critically ill person.

The group pointed out, however, that the severity of the illness and the progressive nature of the disease may make supportive therapy essential to keep the patient alive long enough to give the antimicrobial a chance to do its work.

As the group assessed the value of Ampicillin, now on the market, and Hetacillin, a related drug still undergoing clinical tests, the possibility of another generation of penicillins was held out to it.

John C. Sheehan, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology chemist who first synthesized penicillin, reviewed the present state of the art and looked into the future. A new generation of penicillins may come, he said, when chemists try to vary a different part of the penicillin molecule.

Although the entire molecule can be made synthetically from chemicals "off the shelf," the core or nucleus of the penicillin molecule is now manufactured by natural biological fermentation.

The thousands of synthetic penicillins formed to date have been made by varying this structure. Dr. Sheehan told the conference that chemists are now so proficient at this that they have progressed from trial and error methods to "molecular engineering."

The next step, he said, and that from which a "super penicillin" could come, is to alter the ring structure of the core itself. He does not know that this is possible, he said, but he does not know that it is not.

Idea Of Museum Saves Aging German Building

SINGEN, Germany (GF)—For a German soup manufacturer here, the question was a toughie: What to do to save the company's original, nearly 100-year-old birthplace from demolition. For years, the building had served only as a storeroom; the company itself had long since switched to more modern quarters. Now, the old offices were no longer suitable for storage space, and it looked like the only prospect was to demolish the structure.

Company officials came up with a brainstorm and saved the day: the original plant was transformed into a museum — one of the world's most unusual. Inside, the public can now study the history of — you guessed it! — soup.

Of special interest to gourmets is a mammoth collection of soup recipes collected by one of the company's secretaries for the project. There are over 2,000, including such specialties as French boullabaisse and Russian borsch. Many recipes show how cooks make real treats of such common soups as potato, tomato and onion.

From a historical standpoint, several rooms in the museum have been outfitted as period kitchens. They are filled with kitchen gear used for several centuries.

Merit Should Be Factor In Teachers' Pay Scale

We heartily endorse and support the current effort by trustees of Tamalpais High School District to devise a system which incorporates merit as well as seniority in setting teachers' pay scales.

At a recent meeting, acting Chairman John C. Siemens observed once again that recognition of special merit should be in pay increases rather than in fringe benefits. He noted that the outmoded system of having teachers' pay related solely to the amount of time spent in the district and the number of college credits accumulated should be superseded by one that is less mechanical.

Through the efforts of the California Teachers Assn. and its local organizations, public school teachers have been successful in getting school trustees to raise their salaries to realistic levels. Unfortunately, the system employed ignores merit considerations in establishing the pay scales. As a result, the best teachers—the most effective and most conscientious — can earn no more than the least effective ones.

For a couple of decades, we have heard a steady chant from teachers' organizations that if we are to attract the best qualified teachers, we must offer adequate pay. As the pay level increased, schools have attracted good teachers, and also the not-so-good who get just as much pay.

The time has come when teachers themselves should recognize this unreasonable state of affairs and begin to work on reforms that will take into account the merit of individual teachers along with their seniority.

We join the trustees, residents, taxpayers and parents of the Tamalpais High School District in the hope that the teachers' association, in its study of the problem, will come up with a recommendation for an improved system of pay scales.

Such a system should serve as an added incentive for dedicated and efficient teachers to continue and improve their service to the community. If it discourages less effective teachers, motivating them to leave the profession, the effect would be to raise the average proficiency of working teachers as a group. That, obviously, would be a desirable effect.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

TEEN DRIVERS WRITE OWN OBITUARIES

Teen driving offenders write their own obituaries for one Gary, Indiana, municipal judge. He also orders those convicted of traffic violations to interview undertakers and to view bodies of accident victims in funeral homes.

The judge's dramatic approach has greatly reduced the accident rate. Before the program began, 300 teen-age offenders were brought to court each week. Later it averaged around 25.

Commented the judge about the young lawbreakers:

"When they bring in their obits and reports, they are very chastened, indeed. It is a terribly sobering experience they have been through."

Young people need and usually want a reasonable amount of discipline. Surveys show that they are somewhat "let down" when parents or teachers allow them more freedom than they are able to cope with.

They expect someone in authority to establish ground rules for good behavior and to train them in self-mastery. God will bless you if you help youth.

"Whoever loves correction loves knowledge, but he who hates reproof is stupid."

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Financing Will Be Key Subject Before '67 Legislature

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Undoubtedly, financing will be the major subject for consideration of the 1967 Legislature, which so far has not had the suggestion of funding new programs, but will be hard put to keep the state's services, welfare programs and the normal functions of government going in the style to which they have been accustomed.

Increased taxes are almost a virtual certainty, but the questions of in what form, how much and who will be hit hardest are still to be resolved.

Size of Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan's 1967-68 fiscal year budget already is approximated at $5 billion dollars, although it could be more or less, depending on what the governor-elect presents to the Legislature and also on what the Legislature itself considers may be valid for additional state expenditures.

UNDER THE present system of financing, which includes bookkeeping on the accrual system, the state would wind up with a deficit of $227 million in June, 1968.

Two methods can be used to balance the budget. The first is to curtail expenditure, and the second is to raise taxes. The odds are that taxes will be increased, but on the other hand, the Reagan administration seriously is contemplating some reductions in expenditure, which is a new outlook for state financing.

VARIOUS ESTIMATES have been advanced as to the amount of new taxes that must be raised. According to A. Alan Post, the $227 million is a minimum. Other estimates have ranged as high as $700 million.

Sen. George Miller, D-Martinez, chairman of the Senate revenue and taxation committee, is frankly disturbed over the high estimates of the deficit. His concern lies in the fear that credit of the state will be impaired, and that it will take more of the taxpayer's money for the future bond sales interest. He points out that beginning next year, the state will be required to sell about $25 million in new water development bonds each month.

Thus, according to these factual estimates, it will be necessary to increase some tax to provide the $227 million unless the new governor can come up with that amout of curtailment and at the same time, hold the legislative line on expenditures not now contemplated. And this is at a minimum figure.

HOWEVER, SUCH action would hold the balancing problem for only one year, so the question arises as to whether the Legislature should adopt a long-range taxing program, which would avert the necessity of increases every year.

Such action undoubtedly would mean increases in many more fields and would hit the public harder. Arguments for the long-range program are to the effect that the state at least would know where it stands and be able to balance the budget for some years in advance. Against such a program, the arguments are that it is unwise to commit the taxpayers' money and collect it when the need does not exist immediately.

There are two bright outlooks in the somewhat dismal state financial picture. First, the new administration is taking steps to put operation on a business basis, and second, no one has come up with ideas for vast, new expenditure programs.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Non-Christians Contribute, Too

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As a Christian I am deeply concerned about comments made by San Rafael councilmen. (See I-J, Tues., Dec. 20, p. 9). Councilman Charles W. Aby's statements that America "was founded as a Christian country," and that "the rest of these people (ie. American non-Christians) are here by sufferance, really," are as offensive as they are inaccurate.

A brief American history lesson might inform Councilman Aby that many of our founding fathers, especially those involved in the writing of the Constitution, called themselves not Christians but Deists, though their provisions for religious tolerance indicate their love and concern for their fellow men to be greater than the Councilman's.

As for "suffering" non-Christians to live in America, just briefly consider their contributions to our country and society. Without them our national achievements and our roll of great men and women would be drastically reduced. This country, Mr. Aby, was founded on the principle that no one need live here by sufferance. Please look to your own Christian beliefs, sir, before you make such ill-advised public statements about your fellow Americans and about those whom you as a councilman are supposedly representing and serving.

Let's Share The Bridge Toll Money

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The Golden Gate Bridge directors fight for life.

By what legal right can they hire a lobbyist, paid with Bridge funds to thwart efforts to give control of said bridge to the California Toll Bridge authority?

Two public spirited state senators, J. Eugene McAteer and John F. McCarthy, think differently.

Why are the Bridge directors so interested in maintaining the status quo? Certainly not for the public's benefit.

If the directors are so efficient, why did it take them years to inaugurate the four lane alternate during rush hours?

The Golden Gate Bridge has been a profitable operation for a small minority for years. Publicity as to who holds the bridge bonds may be of help to force the holder to accept payment now. The funds are available.

Let's put an end to this luxury that the people can ill afford and place it in the hands of the California Toll Bridge authority where it belongs.

If you want to do away with an outmoded operation, write to your state senator or assemblyman.

Councilman Needs Course In History

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Councilman Aby and colleagues, please tell me where you found the information that this country was founded as a Christian country. My 18-plus years of formal education have not taught me the same facts.

Some of the original colonies were founded for religious freedom (by escape from Christian homelands); some were established for trade. Westward expansion, except for the Mormons, was economic. The Indians from whom this land was stolen probably suffer us all to live here. Are the descendants of founders of this country here on sufferance if they have left the faith of their fathers or if their ancestors were explorers, gold miners or traders? Do our immigration laws permit only Christians to enter? Do the newest immigrants belong if they are Christians while the descendants of the Jews who came to New Amsterdam in 1654 live in the U. S. on sufferance?

The words of our pledge of allegiance did not contain the phrase "Under God" when I was a girl. Nowhere does it say "through Jesus Christ." Our Constitution has emphasized separation of church and state precisely because by 1789 the founders knew that religious freedom meant just that: FREEDOM FOR ALL, the religious and the non-religious. Please, Councilman, study your history, and do so with an open mind.

Slow Down And Live Longer

Editor, Independent-Journal:

With long holiday weekends comes that King of Terrors, disastrous highway accidents. Also dire headlines, blunt editorials and somber pronouncements by officialdom everywhere. Nevertheless, all too many terribly unfortunate calamities occur.

"If the average driver would slow down even 15 minutes more a day . . . over 30,000 lives would be saved in the U. S. each year." So says a recent study made by Stanford Research Institute, and further, "All reports indicate a sharp increase in the death rate in accidents, as speed increases."

When has anybody heard a legislative proposal to REDUCE speed? On the contrary, traveling a few miles less than maximum, in some areas, is likely to result in a citation! How can anyone sensibly contend that it would not be safer to reduce speed limits, especially after dark? Preaching safety without commensurate reduction in speed limits appears to be sheer hypocrisy! A speed limit of not over 60 M.P.H. on many of even the best highways doesn't compare with "jet propulsion" but neither does it throw us back into the "horse - and - buggy" days!

Parents Must Take A Stand

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The front page article in your Dec. 16 issue concerning the caroling cancellation because of teacher resistance, if objectively reported, candidly illustrates the increasing burden upon both the parent and the family unit in the face of ever increasing pedogogical insufficiency.

Who among the half million-odd Marin County taxpayers doesn't resent the use of our children as a vehicle for the pursuit of some obscure private cause of a few mini-intellects, particularly when that cause has educational ramifications upon these children.

Paradoxically, these teachers are paid to instruct these children in the command of such disciplines which would reject as inane this sort of controversy. With such headlines, the teaching profession does itself irreparable harm and shows itself to be exactly what its detractors claim, namely a haven for the lazy and incompetent.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

WHEN AN Indian reappeared in a Nevada drug store for the fourth time in one week to lay in a supply of a certain cough medicine, the druggest grew curious. "Somebody in your tribe sick?" he asked. "Nope. All feel fine," reported the Indian cheerfully. "Then what on earth are you doing with all this cough syrup?" persisted the druggist. The Indian patted his stomach lovingly and explained, "Me likeum on pancakes."

AN ENGLISH politician was emoting, "I was born an Englishman, I have lived an Englishman, and I expect to die an Englishman," when, from the rear of the hall, a voice with a distinct Scottish burr rang out, "Mon, hae ye na ambeetion?"

OVERHEARD BY Digest Scouts:

Wife to homecoming commuter husband: "In compliance with the President's plea to keep grocery bills down, we're eating out this evening."

Cherokee Chief Long Tooth, descending from a local from Westport to Grand Central: "My forefathers used to attack trains like this."

Guest minister to fashionable church congregation on a steaming summer Sunday morning: "If you think it's hot here — just you WAIT!"

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Present Peace Plea Most Significant Under Johnson

WASHINGTON—Ambassador Goldberg's request to U Thant to help bring about a cease-fire in Vietnam should not be dismissed by anybody as "just another peace gesture."

It is more than that.

It is the most significant diplomatic action the United States has taken since President Johnson in April, 1965, declared we would enter "unconditional" talks anywhere, any time.

AND, IF THERE is any wish on the other side to end the fighting, it is a most promising action.

I would not raise false hopes. No hope should be raised until there is some sign the Communists want to talk; it takes at least two to negotiate. But there are definite and solid reasons why the Johnson-to-Goldberg-to-Thant move has a greater potential for getting somewhere than all previous attempts.

These are the reasons:

For the first time the U. S. and U. N. Secretary General Thant are working together.

The United States is inviting Mr. Thant to take "any necessary step" — including direct approach to the National Liberation Front in South Vietnam —to bring about negotiations.

THANT IS NOT reiterating his previous thesis that a cease-bombing had to be a pre-condition for peace talks.

Contact with the other side is vital to any headway and Thant is in the best position to bring about such contact now that he has been uanimously re-elected by the U. N.

The publication of the Goldberg letter, far from being an act of propaganda, was valuable to Thant because it gives public assurance in every capital that the U. S. "will cooperate fully" in getting discussions started. Thant knew the letter was coming — and welcomed the initiative.

THE U. S. PROPOSAL is direct and uncomplicated: A prompt cease-fire in all of Vietnam preliminary to early negotiations or an agreement to begin peace talks and make a cease-fire the first order of business.

These circumstances clearly make the Johnson-to-Goldberg-to-Thant move meaningful.

What of the prospects? Can anything come of it? We won't know immediately because, quite rightly, Thant will be acting cautiously and privately in order to set up the needed contacts and explore the preliminaries.

There are formidable deterrents.

THE INSTANT RESPONSE of the Viet Cong, of Peking, and of Moscow was to call everything and everybody a "fraud." The Viet Cong representative in Tokyo even called Thant "the servant of fraud" if he dared to do anything to help bring about peace.

Communist China, its leaders harried by a divisive struggle for power in their own ranks, are warning Hanoi that it must not allow itself to be drawn into peace talks.

The Soviet Union spurned the Goldberg-Thant initiative and said the solution should be to let the people of North and South Vietnam fight it out so "they could decide their own future."

THERE COULD be no neater way to blur the facts. The people of South Vietnam started no fight against the people of North Vietnam. They were attacked; they want nothing more than to be let alone so they can rule themselves as the Geneva accords provide. There is no reason to have any doubts as to what Moscow means when it talks about "allowing people to have the right to decide for themselves." The laboratory examples are East Germany and Eastern Europe. Here Moscow gives the people complete freedom to choose Communist governments—and nothing else.

If the Communists really think the Goldberg-Thant peace move is a hoax, they have one easy way to prove it: Name place and date for meeting.

Kennedy Seeking Big Demo Plum

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Stepping in where first-termers usually fear to tread is becoming a habit with Sen. Robert Kennedy.

The junior senator from New York has decided to try for the chairmanship of the influential Senate Democratic Campaign Committee — a major agency for raising electioneering funds.

In phone calls and backstage meetings, Kennedy is busily soliciting support of Democratic colleagues to succeed Warren Magnuson, D-Wash.

A CLOSE PERSONAL friend of President Johnson, Magnuson is relinquishing chairmanship preparatory to seeking a fifth term in 1968. Under long-standing custom, this politically important party office is not held by a member facing a re-election contest.

Backstage word that Kennedy is after the job has led several strong Senate supporters of the President to try to persuade Magnuson to take the unprecedented step of holding on to the chairmanship. But Magnuson has shown no inclination.

For one thing, it's very questionable whether he could get away with it. An attempt by him to retain the chairmanship would unquestionably precipitate a bitter factional clash among Senate Democrats as Kennedy's ardent supporters would be sure to oppose it.

THERE ALSO has been some covert talk about asking the President to personally intercede with Magnuson. But that is deemed very unlikely, as such meddling in purely Senate affairs would be hotly resented.

As a one-time member of the Senate, Johnson presumably is acutely aware of the chamber's traditional vehement hostility toward any outside interference in its internal activities. So it's highly improbable the President will in any way attempt to intrude into this situation, or that Magnuson will try to hold on to the chairmanship.

Kennedy's latest political ambition faces vigorous challenge by two other influential senators.

Sens. Vance Hartke of Indiana, who headed the Democratic Campaign Committee from 1959 to 1963, and Randolph Jennings of West Virginia, chairman of the Public Works Committee, are sounding out colleagues for backing.

HARTKE IS SEEKING the support of Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Democratic Whip Russell Long of Louisiana, one of the newer powers. Jennings, close friend of Vice President Hubert Humphrey, is concentrating on Western and Southern senators in his electioneering.

In making his bid for the committee chairmanship, Kennedy is following in the footsteps of former Sen. Barry Goldwater.

WHETHER OR NOT Kennedy is aware of this, the fact is that Goldwater pursued exactly this course in 1958 before he made his successful race for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

Although a first-termer, Goldwater sought and won the chairmanship of the Republican Campaign Committee. In this position he was a widely sought speaker at state and local fund-raising and other events. After leaving the Senate, the Arizonan credited this chairmanship as having played a key role in winning the presidential nomination.

Apparently, Kennedy is following the same strategy in pursuing his well-known White House ambitions.

Lot Of Uncommon Things Go Unnoticed In City Of Novato

Last week I told of the refusal of a Negro in Novato to play the part of Santa Claus. Later I heard that in another instance, one did.

At one of the local schools, Santa Claus was a Negro. The children didn't even notice it or didn't pay any attention to it. So as not to disillusion any of them, I won't mention which school it was.

Novato is a place where things that are not common elsewhere are taken for granted. I remember when I first took over the Novato beat, I was startled to see someone get out of a pickup truck with a revolver strapped to his hip. This person walked into the bank, conducted his business and then back to his truck and drove away.

I think if I remember right, that I was the only one who paid any attention to him. Now, if someone comes into the city wearing his sidearm I no longer even bother to glance to see who it is. I saw a man in the barber chair the other day with his revolver on.

YOUNG HUNTERS walk all over town or ride their bicycles with their guns over their shoulders. No one even bothers to look unless it is to see where they are going and what kind of game they are after. A couple of youthful hunters who returned to the city with a big red fox which they had shot did draw a little attention.

The other day a teen-age girl led her horse up the sidewalk on Grant Avenue, waited for the light and then led it across Highway 101 and on up the sidewalk without even drawing a curious glance.

IN SPITE OF these things, three other things have occurred lately that have drawn more than passing interest.

A couple of weeks ago, a small car went up the street with the trunk lid open. It was going slowly, so that the cars had to pass it. As they did, the drivers could see a man inside the trunk of the small foreign car crouched down on his knees and peering out from under the lid.

His hands held the handles of a small rotary plow which he was towing behind the car. People wondered why he didn't put it in the trunk or tie the plow to the rear bumper rather than trying to tow it by holding onto it.

ABOUT A WEEK later, another small car, an American make, was going up the street with a power lawn mower in back of it. Sure enough it was being towed by a man crouched in the trunk of the car.

I wonder if this was some kind of a test of strength or whether the person just didn't think of the logical way to transport the two small pieces of machinery.

Then just a few days ago, a car went up the street that did draw some strange looks from the people as it went.

SITTING IN THE front seat of the car beside the driver was a deer. People could see that the animal wasn't frightened, so it could not have been a captive wild animal. In fact it sat there looking around and seemed to be enjoying the ride.

Some people were surprised when the deer looked at the driver, and like an affectionate puppy, leaned over and licked him on the cheek.

Then they could see that it had a rhinestone collar on.

Yes, it was Bob Nave with his pet deer.

So strange things do happen on the streets of Novato.

Jabbing Remarks That Lead Only To Additional Trouble

NEW YORK—Remarks that lead only to trouble:

"Well, after all, why not?"

"I don't know why junior behaves that way. He certainly didn't get it from my side of the family."

"As a respected leader of your community, you are one of a select few to whom this pioneering offer is being extended."

"WHICH DO YOU want me to do — drive the car or listen to you?"

"Gee, boss, is that as far as you can hit the ball? I can do better than that with a pool cue."

"I guess another little one won't do us any harm."

"I was cleaning out the attic, and I ran across this old bundle of your love letters."

"IF YOU'RE that tired of washing dishes, why don't you just throw them out the window?"

"Remember, if you ever need help, don't forget to call on me."

"Is there anything else I can do for you now?"

"Do you do anything during the day except look at soap operas on television?"

"It is a pretty long story, but I do think it is worth the telling."

"I KNOW IT IS none of my business, but if I were you, I'd—"

"I understand you are taking karate lessons. What have you learned so far?"

"Don't worry. I'll fix it myself later when there's more time."

"I'm sure there's enough gas in the tank to get us there. I filled it only yesterday—or was it the day before?"

"Oh, hand me the knife. It certainly doesn't take much brains to carve a turkey."

"WHY DON'T we just appoint a committee?"

"Don't just stand there. Do something."

"If you don't mind me offering a suggestion—"

"They'll never find a way to automate my job. I'm already the indispensable machine around here."

"Why not park right here? The odds are a hundred to one that we won't get a ticket."

"Now, hold on there just a second, Buster."

"Why can't you be like other wives?"

"WHY CAN'T you be like other husbands?"

"Frankly, I've never tackled anything quite like this before, but—"

"Let's settle this outside — right now."

House Fire Sifted For More Bodies

WILLIAMS (UPI) Coroner's deputies today investigated the possibility of an eighth victim in the Christmas Eve fire which destroyed a 20-room ranch house.

Sheriff's deputies continued to sift through the smoldering ruins in search of more skelital remains. The ashes were too hot yesterday to complete the search after five bodies were recovered.

The charred skeletons of Municipal Court Judge Seymour Vann and four other members of his family were found in the rubble Sunday. Colusa County Sheriff Max J. Mayfield said he was certain at least two other persons died in the blaze.

Coroner Henry Moore said he was investigating reports a teen-age girl may have been visiting when flames roared through the house. He said relatives told him a teen-age girl friend of one of Vann's daughters had planned to spend Christmas at the house.

No Damage From Quake

LOS ANGELES (AP) — No damage was reported by police following an earthquake which rocked the Los Angeles County coastal area yesterday. But some residents said the tremor knocked ornaments from their Christmas trees.

Dr. Charles Richter, seismologist at Cal Tech, said the tremor was "minor and not sufficient to cause damage."

He said it registered 3.5 on the Richter scale and apparently centered in the Santa Monica and south bay areas, where most of the shock was felt.

The 2:59 p.m. jolt was also felt along the coast in Orange County.

School Employees Elect President

Mrs. Toni Richtman, secretary at Bel Aire School, Tiburon, is the new president of the California School Employees Assn., Reed Chapter 448.

Other officers recently elected for the 1967 term by the non-teaching employees in Reed School District include vice president Peg MacAuley, administrative assistant for the district; treasurer, Anne Robinson, library clerk at Del Mar School; secretary, Aurora Garrett, library clerk at Reed School; publicity chairman, Sue Allan, teachers' aid at Granada School.

The southernmost community on the continental United States is Flamingo, Fla., in Everglades National Park.

10 YEARS AGO

Robert Pendergrass, an attorney, was elected president of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, succeeding Wishard Brown.

Henry H. Miller was installed as the first president of the newly formed Kentfield Lions Club.

The California Taxpayers Assn. estimated that Marin's population had reached 119,500, an increase of 5,100 during the year.

Corte Madera Town Council approved plans for a 25-year civic center development program.

20 YEARS AGO

Marin County ranked second most generous to the March of Dimes with a contribution rate of $.3995 per capita, while Solano County, with a rate of $.4662, led the list.

Superior Court Judge Edward I. Butler ruled that Marin Municipal Water District could lease its property to the Meadow Club, but could not charge the club a reduced rate.

A drive to transfer Angel Island from the War Assets Administration to the state for use as a marine park was supported by the Bay Area Maritime Commission.

Tailor-Made Super Penicillin Is Forecast

By SCIENCE SERVICE

NEW YORK — The scientist who first synthesized penicillin says that the "molecular engineers" are becoming so good at tinkering with the structure of compounds they should be able to tailor-make a super penicillin to combat any disease.

Penicillins of one kind or another are already fighting their way back against the tide of other miracle drugs that make up the doctor's arsenal of broad-spectrum antibiotics.

At a New York Academy of Sciences meeting on the "comparative assessment of broad-spectrum penicillins," some of the scientists reported that the best way to handle the penicillin may be to leave them alone to do their work, instead of combining them with other drugs.

The situation is complicated, they said, "by a fixed and mystic belief that if one antimicrobial agent is good, two must be better and three even more efficacious despite evidence to the contrary."

Ampicillin, a synthetic penicillin in use in this country for about two years, was described as effective when used alone against bacterial meningitis. One group reported the mortality rate was halved when Ampicillin was used alone instead of with cloramphenical and streptomycin.

The group concluded that adding other drugs to one that is effective may actually be detrimental. It seems possible, they said, the chloramphenical and Ampicillin may interfere with each other. They also said the toxicity of chloramphenicol may have an adverse effect upon survival of the critically ill person.

The group pointed out, however, that the severity of the illness and the progressive nature of the disease may make supportive therapy essential to keep the patient alive long enough to give the antimicrobial a chance to do its work.

As the group assessed the value of Ampicillin, now on the market, and Hetacillin, a related drug still undergoing clinical tests, the possibility of another generation of penicillins was held out to it.

John C. Sheehan, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology chemist who first synthesized penicillin, reviewed the present state of the art and looked into the future. A new generation of penicillins may come, he said, when chemists try to vary a different part of the penicillin molecule.

Although the entire molecule can be made synthetically from chemicals "off the shelf," the core or nucleus of the penicillin molecule is now manufactured by natural biological fermentation.

The thousands of synthetic penicillins formed to date have been made by varying this structure. Dr. Sheehan told the conference that chemists are now so proficient at this that they have progressed from trial and error methods to "molecular engineering."

The next step, he said, and that from which a "super penicillin" could come, is to alter the ring structure of the core itself. He does not know that this is possible, he said, but he does not know that it is not.

Idea Of Museum Saves Aging German Building

SINGEN, Germany (GF)—For a German soup manufacturer here, the question was a toughie: What to do to save the company's original, nearly 100-year-old birthplace from demolition. For years, the building had served only as a storeroom; the company itself had long since switched to more modern quarters. Now, the old offices were no longer suitable for storage space, and it looked like the only prospect was to demolish the structure.

Company officials came up with a brainstorm and saved the day: the original plant was transformed into a museum — one of the world's most unusual. Inside, the public can now study the history of — you guessed it! — soup.

Of special interest to gourmets is a mammoth collection of soup recipes collected by one of the company's secretaries for the project. There are over 2,000, including such specialties as French boullabaisse and Russian borsch. Many recipes show how cooks make real treats of such common soups as potato, tomato and onion.

From a historical standpoint, several rooms in the museum have been outfitted as period kitchens. They are filled with kitchen gear used for several centuries.
